

The Courier.

ROXBORO, N. C., Aug. 27, 1902

The Packard is the best Piano on earth for the money.

Miss Annie Borden, of Durham, is visiting at Mr. S. L. Croom's on Academy street.

Mr. Wm. D. Merritt, one of our leading attorneys, is spending his well earned vacation at Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va.

Mess. Clayton & Long say they will sell you a suit of clothes for your boy just a little cheaper than anybody.

Miss Pallie Yancey is spending the week in the country visiting the old home place, near Mill Creek.

Mr. Vincent L. Morton died at his home in Leasburg yesterday morning. He was one of the oldest citizens of the town, having reached the ripe old age of 79 years.

Miss Mattie Brooks entertained last night in honor of her friend Miss Lila Bleeker. Refreshments were served and a most enjoyable evening is reported by those in attendance.

Mr. Rufus Woody and Mr. G. E. Woody and family of Bethel Hill, have just returned from a visit to Stokes county where they spent a week with relatives.

See Mr. A. D. Samuel, South Boston, Va., the Southern wholesale representative for the Packard Pianos. You can't beat a Packard any more than you can beat wholesale prices.

Miss Etta Jones and Mr. J. W. Chambers were married at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. George Jones, on yesterday evening. After the ceremony the couple, and a few friends, were tendered a reception by Mr. J. W. Brooks. THE COURIER extends best wishes.

In a very short while school will open and you are now thinking about the many things it will be necessary for you to have before your children will be ready to start. Well, Mess. J. A. Long, Son & Co. have a word for you and you will be wise to read what they have to say.

The telephone line is nearing completion and when completed will be the equal of any system in use. Mr. Morris guarantees perfect satisfaction and we hope every home in town, as of course every business house will, will take a phone and lend encouragement to him in this work.

Mr. A. C. Glenn has returned and will be on our market regularly now and says he wants all the tobacco you have, and he will come as near getting it as any other man on the market, for he is a heavy buyer and does not hesitate to go to the limit in price for every pile.

When you start out to find something in the way of eatables you always think of Johnson's, and why? Because for so many years he has been supplying you and you know that if it is to be found he will have it at the right price. His flour is a household word in this section.

The money kings say that four per cent is a big investment but Mess. A. R. Foushee & Son don't think they have half way done their duty if they don't save you ten per cent or more on a great many of your purchases. Full line of furniture, shoes and staple dry goods as well as the very best and most choice line of groceries.

We have seen very little of Judge Bradsher this week. He has been giving his attention to some things out on the Kildee. To be plain he has been trying to find what became of all those peas he sowed out there, but up to the last accounts he had not satisfactorily solved the riddle.

DON'T WAIT.
If you know how SCOTT'S EMULSION would build you up, increase your weight, strengthen your weak throat and lungs and put you in condition for next winter, you would begin to take it now.
Send for free sample, and try it. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 1/2 Pearl Street, New York. Sec. and Dr. all druggists.

That amusing raconteur, Josiah Flynt, tells a tall story in Lippincott's Magazine for September called "The Won't Go Home." It is a surprising melange of Chinese curiosity, some American speculators, and a steam calliope, and if the reader is looking for good fooling, here he may have it.

We are requested to announce that Bethel Hill Institute will not open on the third as previously announced but will begin on the 17th of September, and those who are anticipating going off to school can not possibly find a more desirable place of learning than this.

Bring your tobacco to the Pioneer warehouse if you want to get the very highest market prices. On last Thursday we averaged nine and a half cents for every pound on the floor, including bag trash and all. Don't you call this pretty good, well come to see us and we will do just as well for you.
J. A. CARVER & Co.

There was an old colored woman by the name of Clay died in this County one day this week who was said to be 110 years old. Her claim was probably nearer correct than the average claim of this kind, for she has children that are close to 75 years old. She was buried by her grandchildren on the old home place of her son-in-law Lea Clay in a beautiful casket costing $40, furnished by her grandchildren.

Mrs. J. B. Barnett, who lives on North Main street, wanted a chicken a few days ago for dinner, and as she is rather delicate (?) did not feel disposed to run it down, but she wanted that chicken, and she got it. She walked into the house and got down her Smith and Wesson and at the first shot brought it down. Good.

Our friend Mr. Joe Carver was in town a few days ago exhibiting some of the finest tobacco samples that has been shown. When he first handed them to us we felt sure that he had been into our pack barn, but then he gave us his word that such was not the case. He has some fine tobacco this season and will doubtless realize some fancy prices for it.

Prof. Newbold stated to us that he wished to open the school here on Monday the 8th of Sept. but owing to the fact that we have not heard anything from the desks which have been ordered, and which are very necessary before opening, it has been decided that school will not open until the 15th. We hope that every child of school age who can do so will enter on the first day.

The first of this year the pastor, Rev. Geo T. Watkins, began the study of the life of Christ with his congregation at the prayer-meeting service every Thursday evening, but owing to some evangelistic work which he has been doing for the past few weeks this study has been interfered with. He announced last Sunday morning that beginning with next Thursday evening he would again take up this study, and invited all the people of the town to come out and join him in the study.

Mrs. W. J. Johnson, accompanied by Dr. O. P. Schaub, left last Thursday morning for Baltimore, whither Mrs. Johnson had been summoned by the physician in charge of her husband stating that there was very little hopes for him. Dr. Schaub has returned and brings the sad intelligence that all hopes of recovery for Mr. Johnson has been abandoned. This is indeed sad news for everybody here, they all loved Willis and hoped that he would yet recover and take his accustomed place among his friends.

Of course, says Col. Featherston, you must tell the people that I am at the Farmers, the old and ever reliable home of high prices, and want to see not only my friends but the friends of every other warehouse. Will treat you all just the same as if you were my own personal friends, in fact will make personal friends of you if you have tobacco and want the best prices for it. The Col. says realizing that he can be of more service to his friends on the floor and look more closely after their interests he has secured the services of Mr. Bob Johnson as auctioneer for the coming year. Prices are high and he wants you to come to see him when you get anything ready for market, guaranteeing satisfaction in all respects.

We were delighted to have a call from Miss Rosa M. O'Briant of Roseville yesterday morning. Miss O'Briant says she tried her first crop of tobacco this season, and she thinks that it will be her last. Says it has to have too much attention just at the time when she wants to be looking after her preserving and canning. In speaking about large leaves, she informed us that she had plenty of them of which two would make a good apron. Now that beats our blanket, don't it?

It seems that every one is trying to excel the Jay Bird Roost this year. All right, just watch the reports and see how the wind up is. This morning Loge Garrett—you know Loge buys tobacco himself—came in with a smile playing all over his face and requested us to tell our friends that he had laid out the Jay Bird Roost on primings, having just made an average of a little over eleven cents. But to be honest, he did not buy any of that tobacco and it was sold purely on its merits. It was pretty and was well worth all it brought.

If for no other reason, the September Woman's Companion would be notable for two features. In "The Real Stringtown on the Pike" the scene and the people of Mr. Lloyd's notable novel are described and illustrated. The other great feature tells of recent excavation in Bible lands. It throws some new and startling light on Biblical history. Miss Gould's fashion articles and the departments devoted to cooking and household matters make up a number of unusual interest. Published by the Crowell Publishing Co., Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy; sample copy free.

As announced in our last issue the South Boston team crossed bats with our Roxboro boys on last Wednesday evening. The only mistake we made was in saying the two teams would play a match game, for it was no match at all, the South Boston boys being outclassed at every point. But the Boston boys had grit for they played the game to a finish. The score stood for Roxboro 18, South Boston 0. Notwithstanding the score they say it was a pretty good game and was very much enjoyed, being free from kicking and dicking. Frank Johnson, who did the pitching for the home team, did the most effective work of his life, and showed conclusively that he has the right stuff in him for the making of a great pitcher.

Two Cows for Sale.
I have for sale two milch cows, each with calves about three months old, they being their first. These cows are fine stock and with proper attention would make most excellent cows. Will sell them for $30 and $40 each. Apply to Republican Convention.

The Republican Convention met here last Saturday for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State Convention which meets in Greensboro on next Thursday. We learn that it was a very harmonious convention, in fact it could not have been otherwise, for if our attention had not been called to it we would not have known anything out of the ordinary was being pulled off, as the delegates were few and far between.

After the delegates were selected a motion to call a County Convention was defeated. A resolution endorsing Senator Pritchard and the administration of President Roosevelt was passed without a dissenting vote.

We are informed that there were about (?) twenty five delegates present, every township save one being represented. It was a remarkable Republican convention in one respect, every delegate present was a white man. Such a Republican convention has never been held in this town since our knowledge. Is it possible they are trying to shake the black man?

Mr. H. C. Fogleman presided as president, and Mr. S. P. Satterfield acted as secretary.

"I FEEL THAT I OWE MY LIFE TO MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY."

Huntersville, N. C.,
May 15, 1902.

Two years ago I was completely rundown. I suffered from indigestion all the time, with gas on the stomach and the trouble was pronounced gastritis. I had no appetite for anything, and felt no inclination to eat. This brought on nervous prostration, and the least excitement brought on a nervous spell and I could hardly control myself. I could not get any natural sleep as a result of this nervousness I was under medical treatment for four years and was not even benefitted. I then determined to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I bought one-half dozen bottles and I commenced to improve when on the fourth bottle. I was much stronger, slept much better, did not have those nervous spells near so often, and knew that my general health was building up. My appetite was improved, and I began to enjoy eating, and what I ate agreed with me. With all my ailments I had neuralgia of the bowels, which caused me intense suffering. I found I was certainly mending and bought six more. Before I had finished the dozen bottles the neuralgia was completely cured. I took in all a dozen and a half bottles, which restored me to good health. I feel that I owe my life to Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I was not able even to keep house, but had to employ help for everything; I was run down so that I felt that life was no pleasure, in a certain sense. Now I am able to attend to all my household duties, and feel that I am some good, once more, to my family.

If any one has indigestion or nervous prostration, my advice is, to take Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and if one will only take enough to build up the system, it will surely cure
Mrs. W. S. CARDWELL.

Last week Governor Aycock offered a reward for the capture of Paul McDonald, who under promise of marriage, seduced a girl in Harnett county and fled the State. The Governor was so anxious to catch him that he published McDonald's picture in the papers. This afternoon McDonald was captured at Charleston. The Governor says he must marry the girl or go to the penitentiary.

The North Wilkesboro Hustler, in referring to the Republican Senatorial convention, says: "There was only one delegate present from Wilkes county—a son of the candidate for nomination—and the boys are telling a good joke on him. It is said, that when Wilkes was called in the convention he announced as follows: Four for paw."
