A BATTLEFIELD SCHEME.

It was a lad of low degree
Who did his comrade harm, Persuading him that it would be The thing to quit the farm.

Now Charley was a gentle boy
When he was left alone,
But Dec to worry and annoy
Was bred in blood and bone.

So they indulged a roseate dream
The day before they ran—
But oh! too flimsy was the scheme,
Too shallow was the plan.

Determined wisely to provide Provision for the fight,
To the potato bank they hied
All in the silent night.

With bulging sacks upon their backs,
They started on the road;
But soon the size of their supplies
Turned out a heavy load.

For like the man whom fortune's wing,
Close covers in her next,
They made a burden of the thing That might have made them blest.

So they decided to pour out
A portion of their store;
But soon they found it was about
As heavy as before.

And, like an army's, in dismay Pursued by grape and goad,
At dawn there wanted rations lay
In heaps along the road.

With day, a furious man gave chase,
His cholera was a sight;
Nor was it difficult to trace
The truants in their flight.

For why, the scattered roots had been An index and a guide, Imagine how he brought them in—
And other things beside.

My boys and girls can hardly fail.
The lesson here to find.
That those who take a downward trail
Must leave good things behind.

"Yes, gentlemen," said the professor in philosophy, gravely, "you should be content with what you have."

"I am," said the precious freshman. "It is what I haven't got that I'm dissatisfied about."

The Washington home of General Frederick Grant has been bought by General John A. Johnson, who paid $60,000 for it. There is much surprise at General Grant's selling the home place, as it was presented to Mrs. Grant by friends and admirers of General Grant after his death in '86.—Wilson Times.

Greensboro Nurseries.

Greensboro and Connett's Southern Early peaches are now all the talk among the fruit growers. Look out for these two peaches and remember that they were introduced by John A. Young, proprietor of Greensboro Nurseries. Fruit growers shipping by the car load, say that they are the money makers Men who have introduced other varieties and talked them until they were hoarse, are now bound to acknowledge that these two are the leaders. They are being planted by the thousand. To be sure of getting the genuine, you should order from headquarters.
