OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Special Correspondent Clyde H. Tavenner.

Washington, June 12.—That the "farmers" principally interested in killing reciprocity are Wall street "farmers," whose "crops" consist chiefly of lumber and paper trust dividends, was revealed in testimony taken by the Senate finance committee.

It was shown that Allen & Graham, alleged attorneys for the National Grange, are really professional lobbyists for the big tariff trusts. Their argument when seeking business is that they can pull the necessary wires in Washington to defeat or bring about the passage of any legislation they may be assigned upon.

Mr. Allen was made to admit under cross-examination that the anti-reciprocity literature with which the agricultural districts have recently been flooded came direct from the lobbyist headquarters within a stone's throw of Wall street. Mr. Allen also admitted that the American Lumber Manufacturers' association, the Pull and Print Paper association and the American Wool Manufacturers' association (lumber trust, paper trust and wool trust, respectively) are among those who pledged themselves to finance this holy crusade for the farmers.

Allen & Graham have among their clients some of the best "farmers" in Wall Street. The firm was shown to have represented as lobbyists the Whisky security Company, (whisky trust) and the Standard Oil company, the latter of which organizations is headed by John D. Rockefeller whose occupation as a big oil "farmer" is beyond controversy.

COMMISSION APTLY NAMED.

It is known now why Senator Aldrich calls his lame duck commission a "monetary" commission. It is because it spends so much money.

The Monetary commission, according to a treasury report, has expended $207,130.58 of the people's money on European travel, meetings at famous summer resorts, on manuscripts, book translations, monographs and members' salaries. The report also contains various insinuating entries that read "account clerical force and persons in attendance on commission."

The European trip cost $19,250.16. It was a nice summer trip and anybody who has traveled with a Cook party will tell you that a select little party of a half dozen can make mighty fine circuit of this continent for $19,250.19. The account is not itemized beyond this statement. Indeed, Senator Aldrich has fixed it so the commission may spend any amount of money it desires without consulting anyone, and without giving a detailed report to anyone. The former Senator is not hampered by any formalities whatever. He has only to reach into the treasury, get money and sign a receipt. It is appalling to contemplate what would happen to the treasury if all commissions and departments of the government were permitted to employ similarly loose business methods while spending the people's money.

However, as a fresh-air fund to promote the recuperation of lame ducks, the commission is manifestly a big success. To this end witness the meeting of the commission at Narragansett Pier in July, 1909. It takes monetary backing to go to Narragansett in July. The bill was $3,493.74.

And Senator Cummins of Iowa is sufficiently unconsiderate of the health of the lame ducks to contend that the commission is absolutely useless to the people, and that ought to be abolished.

CAT OUT OF BAG.

Soon after President Taft entered the White House a movement was started by members of Congress to bring about an investigation of the sugar trust. It was not a partisan movement. Senator Borah of Idaho, republican, introduced a sugar investigation resolution in the Senate, and Campbell of Kansas introduced a similar one in the House. The president was greatly displeased. He sent a message to Congress advising against an investigation on the ground that it might give immunity to the men higher-up and otherwise embarrass the government. The message was based on an opinion of United States Attorney General Wickersham, who was inspiring Washington dispatches at the time with the impression that he was about to prosecute the men higher up for the $2,000,000 sugar underweight frauds.

Now comes the Attorney General with the statement, made under oath before a house investigating committee, that he never believed that the heads of the sugar trust could be successfully prosecuted for the underweight frauds. He also says that they would not have secured immunity from prosecution had they testified.

In other words the reason given by both the President and the attorney general as to why the sugar trust should not be investigated under a republican house, are now admitted to have been fictitious.

The real reason as to why the republican were unwilling to permit a congressional investigation of the sugar trust now becomes debatable. Was it because the attorney general had been a former sugar trust attorney and was prejudiced in favor of the innocence of the men higher up? Was it because Henry P. Taft, the brother of the president, was a sugar trust attorney? Or was it because the sugar trust has always been a friend and ally of the Republican party, and one of its star campaign contributors?

RUNNING DOWN A CLUB.

While investigating expenditures in the state department where it cost $200 to shoe four horses for a year, the house investigating committee struck upon a clue tending to show that an artist named Rosenthal had been paid $850 for painting a portrait of Justice W. R. Day and that the government had been charged with $2450. Rosenthal testified he had signed a blank voucher for $850. It appears that subsequently someone made the voucher appear that Rosenthal had acknowledged the receipt of $2450.

As it is the duty of the committee under the law to investigate the expenditures in the state department, Chairman Hamlin of Missouri ordered the state department to produce its books. Instead of producing the books Secretary of State Knox appeared before the committee with a letter from the President ordering him not to comply with the committee's demands. For the present, matter ends here. Chairman Hamlin will probably bring the matter before the House and ask that the state department be compelled to produce its records.

FIGHTING RECIPROCITY.

The Senate is attempting to kill the reciprocity bill by so amending it that it will not be acceptable to Canada.

Senator Root of New York is preparing an amendment in the interest of the paper trust. It will be recalled that when reciprocity was before the Senate at the last session Senator Root was one of those who were boisterous in their protests that amendment was impracticable and impossible. That was less than five months ago, and now Mr. Root, reversing himself, declares the agreement must be amended so as to benefit the paper interests. His opposition is only a part of a systematic campaign being waged against reciprocity.

Death of a Little Child.

Called from earth to Heaven on the 22nd of May, 1911, child of Mr. and Mrs. Stanhope Royster, after an illness of two days.

Our Savior said "of such is the Kingdom of Heaven", and while it is heart rendering to watch the suffering of these little ones, feeling so helpless to help them and to see them yield to grim touch of death, it most comfort the deepest sorrow to know that they are our Father's special care and that our Savior carries the laps in His bosom. Thus over a happy home the shadow of a grave has fallen. This baby life was so precious that he seemed a flower to bloom for a brief season by their side.

Despite the best medical attention and all that loving parents and friends could do God transplanted him in His garden above leaving the earth road for them dark and lonely indeed. Weep not for him fond parents and devoted grand parents, for his sweet life went out like a candle and his little hand is beckoning you to follow. Many the dear little Angel he a tie to bind you closer to the Savior who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me" and may you be reunited in that home not made by hands.

His little form was laid to rest in the family lot near Meadville Tuesday afternoon in the presence of many relatives and friends, whose hearts swelled in sympathy for the bereaved family.
