We regret to learn that our friend Mr. S. M. Long had the misfortune to have a valuable horse to die last Sunday. It was Mr. Long's driving horse, and is quite a loss to him.

Dr. J. C. Kilgore will preach in the Methodist Church here on next Sunday night. This simple announcement will be sufficient to guarantee a reading room only, as few men are more popular or more eagerly listened to than Dr. Kilgore.

District Conference will convene with Concord Church on tomorrow, Thursday, and will run through until Sunday. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday there will be all day services, the public cordially invited. The Bishop will preside.

We enjoyed a pleasant call from our good friend Mr. W. E. Norton Monday. He says that it will be impossible for more than half a tobacco crop to be made in this County, even though plentiful rains should come now.

If you are looking for real bargains do not pass our bargain counter of suits, $3.50 and $4.00 suits reduced to $2.00 and $2.50. It will pay you to investigate this counter.

Person Dry Goods Co.

Our clever friend Mr. R. J. Rundle, superintendent of the Duke Mine near Roxboro, was a pleasant caller yesterday. He says the crops in his section are literally burning up and if rain should come now much of it is too far gone to make anything like a decent yield.

Your attention is called to the notice elsewhere concerning the Farmers' Institute which will be held in this County which is of more importance or benefit to the farmer than this, and we urgently insist that our farmers and their good wives attend it.

Rev. C. P. Ryland Resigns.

Last Sunday morning after the services at the Baptist Church Rev. C. P. Ryland tendered his resignation as Pastor, same to take effect on the 4th Sunday in August. The resignation was not unexpected as it had been known by his congregation for some time that he would be leaving the church for a little more than a year.

Mr. Ryland has arranged with the Board of Christian Education of the North Carolina Baptist Convention to accept of the position of pastor of the church in the town of Lenoir, Va. He will preach twice a month in the town and twice to a country church near the town.

Mr. Daniel Long, of Person, who is one of the jurors at the Federal Court in the Ware-Kramer suit against the American Tobacco Co., was painfully hurt by being struck by a street car in Raleigh last Thursday. He was taken to the hospital, but his wounds were found not to be serious, and was able to attend court in the evening.

A Delightful Evening.

Last Thursday night a crowd of Roxboro girls and boys came out to Loch Lily where they were joined by the camping crowd from Lynchburg, and boys and girls from the neighborhood. They were chaperoned by Mrs. R. G. Brooks, Mrs. Annie Winstead and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Clayton.

They spent most of the time rowing on the beautiful lake which is a picture by the moonlight. Fruits were served as refreshments, and the party broke about eleven-thirty.

As a result of the campers I think we are in danger of losing some of our N. C. girls.

Song Service.

Last Sunday morning the services at the Baptist Church were in the nature of a song service. The Church has just received a new organ and the organist Mrs. O. P. Schaub and the choir delighted the people with some sacred songs, solos, quartettes, instrumental and vocal. The service was much enjoyed by a large congregation, in fact the largest congregation was present that we have seen in some time. The Pastor gave way and in place of a sermon a short talk on music.

The services were highly enjoyed and the congregation is due Mrs. Schaub and her assistants for an hour of real enjoyment.

Mr. M. L. Carlton Died at His Home Sunday Afternoon.

Mr. M. L. Carlton, one of the oldest residents of Durham, died at his home on East Trinity avenue Sunday afternoon after an illness of several months. His death was due to a complication of diseases and was not unexpected. At his bedside at the time of his death were his three children, Luther M. Carlton, of Roxboro; N. C. Carlton and Miss Iola Carlton, of Durham, and Mrs. Carlton.

Mr. Carlton was born in Wake county 62 years ago. In 1876, while still a young man, he engaged in the furniture business in Durham, owning the first furniture store that was operated here. Later he engaged in farming in Wake county but removed to Durham again 12 years ago. He was engaged in contracting and building until his health failed some time ago. He was a member of the North Durham Baptist church was also a member of the Odd Fellows.—Durham Sun.

Mr. L. M. Carlton received a message Friday stating that his father was very ill and left on the evening train for his bedside, and was with him at the time of his death. Mr. Carlton's many friends deeply sympathize with him in this hour of his sad affliction.—Eds.

The celebration of the completion of the first mile of the Elkin and Alleghany railroad, at Elkin on the 4th of July, was very enthusiastic as it should have been. The building of this highway to and through the richest section of North Carolina means great things for the State. Ashe and Alleghany counties are as rich as cream, and but for the fact that the blue ridge locked them in, they would long ago have taken their place at the head of the procession among North Carolina counties. Now that they will be open to the markets of the world, you may look out for the most wonderful development in the history of the State.—Davidsonian.

Farmers' Institute.

Farmers' Institute will be held at Roxboro Tuesday, August 1st, 1911, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. At the same place and date will also be held an Institute for Women by Mrs. C. R. Hudson and others. The object of these Institutions are to bring together the women from the farm homes, that they may become better acquainted and talk over among themselves subjects tending to the betterment of conditions in rural homes, such as better and more economical foods and better methods of preparing them, home sanitation, home fruit and vegetable, gardening, farm dairying, poultry-raising, the beautifying of the home and surroundings, etc.

Let the wives and daughters come out to these meetings in large numbers.

A premium of $1 will be given for the best loaf bread baked and exhibited by a girl or woman living on the farm.

A premium of $1 will be given for the best five ears of pure bred corn.

A premium of $1 will be given for the best pure-bred pig between 8 and 12 weeks old exhibited by a man or boy living on the farm.

This Institute will be conducted by Mr. Franklin Sherman, with competent assistants who will discuss agricultural topics of interest to the farmers.

A question box will be opened in the afternoon, and a full discussion of the subject presented will be given.

Morning session will open at 10 o'clock and afternoon session at 1 o'clock. Bring a book and pencil to take notes.

The boys are specially invited to attend the Institute.

A Sad Death.

Home, Sweet home, is made so sad by the death of a loved one.

M. K. C.

one.

On Wednesday July 5th, 1911. God visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tate Wilson, and took from their tender embrace their first-born, Daisy Wise Wilson.

For three weeks or more she suffered with typhoid fever. All that medical skill and tender care could do was done but to no avail. She was called home in the bloom of womanhood.

Daisy lived a beautiful life and was loved by everyone that knew her, but those that knew her best loved her the most.

During her sickness I entered her room one beautiful afternoon, and as I entered I was deeply impressed with the expression that rested on her sweet face. As she took the white roses from my hand and pressed them to her bosom she looked like I imagined the Angels look. It was strange but yet true while suffering severe pain she never refused to take flowers. She was a Consistent member of the Presbyterian Church and she sleeps at Little River under the majestic oaks.

Several nights before her death she sang lovingly, "Oh! how I love Jesus". While we all miss her she is most missed at home, for to her home was a sacred place and she did what she could to make her home life sweet and beautiful.

She leaves a devoted father and mother, two sister, four brothers and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her death. But loved ones remember the separation will be for a season, joy will come in the morning of the resurrection. When all tears will be wiped away. God bless the stricken ones.

Magnus News.

We had a fine rain yesterday afternoon, every body seems to feel better today.

Mr. E. F. Foy says he feels like he is going to make some good obacco, and he is all smiles, it is a 10 lb boy.

I saw in the Rock Grove news last week that every body seemed to enjoy their dinner at Providence except some few who did not get any. The Pastor gave a cordial invitation and all those that were not in church did not hear it.

I Hope they will be in church next time.

Protracted meeting begins at Providence next Sunday we hope that every body will get dinner.
