J. M. O'Briant & Bro.

Mr. R. E. Warren, one of the most progressive young farmers of Route 1 gave us a pleasant call Saturday. He says they have had fine rains in his section and the farmers are feeling decidedly better.

Another one Mr. J. W. Brooks one of our popular rural carriers, has joined the procession and is the proud possessor of a fine new automobile. It is an Overland, and is said to be one of the best standard cars.

Rev. M. Bradsher, of Durham preached at the Methodist Church Sunday night. It had been announced that Dr. Kilgo would preach Sunday night, but he returned to Durham Saturday evening, hence the change in the program.

We are indebted to Rev. E. M. Snipes for the splendid report of the Durham District Conference and beg to return thanks for same. It was so that we could not attend these meetings, which we deeply regret, but the report will tell you about them.

Mr. Daniel Long, of Hurdle Mills, and one of The Courier's very best friends, favored us with a call Monday. Mr. Long was one of the jurors which had to pass on the famous Ware-Kramer-American-Tobacco suit. He says Raleigh is a good town but he certainly was glad to get back to the best spot on earth, notably Hurdle Mills. And Lan isn't far wrong about it, either.

No More Simmons Diet.

Senator Simmons just at this time seems to introduce some very fine bills. The people of North Carolina have been souped on Simmons beer until it has lost its taste, and knowing this to be a day of progress will certainly go to the kitchen for better things. G. E. Woody.

The managers of the "Realistic Theater" request us to announce that on account of the burning out of the electric lights, and one thing and another, they have been a little disabled in their show, but now they are in good shape with new pictures etc., and will be open three nights each week and ready to enter in the public with a good clean show. Go out and them. Will show Tuesday, Friday and Saturday night.

Mr. T. A. Noell, of Helena, says he is experimenting with cotton this year, as he has planted about an acre and a half just to see what it will do in this section. He further informed us that he was not calculating on more than two bales to the acre. He informed us that Mr. Joe H. Carver might beat him on corn but he could lay him out on watermelons, as he expects to raise four million this year, and then some.

Horse and Mule Drowned.

On last Thursday evening Mr. T. T. Harris, of Wooddale had the misfortune to lose a horse and mule by drowning. He was returning home late in the afternoon and drove into Marlow Creek, which was very much swollen from the recent rains when his team washed down stream with results above mentioned. Mr. Harris saved himself by catching to a limb.

Now, what do you know about this? Mr. Joe H. Carver, some time farmer, liveryman and druggist, called in and invited us to go out and see some of his corn but, he added, you had better not go by yourself for if you do you will never get out, for you would get lost in such a wilderness. Joe really is a good farmer when he has some one like Billy Kirby to do his farming, but we gently informed him that the Roost is in the corn business also—but you can go through it without getting lost.

We note that ample provisions are being made for a good athletic season next year at Elon College, advertisement of which occurs elsewhere in this paper. The authorities have not yet announced the name of the new athletic director. The director will not only have charge of the baseball team, but will have general oversight of tennis, basketball and track exercises. Mr. W. H. Fleming of Burlington, N. C. who is manager of the baseball team for next year, is getting together a strong aggregation of players and is arranging a very satisfactory schedule. The physical exercises of the young ladies of this institution are under the direction of the teacher of Expression. We will thank our readers in writing for catalogue or information, to mention this paper.

A Tip to Our City Dads.

Messrs. E. E. Marsh and J. E. Thomas recently contracted with a well machine man to have a well bored on the Baptist church lot at this place, from which they expect to bring water to the business section of town. The well was finished within a few days. A fountain of water such a supply that the well cannot be pumped dry was found at a depth of 55 feet. It is now the general opinion around Marshville that about a Baptist church to go to find an abundance of water. In fact it has been suggested that had these waterseekers gone to the Methodist or Presbyterian church grounds, they might have drilled 100 feet without finding more than enough water to sprinkle. —Marshville Our Home.

After the Blind Tigers.

It had been noticed that two strangers were hanging around town, but as Roxboro is a pretty lively little town nothing much was thought about the matter until last Saturday when warrants were issued for one John Hannah a brick mason who has been here for some time, and three negroes, Charlie Wilson, Ed Noell and Alvis Barrett, charging them with retailing. To the regret of the town the above named managed to elude arrest and made themselves scarce about this town. But the cat usually comes back and when it does they will be promptly attended to.

It seems that at the instance of some one two detectives, one white and one colored, were sent here, and as a result the above warrants were issued. As a result of their visit it is just a "leettle" harder to get the "ardent" than before—so we are informed.

She Walks 48 Miles a Day.

Florence Norer, a high school girl, of St. Paul, recently walked 48 miles between 4 a. m., and p. m., in the same day. She was accompanied by her uncle, and though only 19 years old she proved such a steady and tireless walker that her friends predict she will rival the veteran Weston. "We did it just for fun," she said in speaking about the walking trip. "I wanted to see if I could do it. I have not done much hiking, but that 50-mile walk did not seem so much. My parents were great walkers, and I guess I belong to walking stock. Of course I was a little tired at night, but the next day I felt fine and would have liked to try another hike, but my uncle thought it would not be advisable."—St. Paul Dispatch.
