HEAVY STORM SOUTH.

Was Severe in Georgia and South Carolina.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 28.—It is said that there has been a heavy loss of life in the low lying territory adjacent to Savannah, as a result of last night's terrible storm, although there were no deaths in Savannah. There was great damage done here, to houses, shade trees, unprotected structures, but nothing in the harbor did not suffer materially, the city being only a few miles from the ocean. A warning reached here of the storm and this accounted for the slight damage to shipping.

The storm raged all night, and at times attaining a velocity of sixty three miles an hour. Train schedules are badly disrupted and wires are down.

Couriers have been sent to villages along the coast and to the south to ascertain conditions there but as the roads are almost impassible it will be sometime before accurate information can be obtained.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 28.—It is reported that twenty lives were lost and many people injured in the great storm that swept over Charleston and vicinity last night.

CONGRESSMAN CLAUDE KITCHIN SAYS:

"I regard the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co. as perfectly safe and reliable."

Snake Sory Corrected.

Mr. J. C. Boon, of this township, informs us that we were slightly in error last week in stating that the 9-foot chicken snake which he killed in his hen' house one night recently was found, upon examination, to have shortly devoured thirteen young wild turkeys. Instead of being turkeys Mr. Boon states that they were all young chickens and that just as the snake was in act of devouring the old hen he arrived on the scene with a hoe and not only saved the life of the hen, but compelled the snake to disgorge some half a dozen of the small chicks.

And now comes the remarkable part of the story, which Mr. Boon vouches (and he is known by all his acquaintances as a most reputable man), and that is, the young chicks which the snake disgorged hopped out alive, were raised by the old hen and later were eaten by Mr. Boon and his family, who pronounced them the equal of any fried chicken of the season.—Pittsboro Record.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Greensboro News refers to the fact that the "wet" element is for Governor Kitchin in the Senatorial race. This leads the Raleigh Times to say; "This is true, but it is not the whole truth or even half of it. He should have stated that the dry sentiment also is for Governor Kitchin, which is certainly the case. From present indications, from all sections of the state, Governor Kitchin will land at least sixty per cent. on the first ballot."

WASHINGTON NEWS.

What the President's Veto of the Wool Bill Means.

Special Correspondence of The Courier.

Washington, Aug. 28.—President Taft's veto of the wool bill means there will be no reduction this winter in the price of woolen clothing of any sort for men women and children, nor in the prices of blankets nor any other forms of woolen manufactures needed for warmth by the general public.

And just so much as the public would have saved in cheaper wools, together with the amount the farmers would have saved in cheaper agricultural implements had the president signed the free list bill will be transferred unjustly to the coffers of the woolen trust and the harvest two star contributors to the Republican campaign fund.

What is the President's defense for refusing to permit a reduction in the cost of living? Let us see: First he makes the point the wool bill was unconsidered, when as a matter of fact the way and means committee put in three months of sincere investigation and study before the bill was framed which is twice the length of time given to the consideration of the woolen schedule of the Payne Aldrich bill, and which document the president readily signed.

Second, the President asks that the people continue to pay exorbitant prices for wools until he hears from his tariff which is packed with men who take the high protection viewpoint, and whose chief agents and alleged "impartial" investigators aboard are writing back articles for American newspapers ridiculing and belittling the crying demand of the consumers for tariff revision downward.

Mr. Taft message against cheaper wools will go down as a document of misrepresentation false pretent and excuses. The real reason the president veto the various tariff bills was not stated in any of his messages: It was because he was under obligations to the beneficiaries of the Payne Aldrich law to serve their interests with a campaign fund contributed by special privilege. Then having done this the great tariff trust extended further aid [and placed Taft further in their debt] by frightening their employes into voting for Taft with the threat that their factories and mills would be closed down unless he was elected. And just as he was the candidate of special privilege Mr. Taft is revealed in his veto message as also the president of special privilege.

Thus it is shown again how protection makes politics a business proposition. The trusts contribute campaign funds to the party of the high protection wall with the intention of not only recovering from the public the amount of such contributions in excessive prices but studendous dividends as profits. Mr. Taft proved an exceptionally good investment tariff trust.

Careless About Appendicitis in Roxboro

Hambrick & Austin states that much appendicitis in Roxboro is caused by constipation, gas on the stomach or sour stomach. These troubles are almost INSTANTLY relieved and appendicitis guarded against by taking a SINGLE DOSE of simple buckhorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adlerika, the new German appendicitis remedy.

World's Greatest Money-Getter

While the figures of the wealth of John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie are approximately known, little can be learned about the possessions of J. Pierpont Morgan, who is said to be in actual control of many billions of capital of his own and other people.

Mr. Morgan is a lavish spender. His purchases of art objects amount to millions and he keeps up princely establishments in New York, London and Paris. He has also been a lavish giver, as a man of colossal wealth may well be. Mr. Morgan was born with a genius and also under a lucky star. Opportunities came to him that were never vouchsafed to men before, and he has the genius to recognize them and seil them. And there are great windfalls, too. Here is one reported at Colorado in the discovery on land owned by Mr. Morgan of an immense coal vein worth millions to the landowner. But one opportunity incomparably greater than any other was that of acquiring the cream of the wealth of Alaska. If the Cunningham claims had been validated, Mr. Morgan would have come into possession of a wealth to stagger the imagination, for with that foothold and with Controller Bayl in his grasp he would have practically owned Alaska.

Woman Gets License to Paactice Law.

Mrs. A. M. Frye, of Swain county, will present herself to the Supreme Court this week for license to practice law. She will be the second woman to ever apply to the North Carolina Supreme Court for license. The first was Miss Holton, sister of Mr. A. E. Holton, United States district attorney for the western North Carolina district. This was in 1878. It was at this time that the Supreme Court of the State decided that women have as much right to the license to practice law as men in this State. Miss Holton was licensed. She died several years later. Mrs. Frye is a daughter of Rev. Dr. J. C. Rowe, of Salisbury, and a sister of Rev. Dr. G. T. Rowe, of Charlotte. Her husband is a lawyer.

Boys Find Alligator in Stream Near Asheville.

Asheville, Aug. 26.—Two sons of Mr. Hayes, a grocer of North Asheville playing in a branch, which runs through that neighborhood, found a small alligator, which is now on exhibition in a tub of water in the store of Mr. Hayes. Those who have seen the reptile say that it is a real alligator. It is about 18 inches long and thought to be about four years old.

It is not known how the alligator happened to be in the branch but it had evidently been turned loose or had escaped from some aquarium.

Boy Runs to His Death in Going to Small Fire.

Statesville, Aug. 26.—Fire which began in the boiler room of the Statesville Lumber company's plant near the depot at 11 o'clock this morning completely destroyed the plant and considerable lumber. The loss is estimated at about $8,000, with $5,000 insurance. Hyman Harrison, aged 15 of 16 years, son of N. Harrison ran to the scene of the fire from over town, became overheated and died as a result just as he reached the depot.

New Corsets.

We have sold many brands of corsets with varying success but we have never handled a line that came any where near giving the universal satisfaction that the celebrated has given. We have yet to hear the first complaint. We have been handling them almost exclusively for four years and today we are selling twice as many corsets annually as we were when we began selling Thomson's Glove Fitting. The reason for this is that they are the best corsets made, that is, they have more good points combined.

They Are Stylish, Comfortable and Serviceable.

A new shipment of the newest and most popular models has just come in. We shall be pleased to show them to you.

The prices are $1.00, $1.50, and $2.50
