Death of Buck Hayes.

A feeling of deep gloom was spread over the entire community of Bethel Hill when the sad news was circulated Sunday morning Sept. 3, that William Hayes had died the night before at eleven o'clock.

Buck Hayes as he was familiarly known had been unwell for three weeks, but he resisted his disease and kept up until seven or eight days before his death. His disease developed into a malignant attack of Typhoid Fever. His strong manly form soon gave way before the ravage of this dreaded disease. His genial, noble life was cut off in the 24th year of his life.

About seven years ago he made a public profession of faith and united with Olive Branch Baptist Church. He attended his church and helped to bear the expenses, but thought he like many other young people, and older ones too, had not developed in to a very active christian worker, yet, it is fondly hoped by those who knew him best that he was a converted man and has gone home to Heaven.

Buck was a universal favorite in the large circle of his friends both young and old. He was a big hearted, generous, genial, noble young man. His departure will leave a large, sad vacancy, not only in his happy home but in many loving hearts.

He leaves an aged Father, Brothers and Sisters to mourn his unexpected loss.

An immense concourse of his people attended his burial at the grave yard, at Mr. Gabriel Neal's. The burial services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Stradley.

As young people are busy engaged preparing to live may this early death teach them that the first duty is to prepare for death. Q. A. S.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strain on the vital organs like strains on machinery, cause break downs. You can't over tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: I did not break down while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters. Use them and enjoyed health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c. at Hambrick and Austin.

Would Kill Her.

Sympathetic Visitor—Mrs. A, what do you suppose makes you suffer so?
Mrs. A—I don't know. I'm sure, and I believe nothing but a post mortem will ever show.
S V. You poor thing! You are so weak you could never stand that.

Good Enough For the Doctor.

Mr. Ghout—All my money can not give me health, doctor?
Dr. Bolus—No, perhaps not; but it is of inestimable value, nevertheless. It gives us physicians great confidence.—Stray Stories.

While hunting squirrels Wednesday afternoon on the farm of J. L. Bergman, four miles north of Greensboro, near Pomona, Lacey Hackett, a 19 year old boy was shot and instantly killed by his boon companion, Gaff Smith. The gun, a single-barreled shotgun, was accidentally discharged not more than five feet from the face of young Hackett, and the entire load struck him in the mouth. His head was terribly mangled.

News From Route 5.

The rain that came last week will be the making of late corn tobacco, and turnips, will take a good start.

Miss Hettie Rogers will teach our school again this year at Cyclone Hill. Academy, and is up to date teacher and amiable young lady.

For the last two weeks I have heard many reports from squirrel guns, and it sounds like bushy tails are plentiful this year.

I often heard remarks made about huants and gasts being heard and seen at some old residences, and if you want to get rid of naunts forever, do as that minister who was troubled with such plagues, and one dark night something as white as snow, as tall as a man and without a head, appeared to him, and the brave old minister reached out his hand and said, "Mr. Ghost please give me $5.00 for missions", and he said his haunt banished like an electric flash never to be seen again.

I will give you readers an instance that I recently heard and it may impressed some of we slothful farmers to see ourselves in the true light. Once upon a time a young man named John called upon his sweetheart, named Mary, and they took a pleasant walk in Mary's garden and they were admiring a beautiful flower, and John said "Mary what would you prefer being to anything in existence?" Mary said, "Mr. John I had rather be that flower with its fragrance: rain bow colors: attractiveness; sunshine purity: innocence charms, exquisiteness and its exuberant formation." And she said "John what had you rather be?" "At that moment he espied a curious reptile advancing toward him, and he said, "I would prefer being that creeping animal with its thousand hands." Mary said with surprise to John, "Why would you prefer to be that black speckle thing?" And he said with his thousand arms he could embrace that flower." And she exclaimed, "John you don't use the two arms that you have." Brother farmer you see the moral in this meral parrable.

Use what opportunities you have as it was not intended by our Creator for us to use a thousand, if so he would have supplied us as he did the thousand leg worm, that John desired to be.

I will give you readers my outline drawn from a double text. "Be the husband of one wife". 1 Timothy 3:12.

"Be blameless the husband one wife". Titus 1:6, Which teaches that a man should be the husband of one wife only.

- I. Let us strive to be blameless.
 - a. As to knowledge.
 - b. As to piety.
 - c. As to good works.
 - d. As to virtue.
 - e. As to home living.
 - f. As to the community.
 - g. As to the church.
 - h. As to the Bible study.
- II. Who should be the husband of one wife?
 - a. The deacon.
 - b. The gospel minister.
 - c. The layman.
 - d. The bible teacher.
 - e. The church clerk.
 - f. The prayer meeting workers.
 - g. All classes of men.
- III. See what the two text condemn as to the marriage tie.
 - a. They condemn adultery.
 - b. Fornication. (Gal. 5:19).
 - c. The lewed house.
 - d. The prostitutes.
 - e. The whore mongers. (Rev. 21:8).
 - f. The Curse and Hell of polygamy.

In the first text we find that the deacon is forbidden to marry but one wife, and in the second text we see that the minister is not allowed but one, and what is meant in the New Testament for the deacon and minister is meant for church members and all mankind. I say fearlessly that any man will see in the end that he has played the fool.

A Great Advantage to Working Men.

J. A. Maple, 125 S. 7th St., Steubenville, says: "For years I suffered from weak kidneys and a severe bladder trouble. I learned of Foleys kidney Pills and their wonderful cures so I began taking them and sure enough I had as good results as any I heard about. My backache left me and to one of my business, expressman, that alone is a great advantage. My kidneys acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. It is now a pleasure to work where it used to be a miserv. Foley Pills have cured me and have my highest praise."

Mr. Hackett May Oppose Mr. Page.

It is said that Dick Hackett, of Wilkes county, former Congressman from the eighth district, is ambitious to succeed Mr. Page in Congress and that his name be presented to the Democratic convention next year for the nomination. We have heard the names of other gentlemen mentioned for the place, among them, Hammer of Randolph, Varner and Johnson of Davidson, Beasley of Union, Melver of Lee, Robinson and Lockhart of Anson, and Spence of Moore. It is presumed that Congressman Page desire to succeed himself and it is safe to say that he will have opposition for the nomination. At the end of the present term Mr. Page will have been in Congress twelve years, a longer period than any other member of the North Carolina delegation has served in Congress except Webb and Claude Kitchin.

Secretary of State.

Beer Bobs Up Again in Greensboro.

Greensboro, Sept. 5.—The sale of near beer in Greensboro is still going on according to the police, the ardent now being vended under such names as "No-tax" and "Noalco" (a contraction of no alcohol.) In police court yesterday two of the vendors were in court and their cases argued at some length before Judge Eure. An analysis of some of the goods they have been selling had been made by a chemist of A. & M. College for the colored race, and this showed about two per cent alcohol. The men who were in court said that they had bought the drink after having been furnished with analyses in which it was stated that there was no alcohols in the drinks and that they would not intoxicate. Users of the fluid say "It looks like beer, smells like beer, and tastes like beer." The police says that users tell them that it will intoxicate when taken in quantities. The police have determined that the soft-drink seller and the nibeer fluid must go. Truly the way of the drinker is hard.
