Business Men not Afraid of Democratic House.

By Clyde H. Taverner

Washington, Dec. 30. Business men all over the country are expressing complete confidence in the Democratic House. They are not being ruled by the old bugaboo about "Democratic Success meaning business depression. I am familiar with how the Democratic leaders feel about this, and the leaders and the majority of the party are conservatively. The tariff will be revised downward, but it will be done conservatively, and without disturbing business conditions unnecessarily. Democrats realize that business men have rights which must be protected."

This statement by Congressman John H. Rothermel, chairman of the committee on expenditures in the department of Commerce and labor, is endorsed by all the Democrats in Congress. Mr. Rothermel's home is in Reading, Pennsylvania, which is in the heart of the Pennsylvania manufacturing section.

Evidence in multiplying that business men do not fear Democratic success in 1912 and that, on the contrary, they will welcome it. This is due almost wholly, the House leaders say, to the business like way in which the Democrats have handled affairs since they were placed in control of the lower house of Congress a year ago. The steel trust, which would have more reason than any other trust to be suspicious of Democratic success, is thriving as never before at this season of the year, and the customary holiday let up of twelve days was reduced to two. Early in January it is said, the steel mills all over the country will be working up to 90 percent of capacity. Blast furnaces, long adle, having resumed operations, and the steel corporation confidently expects 1912 to be the banner years of its history.

Republican orators who expect to fool the voters with the old scare about Democratic success meaning business depression are going to have both hands full from now on.

WHAT TARIFF BOARD PROVES.

The Taft tariff board's report exonerates woolen manufacturers of anything like taking advantage of high tariff rates to advance prices. The board's report would make it appear that the woolen trust wouldn't do such a thing.

But the report isn't altogether useless, because it proved beyond successful contradiction:

First—That Schedule "K" is indefensible; it proves this conclusively and for all time.

Second—It confirms practically every charge made against the woolen schedule by Democrats and Progressive Republicans.

Third—It proves that the American people are victims of extortion from woolen manufacturers.

Fourth—And that President Taft's veto of the Underwood-LaFollette bill was against the interests of 90,000,000 consumers of woolens; that it was absolutely unjustified; unnecessary, and therefore unforgivable.

TARIFF PROTECTS TRUSTS ONLY

Louis D. Brandeis, the famous Boston lawyer, who looks, acts, walks, and talks like Abraham Lincoln, while testifying before the Senate trust investigating committee, showed how the trusts receiving the greatest protection have destroyed trades unionism, [reduced wages, increased working hours, and driven Americans out and brought foreign immigrant labor into their mills.

He exposed the injustice and futility of the Tobacco Trust settlement, effected by the United States Supreme Court, and said the rule laid down amounted to this; "What man has illegally joined together, let no court put asunder."

In contrast with the record of the tariff protected trusts, Mr. Brandeis presented instances where prices have been reduced, and wages raised, in industries operated under free competition. Yet the Standpatters would have the workingmen believe that the Payne-Aldrich high protection wall was put up exclusively for their benefit,

WILL GATHER THE COIN.

The Republicans have selected the man who is to be in charge of the filling of the Republican campaign barrel for the 1912 contest. He is Fred W. Upham, who was assistant trust contribution grabber in 1908. Between presidential elections Mr. Upham trains with the Busse machine in Chicago, runs a coal monopoly during the winter and an ice trust during the summer, and also has a lumber company, a railroad, and a few banks and trust concerns. An ideal selection!

THE LAW'S REWARDS.

United States circuit court judge Peter S. Grosscup, of Chicago, has managed to make a millionaire out of himself while sitting upon the Federal bench. Besides getting rich himself he appointed Marshal E. Sampson, his court clerk, receiver for a traction company that was in litigation in his court, at a salary of $25,000 a year.

John M. Harlan, one of the really great jurists in this nation's history, and one of the best friends the common people ever had on the Supreme bench, died a few weeks ago. His daughter recently has accepted a position as secretary to earn her living,

TO YOU

Who Owe Us.

It is high time that all accounts for 1911 were paid. If you haven't already paid us for last year or made some satisfactory arrangement with us about it, we urge you to come just as soon as possible and settle up. We need the money and want it. What you owe us is ours and not yours and you have no right to be offended when we ask you for it.

We are going to make a great effort to increase our business still more in 1912 but we want to say right here that we don't want to do business with any except those who pay cash or are reasonably prompt in settling their accounts.

If we sold you time we would expect you to take time but that we do not do. When we charge you with a bill of goods we do not charge you time prices, therefore, we expect you to pay us with some degree of promptness.

We will greatly appreciate an early settlement of your account.

Yours for more safe business,
