WASHINGTON NEWS.

Tavener Tells of the Strike in the Woolen Mills.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The woolen trust, having found that bayonets would not compel its $6, $7 and $8 a week workers to call off their strike, is now utilizing the hunger of little children as a club to force the parents to return to work at reduced wage.

Here is how the trust is working its new scheme:

Many charitable organizations in cities adjacent to Lawrence, where the strike is in progress, after reading of the desperate straits to which the strikers' children had been reduced, made arrangements to have hundreds of these children cared for in private homes outside of Lawrence until the strike ended. Under this plan, many children were sent away, some to New York and Boston, and some as far away as Philadelphia.

With the knowledge that their children were being cared for tenderly, the mothers and fathers back in Lawrence gained courage to carry on the fight. Freed from hearing their own children crying for bread, the strikers took renewed hope.

What happened? The trust magnates, realizing that if all the little children were sent away from Lawrence the strikers could no longer endure the struggle, at once issued orders to the servile police and militia commanders to put a stop to the deportation of children. They knew that where bayonets, persecution, unlawful imprisonment, and all other ordinary weapons of big corporations in fighting the unions might fail, there remained one thing which the strikers could not long resist, and that was; the cry of their own children for food. These millionaires knew that where strong men and women could suffer in silence themselves, they could not long bear to see their children suffer.

Accordingly, there was issued an edict against sending the children away where they could obtain food. Immediately a squad of state soldiers was sent to each railroad station, and when the strikers arrived with their children many of them were seized and thrown into jail.

Diabolical as this may seem it actually is being done, not in Russia, but right here in these United States.

The woolen trust is the most highly protected of all trusts. It makes millions of dollars annually in profits on stock that is watered until it is soggy, and it is the same trust which refuses steadfastly to listen to the plea of its men for a conference to talk over wage differences.

Query: Since the protectionist declared that Schedule K, which places a heavy tax on every article of woolen clothing sold in the United States, was passed "solely" to protect the workers in the woolen industry, and since these workers are receiving absolutely no protection whatever, why should the American people longer tolerate Schedule K?

EYES ALREADY ON MACON.

Veterans Are Thinking About General Reunion in May.

It's a little over two months away, but so large a place does the annual reunion occupy in the minds of the Confederate veterans, that already they are anticipating the Macon gathering early in May. The following statement from the hand of Adjutant General H. A. London is apropos of this:

Headquarters North Carolina Division.

United Confederate Veterans. Durham, N. C., March 1, 1912 General Orders No. 45.

Paragraph 1. The twenty-second annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans will be held at Macon, Ga., on the 7th, 8th, and 9th of May, 1912, and a most cordial welcome awaits all who may attend. The public-spirited citizens of that city have raised a fund of $70,000 for the reunion and they promise to make this the most pleasant and enjoyable of all our reunions. It is earnestly hoped that the "Old North State" will be largely represented and that we may have a representation worthy of the glorious war record of our State.

Par. 2. All camps in arrears for their annual dues are most earnestly urged to pay the same to Gen. W. E. Mickle, 824 Common street, New Orleans, before the first day of April. If not then paid the delinquent camp cannot have a vote or voice in the meetings at the reunion. All camps that are in arrears will please pay up without delay and thereby be enabled to be represented. This is a most important and should not be neglected.

Par. 3. The railroad companies have given the usual low rate of one cent a mile to all persons who may attend, whether they be veterans or others, and the exact rate from any station may be inquired of the local agent. The fare is 8.50 for a round-trip ticket from Raleigh. All veterans who cannot pay for their meals and lodging will be entertained free, but they must, without delay notify Col. W. A. Harris, chairman, at Macon. Veterans who wish free entertainment need not expect to get it if they do not send this notice in due time.

Par. 4. The division is fortunate in having as its sponsor for this reunion Miss Flora Bryan of Charlotte, whose appointment is hereby formally announced, and who has appointed Miss Ernestine Nuttall of Rockingham her maid of honor.

By order of Major General, J. S. CARR.

H. A. LONDON, Adjutant General and Chief of Staff.

A Modern Ananias.

Joe H. Carver says if the modern Ananias was treated as they treated him in the time of Moses that Bob Oakley would never live to even get back to his tent. However, he says the truth of the matter is that Bob expected him to tell about those two pigs which he fed for eight months and then put in a rat trap and sent out to his brother-in-laws to be fattened. Anyway, Bob had Joe on the run.

We have Cotton Seed Meal and Hulls for cow feed, If you need any let us know or come.

Cunningham and Woodburn News.

During the holidays last year there was a colored man by the name of Abram Hemphill shot to death by pistol balls by some unknown party, up to yet, in the neighborhood of Chesnut Grove Church. The last seen of him was one evening during Christmas at Isaacs Gilmore's house, just on the line between the two states. He left there about night being full of whiskey and that was the last seen of him alive.

He was found in the Dan River near Barksdale depot a few days after that. A buggy was tracked to the place on the river bank where he was thrown into the water. There were two tracks going from the buggy to the water. One a number seven shoe and the other a number ten. The occurrence is veiled in deep mystery. No clue whatever to the miscreants who perpetrated the bloody crime. It is hoped it will come to light soon and the perpetrators receive their just reward at the hands of the law.

Sheriff Newton was at Cunningham yesterday, the 9th, collecting taxes, and their was a universal complaint and kicking by all on taxes being doubled from last year. The democratic leaders will have to be careful how they go on increasing our taxes, as from, the heavy complaint yesterday. If the democratic "auto" gets in the mire we will not put our shoulder to the wheels to push it out. They had best go a little slower on this line.

I am glad to see we shall have parcels post soon as the bill has been recommended by the committee of Congress and Democrats and Republicans are in favor of its passage. This will be in a measure a great relief to persons residing on Rural Routes, and will be a great convenience to the people generally. We would have had it some time ago but for the opposition of the Express Companies.

Well Messrs. Editors, how is our friend and brother Senex, getting on? I saw some time since that he had an attack of Paralysis. I hope it will be only temporary, as his good christian communications are always read with great pleasure and satisfaction.

Rev. Mr. Putnam, the new pastor of Ephesus, I understand, is making a good impression on his people. The inclement weather has been so that I have not been able to hear him yet. Frank.

LOST—On the 8th of Feb. I lost a buggy robe in the Hyco Warehouse office. Black on the outside, a large fox in the middle and one small fox in each corner. The robe is extra heavy. If party who carried it out through mistake will return to The Courier office he will be rewarded.

A PENTECOST AT THE STATE FARM.

Rev. H. B. Cunningham, Acting Chaplain at the Farm, Tells Something of Great Religious Work Among the Convicts.

If I could speak with the eloquence of John the Baptist—and he spoke with the eloquence of heaven. I cannot but do this work, which I am so proud to present, justice. I am here as acting chaplain under the auspices of the Episcopal church, and God has blessed my every effort.

The Episcopal church should be proud, and justly proud of this mission field and as the first to introduce the gospel to these poor unfortunates who are down and out in sin and in the penitentiary. It is a great and glorious work and a cause which any Christian organization may be proud of. If the people of North Carolina could have witnessed in a body the services tonight, on the Caledonia farm, it would have been a decided victory for prison reform. I have had some great meetings here and I have witnessed some great meetings in the Galilee Mission, but never in my life has God blessed me like He has tonight. The farm is divided into two parts and a camp or stockade on each farm or part. On Sundays I conduct services at both camps. At camp No. 1 in the morning at 9:30 and at camp No. 2 at 2 p. m. and then alternate.

I wish all of the ministers in the State could have been present. I got so happy that everybody I came in contact with got happy. It was certainly a Pentecost for me and a Pentecost to 30 of the prisoners. How my heart did go out and how my soul did yearn for the dear mothers of these men, the dear wives and children of these men, how I did wish that they could be here. O how I do rejoice and thank God for this blessing and what a glorious privilege it is to win souls to Christ and to make glad mothers' hearts.

I feel that God is blessing my work, so it can no longer be hid under a peck measure—it must shine forth and give light that others may know what a great work is going on here. I ask the co-operation of all Christians to help me in this great cause. There are six hundred hungry souls here which need to be brought to Christ for cleansing and each one is a mother's son and represents a broken heart at home. Tonight was certainly a Waterloo for the devil at Camp No. 2, on Caledonia farm and I earnestly and sincerely request the aid and the prayers of all Christians that God may continue to bless me in this work.

I am praying to God and believing that the day is not far off when a church will go up here on Caledonia and I can invite all true Christians to come and join me in the services and in the great and glorious work of winning souls to Christ. This work is hard to the extent that it consists of so much personal work.

I have a Sunday school at camp No. 2 for white and colored. White under the superintendency of Mr. Faison, a guard, and at camp No. 1, I have a brotherhood, composed of thirty odd members which would reflect credit on any church. To sum up everything in a nut shell, if you will excuse the expression, I have the greatest and the most glorious work in the State.

H. B. CUNNINGHAM, Acting Chaplain State Farm, Halifax, N. C., February 24.

Hunter-Long.

Out of town friends have received the following invitation:

Mr. and Mrs. Collin Hughes Hunter request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Mary Chestine to Dr. Walter Talmage Long on Tuesday evening, March the twelfth nineteen hundred and twelve at nine o'clock At Home Roxboro, North Carolina

Loch Lily flour has all the properties in the grain of wheat, as nature intended, making a creamy white flour and absolutely pure. Corn meal from air dried Person County corn.

Some Hog Killing.

Mr. Joe E. Montague, easily one of the best farmers in this County, reports the killing of hogs at his house. He has killed 39 which ranged from 108 to 378 pounds, the total weight being 6289. He has sold $533.00 worth of pork and sausage and has salded down 2500 pounds. The A. T. Co. or its allied interests have no terror for him.

We enjoyed a call last Thursday from Mr. J. J. Dixon of Alensville. Jim says most any of the candidates for President on the Democratic ticket will suit him, but for the Senate he is for Kitchin first, last and the time.
