Wants Rotation.

(Published by Request.)

As I contemplate the near future I wonder if it is not time to blow the bugle that the citizens of A-he might refresh their memories with the fact that time and tide wait for no man, when a new election is sprung upon the people without much warning. Will all respect to the present incumbents, the people constitute the government and it is no stronger than the people who represent it, and the confidence maintained in the conservative distribution of equal rights in life ever hold the people in harmony with the cause which they respect and create a true spirit of republic and not the government, and the faith which binds us closer together. Then I beg the voice of the people to speak the sentiment and wishes of your cons. I hope. Will you look your field over after you with the same old crop or will you rotate, giving other seed of the same species an equal chance in the political field of economy? With all respect let us hear from you.—Citizen in Jefferson Record.

Free Wild West Show.

According to former announcement on Monday there was a sale of wild western horses—about the sorriest lot you ever saw offered. Notwithstanding, there was a carload of them sold at auction, averaging something like forty dollars a head. This sounds like a mighty small price for horses, but if you had seen the stock you would doubtless agree with us, that they sold well.

But the free show came after the sale when the parties who sold them began to lasso them and halter them. They reared, pitched, charged, fell down, rolled over and cut all kinds of stunts, but they were finally turned over to the happy (?) purchasers. One gentleman who bought five of them was so thoroughly satisfied with his bunch he gave one of the five to another gentleman to take the five home—and he only lived about nine miles from town. Yes, it was a show worth while.

Fine Corn.

If you want to see some real farming you want to take a trip to the farm of Mr. J. A. Long just north of town, and take a look at his corn. If the farmers of this County would adopt the methods of Mr. Long and produce grain more largely the County would be immeasurably better off. Mr. Long has demonstrated that wheat can be successfully grown here, for he produced a crop this year at a cost of twenty five cents a bushel.

Barber Shop Moved.

I wish to inform the public that I have moved my shop and can be found at my new place, in basement of the Post Office building, where I will be glad to serve all of my old customers and any others who are wanting the best in my line. Give me a call and be convinced. Ed Williams, the Barber.

It is Not Far Off!

There will certainly be some large doings in Roxboro, for three days, commencing, Thur. Oct. 8th for that is the date of the opening of the Person County Fair.

Noxon's Hippodrome Shows, have been secured and are under contract with the fair managers, to present what they term The "Midway Beautiful." They will bring an array of shows and attractions that are second to none and each one has been selected not only for its intrinsic worth but because it embodies all that is clean and good.

The roster of this organization includes about one hundred people and travels by special train, so one readily sees that this will be one of the biggest organizations that has yet visited this city.

Included in the array of shows is Buckskin Bills Wild West and Congress of Rough Riders, including a troupe of genuine Blanket Indians, Cow-boys, Cow-girls, and Mexicans, Museum of Worlds Wonders, with its odd collection of human freaks and curiosities, Georgia Jubilee Minstrels, Princess Olga, the $10,000 Doll, and several other attractions of merit, besides a 20th Century Jumping Horse Carousal and Mammoth Terris Wheel.

After the first performance, the citizens of Roxboro and Person County will readily see the management of Noxon's Hippodrome Shows have carried out their promises to the letter to please the public and to give them value received and that their organization is composed of ladies and gentlemen and that everything around the show breathes cleanliness and goodness.

In addition to its many other features it will also furnish two Sensational Free out-door attractions, both afternoon and night, each day of the fair.

Esposito's Royal Italian Marine Band will be in attendance, throughout the fair and will give elaborate free Concerts on the streets daily, at 9:30 a. m. 1:30 and 7:30 p. m.

BOTH FACTIONS ARE CONFIDENT.

Germans Claim That Their Plans Have Met With Entire Success. Situation of the Allies Is Considered Favorable By Experts.

London, Aug. 31.—With the beginning of the sixth week of the war and on the eve of what the Germans are believed to have planned as their supreme effort—tomorrow being the anniversary of the battle of Sedan—the situation of the allies generally is considered as favorable. The Germans have thrown forward tremendous forces of fresh troops along the 65-mile line extending from Villers, in the department of Somme, to Montherme, in the department of Ardennes. Also the kaiser's forces hammering against the allies' center have attained alternate success with the French and British and on the left of the allies' line fortune has turned in favor of the invaders, the Anglo-French being compelled to give ground.

Brother Farmer.

Just now while clover seed is so high and there is need for so much land to be seeded in crimson clover I want to say that my experience is that many of us have been seeding twice as much seed as is absolutely necessary for the same number of acres. Some seem to think the more seed put on the land better will be the stand. I find this a great mistake and rather to the reverse. You will often see other crops too thick. Clover will branch and take up more open space than any other crop that I know. Next spring leave a good patch for seed, let it get good dry and you will be surprised how quick you can gather enough for the use of a small farmer. Take pains and distribute your seed and bear in mind that clover, as well as turnips, can be seeded too thick.—G. E. Woody, Wooddale, N. C.
