WEBB - O'BRIANT

Miss Gertrude O'Briant Married to Mr. Raymond Webb

In the presence of only a few friends, Mr. Raymond Webb and Miss Gertrude O'Briant were married Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wood of East Trinity avenue.

The parlor was decorated in palms and ferns for the occasion. The wedding march was played by Miss Ruth O'Briant, a cousin of the bride. Rev. R. C. Craven officiated.

The bride was dressed in a blue traveling suit, hat and gloves to match. The marriage was a complete surprise to the friends of the young couple, who, while expecting it, did not know just when the event would take place.

Mrs. Webb is the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tuggle O'Briant of Hurdle Mills, where she is universally popular. Her friends are numerous and many good wishes were showered upon her after the marriage. Mr. Webb is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Webb of Roxboro having lived there until two years ago. He is now a valuable employe of the E. V. Webb Tobacco Co., of La Grange, N. C., and since living there has become one of the most popular and successful young men of the business.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb left on the 11:37 train for La Grange, where they will make their home in the future.—Durham Herald.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to return our sincere thanks to our friends for the many kindnesses shown us during the illness and death of our son, Rupert. Neighbors and friends could not have been more thoughtful or kinder to their own loved ones than they were to us, and assure each and every one that we are mindful of their every act. While it is impossible for us to ever repay by any kindness on our part we will ever earnestly pray God's richest blessings upon you all, and will always be thankful that our lot has been cast among such a goodly people.

Respectfully,
E. D. Cheek and Family.

North Carolina Wins Old Boundary Dispute.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The dispute between the states of Tennessee and North Carolina over their boundary was decided today by the Supreme court in favor of North Carolina.

The dispute arose over the exact location of the state boundary as projected by a commission in 1821. Both states laid claim to some 40,000 acres of mountainous timber land near Slick Rock Creek and for years each state has imposed taxes on the lands.

Justice McKenna, in announcing the court's decision, said that after careful consideration of all the arguments the evidence, including the usual amount of conflicting expert testimony, the court found the line to be as claimed by North Carolina.

Death of a Good Woman.

Mrs. J. S. Noell, of Timberlake, died last Wednesday and was buried Thursday at Mt. Tirzah. Mrs. Noell had been ill for quite a long time and death was not unexpected. She leaves a husband and several children besides a large number of friends who will mourn her departure. She was a most estimable and loving character and her place in her community will be hard to fill.

Did No Business.

Recently a detective came here to look after the blind tigers. After getting a list of the suspects he spent a few days nosing around and then quietly took his departure. It has been intimated that the tigers gave him more money than he could get out of the other end of the matter. At any rate he did no business in a very fertile field.

Notice.

On the 28th day of Nov. 1914, I will sell at public auction for cash, my entire household and kitchen furniture. Also cows, hogs, wagons, buggy, carriages harness of all kinds, farming utensils, mowing machine and cutterway harrow, gasoline engine, wood saw, feed cutter and carrier, entire crop of corn and feed. E. C. Brooks. Sale will begin at 11 o'clock. 3ts

In Memory of Little Mabel Alice Lee.

On the 7th of Nov. at two o'clock in the afternoon, the death Angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee and took from them their little darling Mabel Alice, after about two weeks illness, of scarlet fever. She was 2 years 8 months and 22 days old. She was much loved by all who knew her. She leaves fond parents and a host of relatives to mourn her death.

The dear little rose bud has left us, to bloom on a brighter shore, but we hope again to meet her, where parting is no more.—Her Aunt Minnie.

Society News.

The Twice Eight Club was charmingly entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. Reginald Harris at her new home on Main Street. The rooms were bright with autumn flowers. Mrs. Harris welcomed her guests and seated them at small tables arranged in the living room for the game. Partners were drawn with dainty Halloween score cards, an interesting game kept the guests amused for two hours. A tempting salad course was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. B. R. Long.

Mrs. J. W. Noell was hostess to the Research Club last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Mamie Merritt was the leader for the interesting study of The American Races. The hostess served a salad course and grape fruit.

Meeting of North Carolina Conference.

The North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, convenes at the Methodist church at Washington, N. C., on Wednesday, November 18th. Bishop R. G. Waterhouse, of Los Angeles, Cal., will preside. Pastor Yearby and Pastor Boone of this circuit, have had a splendid year and will go up to Conference with splendid records. This has been the first year for both of these good men and it is expected and earnestly hoped both will be returned to their field.

For 1916.

The North Carolina Democracy united under a single banner and presenting an unbroken front to its ancient enemy—the Republican party. A campaign in which there will be no Democrat of this or that kind, but all simply Democrats. A united party with factionalism eliminated, all working for the upbuilding of the State, the development of its industries and the fostering of its manufactures. A Democracy determined to keep control of the State's affairs and administer them to the best good to all the people. North Carolina for the Democratic party and the Democratic party for North Carolina!—Charlotte Observer.

Preparing to Move.

Owing to the fact that I am going to move soon to the store building now occupied by the Person Dry Goods Company I am offering reduced prices on everything in furniture, buggies and harness.

You will certainly save money by calling on me before buying anything in these lines.

Respectfully,
E. D. Cheek.

For Sale.

I will sell at auction at my home on Route 3, on Friday Nov. 20th, 1 buggy and harness, 1 cow, corn and feed, and all kind of farming tools. Sale to take place at ten o'clock. S. B. Royster. 2ts.

Leasburg Items.

The revival services at this church closed Monday night after nine days of infagging interest. Mr. Martin preached earnest and excellent sermons and much good was accomplished.

Miss Mildred Connally who is teaching in Yanceyville spent a part of last week with home people here.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burt of Fugua Springs are spending a while with Mrs. Burts parents. Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Stanfield.

The arrival of a little grandson Nov. 5 brought a new gladness to this house hold.

Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Love were in town Sunday.

The 4th Quartly Conference for this charge was held at Union church last Friday.

Despite the hard times the collections were good and Mr. North the Presiding Elder said it was one of the best meetings held in the district. He especially commended the good spent existing between people and pastor.

Mr. Will Love and Mr. Carter of Gatewood spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Newman.

Mrs. Nannie Fuller and Mr. Albert Fuller. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Connally and children spent the week end with Mrs. Philip Cooper at Carr.

Mrs. W. J. Pulliam is spending some time with her daughter Mrs. R. T. Poole in Troy.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Featherston have moved into the home of their son Mr. Edwin Featherston.

Mrs. Henry Rogers spent a part of last week with her parent here.

Plans are on foot for an old fashioned spelling match at the school house Thanksgiving night. Everybody within reach is cordially invited to be present. A jolly good time is in store we trust.

The Community Improvement League met last Saturday afternoon with Miss Bessie Thompson president of the organization. The subject for discussion was socializing the country school and making it an institution of community service.

This is one of the leading problems of the day and the discussion was clear, practical and inspiring.—X.

Farmers Notice!

The Person Union Tobacco Co. will open its doors Nov. 17th to receive tobacco, and earnestly deserve a full business on the first day as well as every day after. Let every man do his best to make this business a first class success. It is our business therefore we must maintain it. Come on boys, and help us in this great work.—C. B. Brooks, Preident.

Woman suffrage is coming. In the elections Tuesday the friends of "votes for women" won in two States, Nevada and Montana. Women now have full suffrage in ten States and in Alaska. In addition they have the right to vote for certain officers in twenty-two other States. The ten female suffrage States, with the time of granting the franchise, are: Wyoming, 1890; Colorado, 1893; Utah, 1896; Washington, 1910; California, Arizona, Kansas and Oregon, 1912; Nevada and Montana, 1914. The twenty-two States allowing partial suffrage to women are Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Ohio, South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.—Concord Times.

Have you opened a bank account?

Cunningham and Woodburn.

There was one exhibit in our County fair, that I have never seen any notice taken of at all, the exhibit of young Mr. Boyd of Alton, Halifax County Va. It seems to me not right to ignore his fine exhibit, though it was not of our county and State. It appears to me a greater reason why he should have been commended for his fine display, his booth was full to overflowing with agricultural articles of great merit. The corn, wheat, oats, and several different grasses were very fine and the canned goods were especially nice and enticing. And he told me that all was raised on his own farm by himself, so much the more ought we to give him the commendation which he eminently merits, I told him it was a great credit and honor to him.

Mr. Foushee is receiving great praise for his very entertaining reminiscences of Roxboro in the olden days. We shall be glad to have more of the same class of goods from him in the Courier. We farmers are all or nearly so, sowing wheat this October over here, we are getting tired of making tobacco and buying our bread with the proceeds of the tobacco crop.

Let us all pull together this time and give Tucker and our whole ticket the largest majority it has ever received in the County. I met with my old friend and schoolmate Speck Thaxton now living near Frogsboro in Caswell County, I had not met him before I think but once since the war, and then in Roxboro. We enjoyed greatly his talk about the war and war times, though he is white headed his mental vigor is unimpaired and as strong as a young man. We also met Mr. John Bradsher and family who showed us much courtesy inviting us to eat a nice lunch with them, I shall want to meet him again.—Frank.

The Moving Picture Show will be open until 11 o'clock on the 20th, which gives you plenty of time to attend the Orphans Concert and the "Trey O' Hearts".

In Memory of Mrs. J. S. Noell.

On the night of Nov. the 4th, Mrs. J. S. Noell was called to her eternal home. She has been an invalid for about 2 years, but always bore her suffering with the greatest of patience. As I stood by her casket and looked at her face calm in death I thought what a picture of eternal rest, to be freed from such suffering. She had often expressed her willingness to die. Her home life has been all that a devoted wife's could be ever ready to be of service in aiding her husband and children. It was a pleasure to every one to visit her, she made friends with everyone, and all who knew her loved her. Mrs. Noell was in her 54th year, and a daughter of the late Dr. Wilkerson. She was a member of Mt. Tirzah M. E. Church in which she did active service. The services was held over her remains in the church of which she was a member, conducted by Rev. N. C. Yearby, (her former pastor), after which she was tenderly laid to rest in the church cemetery. She leaves a bereaved husband one daughter, eight sons, and a host of friends to mourn.

Her husband and children feel that their hearts are crushed, their home made desolate; yet the omnipotent hand though unseen, will be pouring upon their bleeding hearts her everlasting love, and in many a lonely hour she will be calling them to a better land and may they be prepared to meet her where they may love with their master, and where they will then understand that earth's less is heaven's eternal gain.

To the bereaved family we tender our heartfelt sympathy.—Mrs. T. A. Pearce.
