In another column we are publishing the appropriations made to the colleges, schools, and other State institutions. Read this and lay it aside for future reference, as it is our intention to have more to say on this matter in the near future.

It is with much pleasure we are publishing an article from Mr. S. Garland Winstead on the road question. Honestly, we believe if you are not prejudiced and will sit down and read this article you will readily agree that the wise thing for this township to do is to vote the bond issue. He shows you that the bond issue can not possibly cost you more than fifteen cents on the hundred dollars worth of property, and it will be worth many times that to you in any one of the things he calls your attention to. Read the article, it is not long and is well worth your attention.

On the first Monday in April a petition will be presented to the Board of County Commissioners asking that an election be called for the purpose of voting a bond issue on Roxboro Township. We suppose the election will be called for some date in May, making the time for discussion of this question short. We hope every one interested in this question in the Township will make use of our columns and express themselves on this question. We will gladly publish whatever may be sent in, provided it is not too long and does not deal in personalities. We must have your name and on this question will publish the name of every contributor. If you are ashamed for the public to know who wrote the article, then candidly we do not think you have any right to ask us to publish it. We want you to thoroughly understand this bill, and when you do we are quite sure you will see nothing in it to frighten any one, but on the other hand much that is to be commended. Let us hear from you.

The Legislature which has recently adjourned was composed of quite a large number of farmers, there being more farmers than of any other single calling, a close second being lawyers. Now, we do not know just how many of these were "sure enough" farmers and not men who live in town and own a farm, which some tenants work. At any rate it shows that the farmers are coming into their own, and it will not be many years before the farmer will be recognized as a factor in law making as well as bread making.

Below we give a list of the occupations of the members as well as their church affiliations:

The farmers headed the list there being 48 of these "sons of the soil" in the House. Lawyers came next with 37 representatives. Other professions were 5 merchants, 6 doctors, 6 teachers, 2 dentists, 2 ministers, 2 editors and one each of banker, civil engineer, druggist, nurseryman, cotton manufacturer, dairyman and contractor. Four members did not give their occupations.

Of the church affiliations the Methodist led with 34, Baptist, 22; Presbyterian, 13; Episcopal, 10; Lutheran, 4; Christian church, 2 and one each of the Friends, Associate Reformed Presbyterian, Primitive Baptist, and Christian Disciples. Thirty members did not give the name of the church, if any, to which they belonged.

Some By-products

Of Good Roads.

A recent enactment of the Legislature provides a bond election for Roxboro Township, looking of course to the permanent improvement of the roads of this township. The act itself fixes the amount or limit of the bond issue to $75,000. It is certain that we can not exceed the authority of the Legislature and therefore the amount fixed in the bill. Let us then consider the propriety of this election and the benefits to be derived from the same.

As a proponent of this bill and an advocate of good roads, I wish to say in the beginning that I invite no quarrel with its opponents. It is a question to be settled by the individual voters of our township. I have a right to favor the passage of this bill; I shall not gainsay your right to oppose it.

It does, however, behoove every elector to study well the provisions of this act; the benefits to be derived from its adoption, before he allows his vote to defeat the measure.

As an advocate then of the proposed bond election, I shall admit the burdens incident to any bond election. The bill if carried will impose an additional tax of not more than fifteen cents on every $100. worth of property. And this is the only argument that can be used against the issuance of bonds for such purposes. It creates a debt to be paid in the future; the unusual thing about such a debt is that we are given forty years to pay it and that it bears less than 6 per cent interest. Frankly this is the only argument that can be used against such an election and when we consider the present expenditures of our county, this is hardly an argument. But admit the burden; let us look to some of the advantages this fifteen cents tax will bring. I favor the passage of this act not for the tax but for the investment of the tax.

In other words I favor it as I favor public education, not for my school tax but for the investment of this school tax. And I believe, in fact, I know that a good road tax will aid my good school tax. It can not be denied that when you make your roads passable, you make your schools prosperous. It will bring your school house nearer your door. It will put your child nearer the teacher.

And as with the school, so with your church; it will bring you nearer your Sunday service. Let me add just here that a vote for good roads is a vote for better citizenship; a more enlightened community; in fact it is a vote in the words of the poet for the "best good." I believe then in good roads because it will enlarge our church facilities. It will increase the usefulness of this institution.

Now then a vote for good roads means a vote for your own household. You can reach your doctor over the phone; there are times when he can only reach you by a good road. A vote then in favor of this measure is a vote for your own wife. Advise with her on this important question. If a vote of fifteen cent tax will assure me against a possible death, I shall be glad of an opportunity to vote it before I die. I mean just this it will put every home in closer touch with its physician.

And now Mr. Voter, listen to just a few more by-products of good roads. It will bring your warehouse nearer your barn; your market nearer your home. In fact it will be a valuable asset to every citizen of our county. Good roads are an asset; mud holes are a liability.

Let us then vote to place our county in line with the progressive spirit of our state. The good road movement is a policy already adopted by a majority of the counties of our state. Let us accept the approaching election as an opportunity to go on record with the best movement ever inaugurated for the upbuilding of our commonwealth.—S. G. Winstead.

How To Give Quinine To Children.

FEBRILIN is the trade-mark name given to an improved Quinine. It is a Tasteless Syrup, pleasant to take and does not disturb the stomach. Children take it and never know it is Quinine. Also especially adapted to adults who cannot take ordinary Quinine. Does not nauseate nor cause nervousness nor ringing in the head. Try it the next time you need Quinine for any purpose. Ask for 2 ounce original package. The name FEBRILIN is blown in bottle. 25 cents.

Teachers Entertained.

One very enjoyable feature of the County Commencement was an informal luncheon served to the Teachers of Person County by Supt. and Mrs. J. A. Beam, in the superintendent's office, at the noon hour.

This with many other kindnesses and marks of hospitality, have won for Supt. and Mrs. Beam great popularity among the teachers and in view of his work as a progressive superintendent they all expect to look upon him as the right man, in the right place, for a right goodly while.

Notice

The Board of Education will meet on the 1st Monday in April. All who have business for the consideration of the Board will please have in shape and be present on the above named date. J. A. Beam, Cunningham and Woodburn.

Our community has buried during the last few days two of our best men, Mr. J. M. Bray last Friday evening, and Mr. T. L. Reaves on Monday evening. They were both members of the church at Ephesus, and we trust are now enjoying the sunshine of God's smile in the Gloryland. Mr. Bray by great industry and economy had accumulated a nice estate, cultivating a farm and also very successful in merchandising, he helped his own people and did much for the poor around in his section. Having a store he was kind to them and indulged them, and waited for them to get able to pay him. Marshall was a very useful man and will doubtless be greatly missed by us all. He was twice married, first to Miss Mollie Franklin and lastly to Mrs. Robert Bray his brothers widow.

Mr. Reaves was a farmer and a most excellent one, he improved it and brought it up to a high state of cultivation, and raised a large family who are all doing well in life, and are ornaments to society. He was perfectly devoted to his church at Ephesus, and every first Sunday unless he was too sick to go, he was in his pew ready to hear the word of God from the ministers lips. He was a man of fine christian character, and I have never heard a man speak one word against him, and he surely had no enemies. He was ready willing and anxious for the Lord to take him as he no doubt had suffered much pain for the last several years, as he was in the hospital for a considerable time, and remained as long as they could benefit him. He then returned home and recovered, and was up and around until his last attack which took him away from us to the heavenly world. A large concourse was present to pay the last tribute of respect to his memory.

Brother Putnam was the officiating minister and made one of the best most comforting talks to the sorrowing family, and to every christian heart that I have ever been permitted to listen to.—Frank
