A Progressive Business.

It was our pleasure last Saturday to pay a visit to the plant of the Roxboro Bottling Works, owned and operated by Mr. O. B. McBroom. From a small beginning he has built up a large and profitable business, now having his plant housed in a large and conveniently arranged brick building, which he had erected several months since. It would be hard to find a more sanitary establishment of this kind and he has just cause to feel proud of his success.

Moved To West Point, Va.

Mr. E. C. Veazey and family left here the first of the week to make their home in West Point, Va. Mr. Veazey has been at that point for some time where he is engaged in the lumber business. We regret very much to see these good people leave our town for they have been leaders in church work and social circles.

Tuesday October 19th.

Dr. S. RAPPORT, of Durham, will be at Roxboro at Hotel Jones, Tues. Oct. 19th for the purpose of examining eyes and fitting glasses. On this visit Dr. Rapport will fit you with suitable glasses at greatly reduced prices. Examination Free.

Person County Fair. 160,000 Pounds

Opening of Second Annual Person County Fair Tuesday Morning.

The weather man has been exceedingly kind to the managers of the Person County Fair, for the weather all of this week has been ideal, and on yesterday morning when the gates were thrown open the marshals, headed by a brass band marched out and paraded the streets. The only float in the procession was one by Mr. O. B. McBroom, of the Roxboro Bottling Works. He had decorated his auto to truck in a beautiful manner and it was loaded with a dozen beautiful young ladies.

The exhibits are numerous, in fact are very creditable and no citizen of the County has any cause to feel ashamed of this County. At this writing, Tuesday evening, everything is getting in final shape and by tomorrow morning will be ready for the great concourse who will attend from day to day. The large crowd is expected on Thursday, as that is school day for the graded school, while Friday will be observed as school day for the public schools. We think it was unfortunate, to say the least, that the entire school force was not arranged for one day rather than being divided.

We will give further particulars of the exhibit in our next. Come on, the managers are looking for you.

Dr. Wise A Roxboro Visitor.

Dr. J. A. Wise of Hapeville, Ga., arrived yesterday morning and will spend the week here taking in the fair. Dr. Wise was for a number of years one of the leading practitioners of this county and his departure was a distinct loss to the County. We are glad to see that time seems to pass well with him for notwithstanding it has been a long time since he left here he shows none of the ravages of time.

Mrs. M. R. Long and daughter have been visiting in Appomattox Va., the guest of Mrs. Long's sister.

Largest Break of the Season Friday--Good Sales At All Warehouses This Week.

On last Friday the largest sales of the season took place here. In all there was something like two hundred thousand pounds sold, and while the prices were low it must be remembered that the offerings were of an unusually poor quality. We do not believe we have ever seen quite so much common tobacco on the market any one day. It is confidently expected when the offerings improve in quality that the prices will be much more satisfactory, however, no one is holding out any great encouragement for high prices. We have heard from the other markets and the prices here as just as satisfactory as on any of the markets.

The warehousemen in Roxboro are going to get the very highest market prices for all tobacco brought here and sold on the Roxboro market. They are going to see that every pile brings the highest price.

So bring your tobacco to Roxboro and sell where the warehousemen have your interest at heart, and will see that you are treated right.

The breaks during past three days have been good. All five warehouses having good sales. The prices are a little higher this week.

President Wilson to Marry Mrs. Galt of Washington.

Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, announced Wednesday night his engagement to Mrs. Norman Galt, of Washington. The date of the wedding has not been fixed, but it will probably take place in December at the home of the bride-elect.

Mrs. Galt is the widow of a well known business man of Washington, who died eight years ago, leaving a jewelry business that still bears his name. She is beautiful and accomplished, about 38 years old, and was born in Wytheville, Va., where her father, William H. Bolling, was a prominent lawyer.

Earlier in the day a statement was also given out at the White House that President Wilson had decided to vote for the proposed Constitutional Amendment for woman suffrage in New Jersey. Hitherto he has been noncommittal on this issue.

Twice Eight Club.

Mrs. T. E. Austin was hostess, Friday afternoon to the members of the Twice Eight Club and a number of additional guests at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. R. Hambrick. A profusion of flowers in autumn colors made the residence attractive for the occasion. The autumn effect was carried out in the score cards and napkins. Five tables were arranged for the game of rook, at the close of which the hostess served delicious refreshments, consisting of a salad course, followed by ices and cake.

On This One Visit.

Dr. S. RAPPORT, of Durham will be at Jones Hotel, Roxboro, Tues. Oct. 19th. On this one visit the Dr. will examine eyes and furnish glasses at greatly reduced prices. If you are in need of glasses for the good of your eyes don't fail to see him on that date. Examination Free.

Every time Villa is killed the public expects him to send out an emphatic denial.

Research Club Meets.

With Mrs. J. J. Winstead as hostess the Research club was charmingly entertained Wednesday afternoon. The home was attractive for the occasion with quantities of beautiful roses, which were used effectively in vases about the hall and parlors. Mrs. J. W. Noell was leader for the afternoon. The subject for the year is Germany, and is arranged in a most interesting manner, comprising a course of the two books the study of which is being taken up in detail. After the study hour the hostess served tempting cream, cake and homemade candies.

The following members of the club were present: Mesdames W. T. Pass, E. P. Dunlap, J. A. Long, Jr., A. M. Burns, A. S. deVaming, G. W. Thomas, Garland Winstead, W. C. Bullock, J. W. Noell, W. A. Sergeant, Mamie Merritt, Hubert Morton, T. E. Austin, with Mrs. Z. V. Gwynn, of Durham, as guest of honor.

Mr. Coble At The Fair

Mr. G. O. Coble, who for quite a while was the secretary and treasurer of the Roxboro Cotton Mills, but now in business in Greensboro, was a Fair visitor this week. Few men have lived here who made more friends or was more progressive and done more for the upbuilding of the town than did Mr. Coble, and it is a pleasure to all of his friends to see him.

Miss Elizabeth Green of Alton Va. is the guest of Miss Elizabeth Blank.

Committed Suicide.

On Monday morning Mr. J. R. Tingen who lived about two miles south of town, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. Mr. Tingen had been unbalanced in his mind for a long time, and once before had attempted to take his life. The family had kept a close watch on him and would not allow anything to lay around with which he might take his life. On last Sunday he with the family, visited some relatives and it is thought he found a shell while there and secretly carried it home with him, using it in his self destruction on Monday morning. He was a splendid old gentleman and the family have the sympathy of all.

Ford Changes Managers.

Mr. A. M. Henderson, who has been manager of the Ford Co. here for the past several months has resigned and will go to Raleigh this week where he will be connected with a garage and will sell the Dodge car. Mr. H. L. Crowell of Monroe will succeed Mr. Henderson as manager for the Ford Co., and will move his family here within the next ten days.

Mr. Henderson has been unusually successful as a salesman and has placed upwards of thirty Ford's here during his stay. While here Mr. and Mrs. Henderson have been living at Hotel Jones and have made many friends who will regret to hear of their departure.
