"The Garden of Lies"

As advertised in last week's paper "The Garden of Lies" with Jane Cowl in the leading role was shown at the Princess Theatre to the largest crowd of the season. It was by far one of the finest film production that has been shown in Roxboro in sometime.

The management of the Princess Theatre have announced that hereafter they will show Universal Broadway features often during the coming season. It will be a real treat for the people of Roxboro, and they have already shown their appreciation of the first of the series, as the crowds were unusually large.

Thirty Five Dollars A Hundred.

Mr. D. E. Berry of Orange county was in town yesterday with a load of tobacco and made the biggest average which we have seen reported on any of the old belt markets. He averaged $35 round for his entire load, clear check. This tobacco was sold on the floor on its merit and simply represents what can be done when you sell at the Planters Warehouse.

Death Claims A

Bright Young Man.

Mr. B. A. Burch died at the home of his father, Mr. George T. Burch, yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. Baxter, as he was known by his friends, was a young man having just passed his twenty-fourth year, was a remarkably bright young man of most excellent parts. For several years he has been connected with the Liggett & Meyers Tobacco Company in Henderson, and was a favorite with all of his collaborators. He leaves a wife and one child, besides father, one brother and three sisters.

Case of Diphtheria.

A case of diphtheria developed in town one day last week, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carlton, Mary Shuford, being the patient. Every precaution was taken, all of the family taking antitoxin, the patient isolated and all over the house being fumigated. The little girl is getting along nicely and is now out of danger. There is little fear of the disease spreading and no one need be alarmed or afraid to visit the town on account of this case.

Harris=Armstrong.

Twos amid beautiful surroundings that miss Mabel Harris of this city and Dr. C. W. Armstrong of Troy, N. C. plighted their troth Tuesday at six o'clock in the Methodist church. The church was attractively decorated and brilliantly lighted by many candles.

Preceding the ceremony the wedding guest were entertained with a musical program, "At Dawning" and "To You" were sung by Miss Eva Lawrence and Miss Mary Smithman, the organist of the evening, rendered "To a Wild Rose." At the close of which twelve young girls, dressed in pink and white, members of the Sans Souci Club, marched down the aisles and took their appointed places as guests of honor, in the choir loft, they were Misses Newells, Barnette, Winstead, Unstead, Crowder, Jones, Featherstone, Edgerton, Tomlinson, Wilson and Noell. Next the bridal chorus from Lohengrin was sung by the members of the Methodist Choir, messdames Long, Love, Burns, Freeland, Foreman, Miss Anna Webb and messrs. E. M. Deaton, R. H. Oakley and W. S. Clary. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played and the bridal party entered the church, the soft strains of Schubert's Serenade came from the organ during the ceremony, while the march from Thanhauser was used as a recessional. First Rev. N. C. Yearby advanced from the study and took his place in the center of the Chancel, then came the ushers, messrs Jack Hambrick, C. C. Cunningham, R. H. Harris and B. G. Clayton, following these came master David Armstrong, dressed in black velvet suit and carrying the ring in a white chrysanthemum. After him came Miss Mary Harris, sister of the bride, attractive in a gown of pink crape de chine, carrying a huge bouquet of Killarney roses. Next little Misses Jane Burns and Helen Harris passed down the aisle, attired in white chiffon with pink trimmings, scattering rose petals from a pink basket. The groom and his best man Mr. J. R. Page from Aberdeen, N. C., approached the altar from a side door and awaited the bride, who entered with her father. The bride was lovely in a white duchess satin combined with chantilly lace, and her veil was caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The happy couple left on the seven o'clock train for a ten days visit to northern cities, after which they will be at home in Troy, N. C.

The bride is one of Roxboro's best known young women. Attractive in personality and manner she has won and held the friendship and admiration of many. The groom is one of the rising young physician's of Troy and is a man possessing many excellent traits of character.

Among the out of town guests present for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Armstrong, father and mother of the groom, Misses Claire and Annie Harris, students at Greensboro College for Women, Misses Bettie Edgerton from Selma, N. C., Tommy Mae Tomlinson from Troy.

Cabbage Plants, The Kind That Makes Big Heads.

When you want plants which you know to be true to name and which will produce the best and largest heads you want to see me and get some of my plants. I will give as a premium 1000 plants to the person who grows the largest head from plants bought of me. Plants now ready for delivery. For best results set out about Dec. 1st.—J. W. Brooks, Roxboro, N. C.

A Real Joy

Through the courtesy of Mr. E. G. Long, the popular cashier of the Peoples Bank, we had a spin over the new road which is being built out towards Bushy Fork, and it is a real joy to drive over this new stretch of road. While only two miles have been completed it is enough to show the wisdom of this Township in voting the bonds for building good roads, and to prove that no mistake was made in selecting the Highway Commission or the engineer and superintendent, for in Mess. Brown and Colvin the Commission has a force which knows their business. If you are still opposed to a bond issue, for good roads just ride out over this road and then come back over the old road.

Tobacco Sales.

We are very glad indeed to be able to state that tobacco is selling better, in fact the sales this week have been the most satisfactory of the season. We believe the prices have stiffened up on all grades and you can feel assured that when you sell in Roxboro you are getting the best to be had.

All of the warehouses reports sales as more satisfactory and the farmers with whom we have talked confirm this opinion. It was not at all uncommon to see wrappers knocked off at fifty dollars, with cutters bringing good prices. It gives us pleasure to make this statement for the farmers were very much down in the mouth at the former prices.

Community Service Day.

Everybody is invited to attend the Community Service Day to be held at Brooklyn School House on Friday December 3rd, 1915. Be sure to be there, for topics which are very beneficial to both young and old, large and small, and in fact everybody, will be discussed. Come, and let's make our County one of the greatest counties in the State. Watch next week's Courier for a complete program and list of speakers.—R. E. Brooks.

Auto for $1.00.

Mr. R. W. Stephens, the popular agent at the Norfolk & Western depot was the fortunate winner of a Ford automobile last week. One day while on a fishing trip and passing through Virginia he invested $1.00 in a raffle which was being had for the machine and much to his surprise he was notified Friday evening he had won the machine. It has been remarked that Mr. Stephens is the first man in the County to buy a Ford at cost.

Lost Fine Horse.

One night last week Mr. T. C. Wagstaff, one of the best and most progressive farmers in the Concord section, lost a very fine horse. Mr. Wagstaff says the horse was fed too much green corn which caused blind staggers, from which the horse died. He refused $250 for the horse only a short time since.

Do Your Business at Home.

My book department is complete in every detail. All the late works of fiction, popular copyrights, as well as a full line of paper back novels, carried at all times at publishing price.—W. C. JONES at Hotell Jones.

Sale of Personal Property!

On Tuesday Nov. 16th, 1915, I will sell at public auction for cash at my home place a lot of household and kitchen furniture, farming utensils, farm machinery, wagon, buggy, cow and some hogs. Sale begins at 10 o'clock, A. M.—Mrs. Bettie Clay.

Cunningham and Woodburn.

Our community lost one of its oldest and best men last Thursday in the death of Mr. James Bennett, who has been an invalid for a number of years, being afflicted with a complication of diseases. He has reared a nice family of children who are all married and doing well. He was a prominent member of Ephesus church, being superintendent of the Sabbath School there for a long time, and filled the place very acceptably to all. He was always faithful, was always in his pew on church days promptly and regularly as long as he was able to be present. He was buried at the church cemetery on Thursday evening last, Squires W. C. Pulliam and J. M. Jones made talks in the church on the character of the deceased as to his standing and work in the church, and Rev. Mr. Linthicum, pastor of South Halifax charge conducted the services at the grave. A large crowd attended and the grave was covered with flowers.

Farmers are nearly all sowing wheat over here now, they see the difference between having your own wheat to carry to the mill and paying seven or eight dollars a barrel for flour.

We are regretting that Mr. Nelson, who is merchandising at Woodburn is making his arrangements to move to Semora to engage in business there. We had hoped he would decide to remain at Woodburn as I think he can do well there, I think it is one of the best country stands in our section.

I was very proud of the fine exhibit of our county fair, it shows what we can do when we try. We must all pull together to make the next one a bigger success. Congratulations to Messrs. Carver & Cunningham.—Frank Hadn't you rather pay the $2 or $3 more and get this falls style suit, than to pay less money and get a suit that is carried over and out of date. Everything in our stock bought this fall. Morton & Satterfields.

Jalong News.

Mrs. Daughn Clayton was carried to a hospital in Durham to be treated I have not learned which hospital she was carried to. I trust she may recover and enjoy good health after she takes the treatment.

Mr. T. A. O'Briant of Allensville visited friends here Sunday.

Mr. L. J. Long visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Long, Sunday.

Mrs. and Mrs. Sam Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morrell visited Mr. Walker and Mrs. Morrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Walker Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lebbie Rhew visited Mrs. Rhew's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Yarboro, Sunday.

We were very glad indeed to have Mr. R. A. Spencer, our worthy Superintendent with us Sunday. We missed him very much the Sunday before.

The mills here are working quite regular now, much to the delight of the employees.

Everything seems to be going along nicely from the looks of that everlasting smile of Mr. Algood's, which he carries all the time.

I think the Moonlight School is getting on right well. I don't know how many scholars they have, but I think they have a very good school.

There is not much news so I'll ring off.—"Freckles".

Notice.

On account of the Oxford Orphanage concert on Tuesday Nov. 23 the Princess theatre will have first show at 6:45 thereby giving the people an opportunity of attending the concert if they desire to do so. Also the last show will begin directly after the concert.

Entertainment.

An entertainment will be given by home talent at the Auditorium Nov. 19th, for the benefit of the Confederate Monument. A good attendance is earnestly requested.
