

A BRILLIANT WEDDING

Miss Beryl Beam United in Marriage with Thomas W. Smith.

Bethel Hill, N. C., Sept. 22.—On Thursday September 20, as the sun was setting, at the close of a perfect day, a marriage of unusual beauty and interest was solemnized when Thomas William Smith, of Danville, Va., led to the hymeneal altar Miss Beryl Bertie Beam (the lovely and accomplished daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Beam, of Bethel Hill, N. C.)

Interested friends and relatives of this popular young couple filled to its utmost seating capacity, the church, which had been artistically and elaborately decorated for the occasion by loving hands under the direction and skill of Mrs. Sarah Fontaine Sampson, and Mrs. W. A. Woody. The color scheme of yellow and white on a background of evergreens was very effective, while many lights, softly shaded, shed a tender radiance over the fairy like scene.

The ceremony took place on a raised platform carpeted in white with a background of evergreens banked with ferns and potted plants, golden-rod and chrysanthemums. Near the center a double arch was erected from which hung a large evergreen heart, surrounded by a border of yellow chrysanthemums. In the center of this heart were two white turtle doves with outstretched wings holding in their beaks the entwined letters S. and B. Under the evergreen arches at the end of the two aisles were white gates fastened with wide, white ribbons, separating the bridal scene from the main part of the church. There were opened and held by the active ushers, Cooper A. Hall, of Woodstock, N. C., Clyde Woody, of Denniston, Va., while down one of the white carpeted aisles came the officiating minister, Rev. J. E. Hicks, D. D., of Danville, with one honorary usher, Bruce Masten, of Greensboro, N. C., and down to the opposite aisle with the honorary usher, F. L. Woody of Denniston, Va., came the bride's mother, Mrs. J. A. Beam, gowned in black chiffon over velvet and carrying a bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaids, all wearing white picture hats, and carrying bouquets of yellow roses were Miss Janie Reynolds, of Danville, gowned in white chiffon, over yellow messaline, Miss Irene Woody, of Denniston, in white net over white taffeta; Miss Lena Bailey, of Woodstock, in white chiffon over cream satin and Miss Pearl Reynolds of Danville, in pink chiffon over green messaline.

The groomsmen all in full evening dress, were R. Bruce Woody, of Bethel Hill; C. F. Reynolds, of Danville, and the brothers of the bride, G. M. Beam, of Louisburg, and H. M. Beam, of New York.

Mrs. P. H. Fontaine presided at the organ and as the thrilling tones of Mendelssohn's Wedding March pealed forth, down one aisle came two bridesmaids, who passed just outside to the rear of the double arch, meeting two groomsmen, who had come down the other aisle to the opposite side and, one at a time, alternately crossed under the arch to the front, taking positions on either side. These were followed by the two other bridesmaids and groomsmen, who likewise came down opposite aisles, and passed under the arch from the rear to positions on either side, all forming a double semi-circle.

Then came the groom with his best man, I. Thurston Bendall, of Danville, who took their places at the side of the double arch and awaited the approach of the bride, who was preceded by her sister and maid of honor, Miss Gladys Beam, gowned in white silk net over cream satin, wearing a picture hat of white velvet, and carrying a bouquet of pink roses. Scattering white and yellow rose petals, came the little flower girls, Miss Lucy Ranes and Miss Annie Lourie Joyner, dressed in white organ-dy, with yellow ribbons.

Then leaning on the arm of her father, Rev. J. A. Beam, came the beautiful bride, carrying a lovely bouquet of bride's roses and wearing an exquisite gown of white satin, with pearl ornaments, long train, and veil, with wreath of orange blossoms, the train being carried by the pages, little Miss Elizabeth Fontaine, and Master Ruffin Woody, both dressed in pure white.

At the double arch the bride's father gave her to the groom and took his stand by Dr. Hicks, the groom's pastor, who in a beautiful and impressive ceremony pronounced them husband and wife, following which her father led in a tender and touching prayer, imparting his blessing with a loving kiss and fond embrace.

Visitors from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Masten of Greensboro, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith, Mrs. N. M. Norton, and Frank Bendall, of Danville. Just before the ceremony these with all who took part in the wedding were guests at a buffet luncheon, given by the bride's parents.

While friends were viewing the numerous presents of cut-glass, china, silver, rugs and other valuable gifts the bride donned her traveling suit of midnight blue broadcloth, trimmed with wide bands of fur, and velvet hat to match and with the groom left in an automobile for Danville, where they boarded the midnight train for New York and other northern points.

The groom is a popular and efficient young man in the business life of Danville and holds a responsible position with the Export Tobacco company. He has a splendid voice and has for a number of years been the leading tenor of the First Baptist church.

The bride is a young woman of fine culture and rare charm of personality. She is a graduate of Roanoke College of Danville, Va., where she made a splendid literary and musical record. Since her graduation she has made an enviable reputation as a teacher of music.

After their extended honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Danville, where they both have hosts of friends.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out root and all, without pain. A small bottle of freezezone cost very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

MR. ROGERS WRITES SCHOOL CHILDREN

Gives the School Children of Person County a Short Sketch of Life at Fort Oglethorpe.

FIVE MILES TRENCHES

Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. Sept. 23, 1917.

Dear School Children:

If the editor of the Courier will permit, I would like to give to the school children of Person county a short sketch of life at Fort Oglethorpe. I have chosen you young people who are in school, not because I have any spite against you at all, but because I have spent my life among you up to the present, and I do not know how to talk to any one else.

I always thought I was a pretty good disciplinarian until I came here. But I have found out that I did not know how to keep order at all. In the army there is but one thing expected of recruits, and that is obedience. And I do not have to obey as the majority of you young people have to obey. You are very often allowed to take the privilege of saying what you think before any decision is reached. Here an officer tells us what he thinks of us, and we are not allowed to make any answer to him. To make an answer would mean a sentence in the guard house. The wise keep silent, no matter how unjust we think the decision is. There is nothing else, to do.

I wonder how many of you do not like certain articles of food. I remember several of you who have said you did not eat certain things. If you wish to learn to eat anything, come here. I never ate cabbage, turnips, veal, garden peas, parsnips, and several dishes before I came here. I not only eat those same things now but I am glad to get them. A few days past I ate cabbage out of a soldiers' kit that had not been washed since the last meal, and that was one of the best meals I ever ate. After all, it isn't the food that is not good. All the trouble is with us. We just are not hungry.

My greatest hardship here is in dressing. I have to get up at 5:15, and at 5:25 I have to answer roll call. I have only ten minutes in which to dress, and it is no easy task to put on a soldier's togs in ten minutes. I would ordinarily get up early to allow myself ample time, but here we cannot get up until reveille, at 5:15. A soldier must not waste time.

Our work is much tobacco than the work in the first Reserve Officers' Training Camp. We have already covered in four weeks what the first camp covered in two months. Those who cannot keep the pace set must drop out. I am expecting a permanent leave of absence soon, for the pace is terrific. We work from 5:15 in the morning till nine at night. One of our Lieutenants said to one of the candidates who appeared to be lagging: "Why worry, you have from 12:15 until one to do as you please." He was about correct in this, except that about half the time we are called out to do something during that fifteen minutes.

The work last week was the most interesting that we have had, for it looked like the real thing. We dug trenches for the first three days of the week. You may get some idea of the trenches when I tell you that there are about five miles of these trenches, and that they cost Uncle Sam $75,000 to have them dug and equipped. They had telephones and regular telephone operators, dugouts, and everything that a modern trench has, except electric lights. On Friday morning my battalion went into the trenches and fought the enemy for twenty-four hours. The enemy was another battalion from this fort. The battle seemed real when about a hundred guns were roaring at once. We used the regular army rifle with blank, .30 calibre-shells. Those of you who have never had as good a time as you would like to have, try shooting all night and all day in a drizzling rain. It is great.

Perhaps I shall tell you at some other time of a few of my miss steps, as a friend in the first camp so appropriately named them.

W. M. ROGERS.

WHAT'S THE REASON?

Many Roxboro People in Poor Health Without Knowing the Cause.

There are scores of people who drag out a miserable existence without realizing the cause of their suffering. Day after day they are racked with backache and headaches; suffer from nervousness, dizziness, weakness, languor and depression. Perhaps the kidneys have fallen behind in their work or filtering the blood and that may be the root of the trouble. Look to your kidneys—assist them in their work—give them the help they need. You can use no more highly recommended remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills.

Below is grateful testimony from a sufferer in this locality.

Mrs. D. E. Pursell, 124 N. Salisbury street, Raleigh, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a family medicine in our home. When I have trouble from kidney disorder, a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills never fail to give me quick relief. I have always found this medicine just the thing for backache."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Pursell uses. Foster-Milburn Co., Preps., Buffalo, N. Y.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials, free.

Helps Sick Women Cardui, the woman's tonic, helped Mrs. William Eversole, of Hazlet Patch, Ky. Read what she writes: "I had a general breaking-down of my health. I was in bed for weeks, unable to get up. I had such a weakness and dizziness, and the pains were very severe. A friend told me I had tried everything else, why not Cardui? ... I did, and soon saw it was helping me. After 12 bottles, I am strong and well."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic Do you feel weak, dizzy, worn-out? Is your lack of good health caused from any of the complaints so common to women? Then why not give Cardui a trial? It should surely do for you what it has done for so many thousands of other women who suffered—it should help you back to health. Ask some lady friend who has taken Cardui. She will tell you how it helped her. Try Cardui. All Druggists
