Prices Down
CALORIC
PIPELESS FURNACE

Radical price reduction puts the cost of a Caloric so low that no family with a home to heat can afford to be without this modern heating plant.

At the new low prices the Caloric costs less than stoves necessary to heat the building.
 Costs less than a good piano.
 Costs less than a good home water system.
 Costs less than twice the price of a good washing machine.
 Costs less than twice the price of a phonograph.

Order a Caloric now because it is the greatest comfort and convenience you can have in your home. Because it protects the family's health and thereby the family's pocketbook. Because it pays every dollar of its cost in the fuel it saves.

Order now because prices cannot be lower—and by ordering now you will enjoy the comfort and save a good percentage of its cost this winter.

Do not delay. Winter is here in earnest. Every blizzard is an argument for Caloric comfort now. You take no risk. Our guarantee—your satisfaction or money back.

NATURE'S OWN METHOD OF PROTECTION

ONLY one method that gives absolute protection in burial has ever been discovered. This is the "diving bell" idea—based on a natural law that the air within an inverted vessel keeps out all water. A child proves this principle by placing an inverted glass in a pan of water.

This principle has been utilized in the Clark-Grave Vault and made permanent by the use of twelve gauge Keystone copper-bearing steel which positively resists rust and corrosion and will not leak. (Stone, brick and concrete vaults allow water to seep in, and act as a basin to hold it.) Over a period of twenty years the Clark-Grave Vault has proved this principle by completely satisfactory results in all climates and soils.

Civilization demands absolute protection

Supplying the Clark-Grave Vault is in accord with our policy of rendering the most valuable service.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 22
JESUS TEMPTED

LESSON TEXT—LUKE 4:1-13
GOLDEN TEXT—For in that He Himself hath suffered being tempted, He is able to succor them that are tempted.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—MAT. 4:1-13; HEB. 2:14-18; 4:14-15
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Overcomes Temptation.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Tempted to Do Wrong.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Overcoming Temptation.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Christ's Victory Means to Us.

I. The Place of (v. 1).
 The wilderness of Judea. The first man, Adam, was tempted in a garden with the most pleasant surroundings. The second man, Jesus Christ, was tempted in a barren wilderness surrounded by wild beasts (Mark 1:13).

II. The Purpose of (v. 1). He was led into a wilderness by the Spirit. Christ's temptation was Messianic. Though He was "tempted in all points like as we are," we are not tempted as He was in this instance, but the same methods are employed on us. During the eighteen years of retirement Satan surely tempted Christ as he tempts us. Satan, no doubt, would have gladly escaped this hour, but the time had come for the Redeemer to enter upon His mediatorial work; therefore He went from the place of anointing and heavenly recognition as the Son of God to meet and despoil the arch enemy (Heb. 2:14).

1. It was not a preparation for His work, but rather its first conflict. In baptism we have the symbolic act of dedication of himself to the work of redemption through the cross—the making full a righteousness. In the temptation, the strong man is spoiling the enemy.

2. It was not to see if Christ would stand fast—would fall under the most crucial test. Christ could not fall. To so postulate would make God's scheme of redemption to have been unsettled until after this temptation, and would have made God guilty of setting forth a scheme of redemption on the basis of a possible overthrow.

3. It was to show Christ as an object upon which we may rest our faith with unshaken confidence. He came as the second Man, the head of a new race, its very source and life. It was a demonstration of the inseparableness of the divine and human natures in the incarnation.

III. The Method of (vv. 2-12).
 Christ as the world's Redeemer sustained a threefold relation—Son of Man; Son of God; and Messiah, therefore Satan made each one a ground of attack.

1. As Son of Man (vv. 2-4). Satan made his first assault upon Him as a man by appealing to the instinct of hunger. Satan urged Him to use His divine power and convert a stone into bread. Hunger is natural and sinless. The temptation was in satisfying a right hunger in a wrong way. To have yielded in this case would have been to renounce the human limitations which He had taken for our sakes. To use divine power to satisfy human needs would have been to fail as Saviour and Redeemer.

2. As Messiah (vv. 5-8). Here the temptation was to grasp His rightful dominion by false means. The devil offered to surrender unto Him the world if He would worship him. The force of this temptation was in the fact that the kingdoms of the world are Christ's by God's covenant with Him; God's method by which Jesus was to possess the world was the cross. The temptation Satan is pressing upon the church today is to get possession of the world by other means than the cross.

3. As Son of God (vv. 9-12). Here Satan tries to induce Christ to presume upon God's care. He quotes a Messianic Psalm to induce Him to so act. To do the spectacular thing in order to get notice is to fall into Satan's temptation. For Jesus to have placed himself in danger in order to get God's special help in delivering Him would have been to sin. To put one's self in moral and spiritual peril in order to test God's faithfulness is to sin. Satan is never quite so dangerous as when he quotes Scripture.

IV. Christ's Defense (vv. 4, 8, 12).
 It was the Word of God. He met and repulsed the enemy with "It is written." Our defense is God's Word. May every Sunday school teacher know how to use it!

V. The Issue (v. 13).
 Satan is vanquished. If we will but trust God and use His Word we too can overcome.

Superior and Inferior.
 -You may fall to shame in the opinion of others, both in your conversation and actions, from being superior, as well as inferior to them.—Greville.

Faith.
 Now faith is the substance of things to be hoped for, the evidence of things that appear not.—Hebrews 11:1.

The Lord's Day.
 Ye shall keep my Sabbaths and reverence my sanctuary; I am the Lord.—Leviticus 19:30.

THE PARADISE FISH

"We're very popular in the aquarium," said Mr. Paradise Fish to Mrs. Paradise Fish.
 "Yes, they seem to like us," said Mrs. Paradise Fish.
 "And they say nice things about us, too," said Mr. Paradise Fish.
 "It is not kind to keep pleasant thoughts to one's self. Now, of course, as a fish I cannot go about explaining everything I think and feel, but I show what I enjoy the best way I can."
 "I show that I enjoy my food. I show that I am a bright fish."
 "Oh yes, I show what I can so as to let others know when I am enjoying myself."
 "For example they all know that I will eat anything a gold fish will eat and that my desires in the way of food are not hard to follow."
 "To be sure I do not take little bites of food. But then why speak of my table manners?"
 "I never sit at a table and so I am not supposed to have table manners."
 "And anyway I may take big bites, but I have pretty nice manners."
 "Yes, my aquarium manners are very good."
 "I can change my color. From being a brown fish with handsome stripes I can change into lovely shades of red and blue and green."
 "Good food, or different kinds of food, happiness, excitement, pleasure will make me turn a pretty shade."
 "That is why I am called a paradise fish, I suppose, because of my lovely coloring and beauty."
 "I can breathe the air, too, though I do not climb up out of the water as the climbing perch does when he is about to take some air."
 "Mr. Climbing Perch's fins are such that he can climb upon the land."
 "Mine are not like that."
 "My family live in Asia and Africa and they eat flies and insects while they live in swamps."
 "Now just because I am beautiful is no reason why I should not be healthy."
 "And I am a healthy fish, too."
 "I don't see why I should make everyone fuss over me just because I am beautiful—I'm not delicate and I am not going to pretend to be delicate."
 "Ah yes, I think I've told pretty nearly all about myself as I've been asked to do. And I must tell about the little ones, too."
 "Of course, you must," said Mrs. Paradise Fish. "And all that you have said about yourself is true, but you haven't told about the nest building."
 "That is most interesting to those who do not know our ways. I've heard many a person speak of our

"You're a Nice Fish."

nests and of the way we build them as being most interesting.
 "The aquarium people love the way we do this."
 "Oh yes," said Mr. Paradise Fish. "I will explain."
 "Well, first of all I blow a bubble nest at the top of the water and attach it to floating plant."
 "Then you come under the nest and you put the eggs down and they rise right into the nest!"
 "And you wear such a pretty white costume when you are looking after them. I guard the eggs carefully too, and I keep the nest in perfect condition, but when the little ones are old enough to swim you have to take them away from me for I may eat them up in my hunger."
 "Yes," said Mrs. Paradise Fish. "It is so strange that after you have done everything to protect and care for the little eggs, and have gone without food so as to be on constant watch, that you will then turn around and eat the ones you have sacrificed so much for."
 "Yes, it is curious."
 "But then of course we are not perfect. Sometimes Paradise Fishes may be cross with one another and greedy about their food, even shoving their neighbor away."
 "Well on the whole we do pretty well. Now there is Mr. Gourami Fish. He will kill his mate in his excitement over guarding the eggs."
 "Oh, I've no complaint to make," said Mrs. Paradise Fish. "To me you're a nice fish; yes, a very nice fish, indeed."
