On last Thursday Roxboro had the pleasure of having within its gates three newspaper men who have made good in the newspaper world, namely, Messrs. E. T. Rollins, W. N. Keener and C. C. Council, president, editor and secretary of the Durham Herald Publishing Company respectively. These men are close observers and we say truthfully there is no stronger editorial page found in the State than that of the Herald. After an evening spent in this good town Editor Keener went home and proceeded to tell of Roxboro as it impressed him. Read the article, it is published on the front page of this issue, and see how "others see us." While his remarks are very complimentary, they are true, for our besetting sin has been that we were too modest to let the outside world know what we were doing. But that day is passed, and now with our wide-awake Chamber of Commerce the world will learn more of Roxboro and having learned more will begin to take us at our true value. Our hats are off to Editor Keener for this splendid advertisement.

That is a splendid tribute to Superintendent Beam and his good wife which we are publishing elsewhere. It was indeed, a fortunate day when Rev. J. A. Beam decided to cast his lot in this good County, for he has been a force for righteousness and progressiveness from the very first day he landed here. With his splendid helpmeet, Mrs. Mollie Beam, he has accomplished the almost impossible and has been largely instrumental in bringing this County from near the bottom to almost the top round educationally. During all these years he has been one of our closest and most valued friends and we take pleasure in telling to the world some of his good works.

The time for a place for the farmers to gather and sell their produce has about passed for this season, but we sincerely hope ere another season approaches that somewhere will be found where they can come in and dispose of their surplus vegetables, fruits, veg. and beef and pork. Many a bushel of apples and other fruits go to waste in this County simply because the farmer is too proud and we glory in his pride, to take it to town and then peddle it from house to house. This matter is of too much importance to allow to sleep.

Some of us are not particularly fond of some of the ways of our Governor, but you will have to hand it to him for being progressive. He does not follow the old beaten paths but blazes the way for new things, his latest being the idea of establishing a boat line to the towns of Eastern Carolina. To we dry-landers the scheme looks somewhat like a fairy tale, but here's hoping Governor Morris will be able to put it across and thus be instrumental in building up a city worth while in the Old North State.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DEPARTMENT

Here's the Record for five weeks.

Starting without an office, on the sidewalk, you might say, without a stenographer or even a typewriter, with some debts and no cash, while the average chamber of commerce has an established place of business office equipment and a clerical force

Getting temporary quarters through the kindness and public spirit of certain citizens, borrowing a typewriter, getting stationary printed, buying a typewriter and operating it on one box and using another for a desk. Getting out the statements for the months of September and October, opening the books, organizing the office, getting acquainted, analyzing the conditions, collecting dues having conferences, awaiting delayed mail, etc., etc., until NOW

WE ARE IN THE SADDLE! Out of 224 subscriptions all but about a baker's dozen have paid September and October dues and about nine of those will do so, leaving about three whose vision does not take in a chamber of commerce. They will by and by. Against that, we have three new members.

But think of 221 out of 224! All live-wire, enthusiastic boosters, the kind who do things! No wonder a Durham paper saw fit to commend our town in its Sunday editorial; although it did not know this, it knows Roxboro people.

Besides that, we have had installed a telephone, complete furniture, a young lady stenographer, made plans for almost a year's work, and spent a week to good advantage, as previously related, securing much-needed accommodations.

We are not boasting, but we are happy to be this far established.

NOW, another month, November, has arrived, and statements for dues have been mailed every member. You have promised—and given so far—your cooperation. We ask you to go one step farther and mail or bring in your checks promptly. It will cost you ONE CENT in a drop letter to mail it, but will cost your community a lot in time if your Chamber of Commerce has to stop work while the Secretary goes for it. If you are one of those still due for September and October we urge your further cooperation to the extent of paying to date.

Now, let's all pull together for Roxboro.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Timberlake of Helena, N. C., were painfully, if not seriously, injured last Sunday night. From the information we get they were on their way home from church when a car driven by Ed Wilson ran over them, breaking Mrs. Timberlake's arms and otherwise bruising her body, while Mr. Timberlake was knocked down and badly bruised about the body. Mrs. Timberlake it is feared is in a serious condition.

The driver of the car, Ed Wilson, had been causing trouble around Helena during the day and is said to have been intoxicated. And besides this charge was driving his car without a light, and exceeding the speed limit. After the accident he did not stop, but was soon arrested and at a preliminary hearing before Squire Newton the case was continued until December 5th, the defendant bound over under a ten thousand dollar bond. Failing to give bond he was carried to Durham County jail for safe keeping.

DELIVERIES GOOD AT THE CO-OPS

More and More Being Delivered Daily at the Co-operative Houses.

At the beginning the farmers who were selling on the open market seemed to be more anxious to sell than the farmer selling the new way, but the Association members are delivering more freely now and thousands and thousands of pounds are daily being delivered at the Co-operative houses here. One of the good things with the Co-operatives is that the price does not change and there is no necessity for hurrying it on the market. The price is fixed and every one knows just what his advances will be as soon as his load is graded. The laugh now is on the Association men, for they only receive a small portion compared to the open sale, but in a few months the money received by the open sale man will be gone, and then when the Co-ops receive his second and third payment it will have money and can laugh at his open sale friend.

SOCIAL NEWS.

Mrs. R. L. Wilburn delightfully entertained the Research Club on Tuesday afternoon. The lesson of the hour was Yellowstone National Park. Mrs. A. S. deVlaming was leader, while Mrs. T. E. Austin read several selections. The quotations were from Edgar A. Guest. After the lesson Mrs. Wilburn served a delightful salad course with after dinner coffee. The members present were Mesdames W. O. Sample, J. B. Hurley, H. S. Morton, W. T. Pass, E. P. Dunlap, A. M. Burns, A. S. deVlaming, S. G. Winstead, B. G. Clayton, J. J. Winstead, L. M. Carlton, W. C. Bullock, T. E. Austin and Mrs. Biting of Durham, house guest of Mrs. Wilburn.

Mrs. L. C. Bradsher entertained at her attractive new log bungalow Tuesday evening. Gorgeous white chrysanthemums formed a pretty decoration and the Halloween idea was effectively carried out in the talley cards and favors. Rook was the game for the afternoon, at the conclusion of which a delightful salad course, with coffee and whipped cream, was served. Mrs. Bradsher was assisted by her two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Atkins, of Durham and Miss Dorothy Younger in entertaining her guests. Those present were: Mesdames Hugh Woods, E. D. Morton, W. D. Merritt, B. G. Clayton, G. W. Thomas, A. M. Burns, J. D. K. Richmond, Connor Merritt, Bryan Barnett, E. E. Thomas, Bruce Newell, Frank Wilson, Joe Blanks, Arch Jones, J. L. Atkins, Wheeler Newell, Misses Mary Lee Crowell, Kate Newton, Ruth Newton, Evie Long, Elizabeth Noell, Sue Bradsher, Edna Bradsher, Sue Merritt and Dorothy Younger.

DEATH OF MRS. DIXON.

It was a great shock to the friends of Mrs. J. W. Dixon when they heard last Saturday morning that she had died at Watt's Hospital in Durham the night before. About a week before Mrs. Dixon picked a small pimple on her face, which became inflamed and continued to spread. She was carried to the hospital last Wednesday morning, death resulting as above stated. Her body was brought here on Saturday evening and the funeral services held at the home on Sunday evening, burial taking place at Leasburg.

Mrs. Dixon was indeed a beautiful character, a devout Christian and a faithful and valued member of the Edgar Long Memorial Methodist Church. She leaves husband and two sons, Jerry Warren and Jim, besides father and mother and other relatives.
