REASONS FOR INSURANCE WELL STATED.

Never in any process but that you read of the history of some automobile accident. If you are killed, named, or injured, but the newspapers will tell whether they carried life, accident or casualty insurance, or whether the cars in which they were riding were insured by others.

If the Goshen, Va. merchant whose truck ran into an automobile filled with people, had carried a policy with full coverage against collision, damage, fire and other accidents, he would not have lost his store, his home, the accumulations of a life time, and still been left hopelessly in debt through a court decree for damages.

It is almost a daily occurrence that you read of some home, store, factory or business home being destroyed. If the owners carried insurance they were able to rebuild. You know the man who lost his home and contents, and through neglect, or a mistaken idea that he was not able to carry insurance, was forced to take his family into a rented house, furnished on the installment plan—or with "gifts" from neighbors. It is better to have insurance and not need it than to need it and not have it.

For a hundred years North Carolinians have been sending their money to Northern insurance companies for life insurance. Now most of them are keeping their premium money at home spending it with the largest and most progressive company in the entire South—a North Carolina company. You will find a representative of that company in Roxboro, handling general insurance, surety bonds, etc. This agency is both "Old and Tried" with one of your best friends and neighbors in charge, ready to aid you year in and year out.

Name this agency, name the manager, and give the name of the home—State Life Insurance company represented. Give Phone Number.

SPINE IS THE SOURCE OF HUMAN ILLNESS.

It has been scientifically determined that the greatest injury to the nervous system takes place in the spine because the nerves that supply every part of the body branch off from the spinal cord. Between the joints of the spine, and when some of these joints are slightly displaced (subluxated) they pinch the nerves that emit between them, thus preventing the full expression of life, because a pinched nerve can no more transmit a full current of mental impulse or life than a kink in a hose will permit the full force of water to pass through.

The science of adjusting these subluxations in the spine with the bare hands, to release the pent-up energy has been demonstrated in many thousands of cases of illness pronounced incurable.

Nature is the great healer and builder, but the science removes the obstruction—the cause of the disease, so that nature may be fully expressed, and that is why we say this science gets you well.

TOBACCO SELLING HIGH AT AUCTION IN ROXBORO

Talk never gets you anywhere unless backed up by reason, facts and judgment.

Just so long as the farmer is receiving as high prices for tobacco as now he is perfectly satisfied, and that is exactly how farmers feel who are selling their crops at auction on the Roxboro market.

One tobacco grower averaged over $58 for his crop. Two piles brought $80 and one pile $82. One lot of 338 lbs. brought $77 per hundred. One single load brought over $1600. The same grower, realized over $4,000 for three loads. Another farmer sold 48 pounds for $48 on this market. Of course these prices are exceptional and it takes exceptional tobacco to bring such figures, but the general average maintained by Roxboro's only auction warehouse is sufficiently high to send the farmers home with broad smiles and glad hearts.

The breaks are getting larger every day. Just ask your neighbor who has sold tobacco this year at Roxboro's new tobacco warehouse and get the facts from him.

One farmer who sold at auction declared he could now go home meet his creditors, settle his account, rest easy and sleep in peace without being worried to death over his unpaid bills.
