

DEATH OF HENRY CLAYTON.

Henry Clayton was the son of Mr. C. F. Clayton, a former citizen of Roxboro. He spent the best of his younger days here and the people generally will sympathize with him in this sad hour. The following notice was clipped from the Tarboro Southerner:

Young Henry Clayton, of only sixteen summers, died this morning at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Clayton, after an illness of two weeks.

Young Henry was a sweet affable child and beloved by all his playmates and his untimely death has cast a gloom over the young people of Tarboro.

His quiet, gentle manners made him a favorite here, and his bright cheerful face will be missed by all.

He was taken sick just a week or two ago, and it was hoped for the first few days of his sickness that he would recover, but the disease that caused his death proved fatal this morning and the young boy passed over to the beyond.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday morning from Calvary church at 10:30 o'clock.

DEATH OF LITTLE INEZ KING.

The death angel came to Mr. and Mrs. John King's home on Wednesday, Sept. 12th and took from them their darling baby, Inez. God saw fit to take their darling baby, but weep not for little Inez, for God knoweth best. Live in hopes of meeting her in Heaven. They did all loving hands could do for her but nothing could keep her when God saw fit to take her. She leaves to mourn her loss father, mother, three sisters, five brothers and lots of friends.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Martin and the body laid to rest in the family burying grounds.—Ethel K.

LETTER FROM

REV. J. H. NICHOLS.

Editor Courier:

Will you please give me space in your good paper to let my Person County friends know about the week's revival I have just closed at my home community school house. When I was a boy we had one of the strongest Sunday Schools in the County. It was an evergreen, and was run by all denominations, and by the name of Union Sunday School. There was never a contest put on that our school failed to take off the prize. We had one of the best singing classes in the state, with some of the most loyal teachers this side of the Kingdom. They were there rain or shine.

It is a great inspiration to me to think of those earnest teachers who instructed us, and we were so anxious to be there, and I have seen the house packed like sardines. Out of this good number there were 18 who gave their hearts to God during a revival 18 years ago. My two sisters and myself were in the number. I have been praying ever since that I might have the privilege of showing my appreciation for those Godly men and women who have been called to rest.

Coming back home after the death of my father I found the Sunday School dead and buried with its face downward, never to be resurrected, some said. I have spent my time holding services in isolated communities. Trusting in God, with a prayer on my heart that God would use me in bringing the lost sheep into the fold. He heard and answered my prayers. There were 7 souls who professed faith in Jesus Christ, and the Christians renewed their covenant with a determination that they would run the Sunday School in the good old fashioned way. I have more calls than I can fill to come and hold revivals. I give God the glory for the success of my work. I held out a crucified Saviour who was able to save sinners from their sins. If you accept Him and follow Him you are saved, if you reject Him you are lost.—J. H. Nichols, Baxter, Tenn.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. VIRGINIA MONTAGUE

Mrs. Montague was the youngest daughter of the late Drewry Allen, of Roxboro. She was born February 26, 1839. She had a unique experience in that she lived at her birthplace in the Allensville community all her life of eighty-four years.

In 1871 she was married to the late Rev. Edwin J. Montague. For twenty-eight years she was the companion of that godly man, they living and laboring together in the Master's work. He departed this life just twenty-four years and 7 days before she followed him.

Sister Montague followed her Lord in baptism years ago. She was a member of Mill Creek, then of Snow Hill—which no longer exists, and then of Rock Grove, where she remained until her death.

The funeral service was conducted by the writer, her pastor, at the home on Sunday afternoon July 2. The service was attended by an unusually large crowd of neighbors, friends, and relatives who came to see the remains laid in the last resting place in the family cemetery.

In that service the bereaved ones were reminded of three facts with which to comfort themselves. The first of these is the fact that she had lived a life worthy of praise and remembrance. The second is expressed in the words of the Master when He said, "I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you I will come again and receive you unto myself that where I am there ye may be also." The third of these facts is found expressed in the words of Jacob to Joseph, "Behold I die: but God shall be with you."

The deceased left several children and grandchildren. The children are as follows: Mrs. O. D. Bailey, of Woodsdale; Mrs. Mary E. Chapell, of Raleigh; Mrs. J. T. Blanks, of Roxboro; Mrs. S. G. Loy, of Hurdle Mills; Miss Rosa E. Montague and Mr. J. E. Montague, of Roxboro. Joe B. Currin.

RENEWED TESTIMONY

No one in Roxboro who suffers headaches or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Roxboro man's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Roxboro resident can doubt.

Charlie Morris, says: "I had severe pains in the small of my back and my kidneys acted irregularly. I had to get up often at night to pass the kidney secretions and I often had headaches and dizzy spells when black spots danced before my eyes. I was always tired and languid and when a friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills I procured some and used them. The pains left my back and my kidneys were regulated. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me a cure." (Statement given July 3, 1918).

On December 13, 1920, Mr. Morris said: "Doan's cured me of an attack of kidney trouble and when I feel the least bit of trouble now a few Doan's always fix me up in A-1 shape." 60c, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

A SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Whitfield gave a surprise dinner to their mother on her sixtieth birthday Sunday, September 16th, 1923. There were present 8 children and 19 grandchildren. Those present was as follows: Mrs. Jess Brooks and 7 children Mrs. Herbert Long and 6 children Mrs. Elizabeth Webster and 4 children; Mrs. Boyd Horton and 1 child and Mr. Frank Whitfield and 1 child. The single children were Miss Onie and Mess. Robert and Jasper. Besides these a large number of relatives and friends also enjoyed the occasion. Mrs. Whitfield received many beautiful and useful presents.

OLIVE HILL HIGH SCHOOL OPENED.

The fall session of the Olive Hill High School began Wednesday, Sept. 12th. On Tuesday afternoon a number of parents, teachers and pupils met at the school to put the building in readiness for the opening. Owing to the lateness of the crop, the enrollment Wednesday was smaller than usual, but on the following Monday the number was materially increased. Mr. Beam was present with an unusually inspiring talk. It was a pleasure to welcome the parents and friends who dropped in for the occasion.

The following teachers constitute the Olive Hill faculty this year: Miss Helen Graves, Principal, high school history and math. Miss Ella Thompson, high school English and Latin. Mrs. B. B. Mangum, 6th and 7th grades. Miss Elizabeth Collins, 5th grade. Miss Lois Hayes, 3rd and 4th grades. Miss Mabel Stephens, 1st and 2nd grades.

There is an atmosphere of serious purpose among the students and teachers at Olive Hill, and a day lost means more than is commonly realized. All parents in the district whose children are not yet in school are urged to enter them the first possible day.

RELIEF FOR SUFFERERS IN JAPAN.

A committee waited on the business firms of the town the first of the week, but did not make a close call. Any one who desires to help in this worthy cause are asked to hand their donations to Mr. Robert P. Burns.

"STANDARD"
The Balanced Gasoline

You can't dodge it

—the principle of balance. It is universal. From the beginning of time, practically everything that man has invented has afterwards been improved by getting a finer balance of parts or constituents. That is the way we have improved gasoline and the performance that it will give. A certain proportion of low-boiling constituents for better, quick, surer starting. A certain proportion of high-boiling constituents for better power and mileage. A certain proportion of intermediate constituents for better acceleration and snappier pick-up. That is what "Standard" has. The proportion, or balance, is everything. "Standard" has it. It is the better gasoline—all ways.
