A REMINDER.

In another column will be found an article headed "A Reminder," from Mr. Sam P. Jones. He is calling upon the American Legion boys to erect a monument of memorial to the boys who made the supreme sacrifice. We heartily agree with Mr. Jones, but there are many ways whereby a memorial may be erected. Too many get the idea that the only way to erect a memorial is to erect a monument. This is an error, and we are strongly of the opinion that too much money is wasted in monuments which might be put to some useful purpose and at the same time be just as truly a memorial. The Legion boys are making an effort to erect here a building which is to be a memorial to all of the boys who failed to return, and in this we are in hearty sympathy. The building will be of material worth to the living, and will be just as much a memorial as if that amount of money had been invested in a monument reaching up towards the skies.

The building will probably be called the Lester Blackwell building and will have a tablet in a prominent place giving the name of every soldier boy who made that supreme sacrifice, and why will that not be truly a memorial to the boys whom we all love to honor. Yes, we agree with Mr. Jones and sincerely hope the Legion will go ahead and push to completion this work they are now engaged in.

THE PRIMARY.

For weeks the two candidates for the nomination of Governor have been speaking to the citizens of the State, going into almost every county in the State, though neither of the candidates visited this county. While the fight was good natured in this County, both sides left no stone unturned which might help his candidate. The lawyers of the town lined up almost solid for McLean, but the vote in the town was close, only a difference of about twenty two in favor of McLean. In the country districts the farmers voted for Bailey, two of the precincts giving him every vote cast. This was not unexpected, as Bailey promised relief from the unjust taxes they are now paying on lands, while McLean made no promises.

Of course, the nomination is equivalent to an election, and the program as outlined will probably be carried out in the incoming administration. There is little prospect of any reduction in taxes, and little hope for an increase in funds for the country schools. The time will come when every child shall have an equal chance, but that time has not arrived and it is silly to try to fool yourself in the matter.

Dr. B. A. Thaxton is young in the political game but judging by the vote for Bailey in this County he is going to have to be reckoned with in future elections. He was chairman of the Bailey campaign and was on his job.

From all accounts the "machine" was well greased and running nicely last Saturday, but we are proud of the fact that old Person threw a monkey wrench into the cogs.

A CALL TO PATRIOTISM.

Mr. Alfred E. Stearns, Principal of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., in the course of a letter to the editor of this paper, says:

"I cannot help feeling that in some ways the challenge which confronts high-minded and patriotic American citizens today to fight for their country, is a greater and more serious one even than that which we heard during the War."

This view expressed by one of the leading educators of the country is unquestionably true. There is a call to patriotism today greater than was the call to patriotism during the War. When President Wilson called the nation to arms on the specific statement that Germany was making war upon us, he stirred the patriotism of the whole country; but the dangers then were not so great as are the dangers of today. Then the danger was from an outside enemy. Today the danger is from enemies at home. These enemies are the men and women who are violating the laws of the land, and thus doing their utmost to pull down the American flag and trample it in the mire, and the radical elements in and out of Congress who by their teachings are destroying confidence in our Constitution. Radical politicians, weak-minded parlor-Bolshevists, male and female, "long-haired men and short-haired women" as they have been called, and radical labor leaders, are combining under a flag of destruction to our Government.

Any man who attempted the physical act of hauling down and trampling the American flag during the War would have been regarded as fit only for the firing squad. But today men of high degree and men of low degree, men of wealth and men of poverty, men of education and men without education, are hauling down the American flag and trampling it beneath their feet, in effect spitting upon it as a thing of contempt. They are despising the thing for which the American flag stands, viz. obedience to law, and the high and holy purpose to recognize that Old Glory stands for patriotism and not for the breaking of every law which is contrary to the wish of the individual man who desires to disregard it.

It is, indeed, true that the danger which now confronts this country is greater than the danger of destruction by the German armies, for the country is now being stabbed in the back by men who have professed loyalty to it. And these men are preaching lawlessness. They are telling their friends, even the school boys of the day, that violation of law is a thing of which to be proud as indicating a man's independence of spirit and his refusal to obey any law which does not suit his own convenience. This spirit is growing so rapidly, and has been developing for so many years, that the men and women of this country who love this land, who want to see it saved from ruin, need to be aroused to a new sense of patriotism. And patriotism means among other things obedience to law and the upholding of laws so long as they are on the statute books. It means also that the man who violates our laws must be regarded exactly as the slacker or the deserter in war times would be regarded by his comrades in arms as well as by all patriotic people.

Let us have a new call to patriotism, a new awakening to the dangers which face us as a nation through the breaking down of law. Manufacturers Record.

ELLEN-BOYD.

On Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the home of her parents, in the presence of members of the immediate families and a few intimate friends, Miss Inez Boyd became the bride of Mr. Joseph Robert Ellen of Battleboro, N. C.

As Mrs. Clarence Boyd, at the piano, began the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March the bridal party, descending the stairs, entered the living room and took their places before an improvised altar of clematis and daisies backed with ferns and lighted by candles. First, came Rev. L. V. Coggins, pastor of the bride, who took his place just back of the altar. Next, entered the groom on the arm of his best man, Mr. Arthur Loftin of Littleton, N. C. Then, following her maid of honor, Miss Esther Boyd, sister of the bride, who wore pink canton crepe and carried pink Killarney Roses, came the bride. She was becomingly attired in a gown of grey crepe, with hat, gloves and shoes to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was met at the altar by the groom, and during the ceremony Mac Dowell's "To A Wild Rose" was softly rendered.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ellen left for a motor trip through western North Carolina, after which they will be at home to their friends near Battleboro, N. C. The guests from a distance who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reaves, Greensboro, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ellen, Battleboro, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ellen, Battleboro, N. C.; Mr. Lucian Boyd, Littleton, N. C.; Miss Sallie May Neal, Ed Oak, N. C.; Mr. Arthur Loftin, Littleton, N. C.; Mr. Alton Reid, Whitakers, N. C.; Mr. Curtis Edwards, Whitakers, N. C.

MRS. ELIZA CARVER.

Sister Eliza Carver before her marriage was Miss Eliza Gordon Lawson, and was born in Halifax county, Va., Sept. 27, 1840, and was married to Thomas Jefferson Carver of Person county March 5, 1862. To this union were born 9 children, 7 of whom are living: W. A. and H. L. Carver of Rougemont, N. C.; O. T. Carver of Durham, J. H. Carver of Roxboro, Mrs. J. R. Maynard of Salisbury, N. C., Mrs. F. O. Carver and Mrs. A. W. Clayton of Roxboro. There are 20 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren. Thomas J. Carver, the husband, died about 25 years ago.

Sister Carver was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, early in life. She loved her church and was an exemplary Christian. She was hopeful and cheerful, bearing her suffering with a smile that she might comfort others. She let her light shine, and her pathway will shine more and more unto the perfect day. Four years ago Sister Carver had a fall breaking a limb, from which she suffered much, and on account of which she was deprived of church privileges. She was always glad to have her pastor visit her and to engage in conversation that tends to enlarge spiritual life and strengthen character.

On Thursday, May 22, she quietly breathed her last and went home to be forever with the Lord. She came to the end like ripening grain. On May 23rd the funeral was conducted by her pastor, assisted by Rev. J. B. Hurley, and Rev. R. E. White of the Baptist church, and was laid to rest in the cemetery at Roxboro. Her grandsons acted as pall bearers: Gordon Carver of Durham, Arthur, Willie and Marvin Carver of Rougemont, James Carver and Winfrey Clayton of Roxboro.

May the good Lord watch over and comfort all she so tenderly loved and left behind, and may all meet where there will be no parting.

F. M. Shamburger.

FROM ALLENVILLE.

Well, our primary of June 7th is over. I shall not call it a Democratic primary for it is no longer such, or at least it was not such at Allensville, and I was in Roxboro yesterday and the good people of that place were disgusted with the way it was carried out. If Republicans are allowed to vote freely like they were at Allensville Saturday then a primary is unnecessary for it does not express the wish of the Democratic party. I have the greatest respect for the Republican who is a Republican for what his party stands for but it is very unjust and unfair for them to dictate as to who the Democrat shall vote for in the fall. Now bear in mind, our Republican judge did not approve of this procedure or take any part in same, and if the Republicans had listened to him things would have looked very different, instead of Melvin Long being eleven votes behind he would have been ahead. I have tried to make a clean fight for Mr. Long, without any dictation from him or any one else. I have not tried to hurt the feelings of any one or used the name of any one running for sheriff, except Mr. Cothran's, and was forced to do this by his own supporters. I have no ill will whatever towards Mr. Cothran, so far as I know or have ever heard he is a perfect gentleman and if had gotten the nomination I should have supported him wholeheartedly, in fact all the men who were in the running were supposed to be gentlemen and worthy of all the Democratic support they could get.—Poor Richard.

ORPHANAGE BOARD LETS CONTRACTS

The executive committee of the Methodist Orphanage here yesterday awarded the contracts for the construction of the new administration building at the institution made possible through the generosity of C. S. Vann, of Franklinton.

The contract for the building which will cost $137,500 was awarded to the Jewell-Riddle Company, of Sanford. Contracts for heating, amounting to $7,998, were made with the Charles W. Christian Company, of Charlotte, and for the plumbing at $4,640 with Coats and Company, of Charlotte. The building was designed by James A. Salter, local architect.

The new structure will be in the classic style of school architecture and will be three stories high. It will be constructed of tapestry brick with limestone trimmings. The building will be absolutely fireproof. It will contain twelve class rooms, five administrative offices, sleeping rooms for four teachers, two student dormitories, an auditorium, a library, two music rooms, domestic science, household art and lecture rooms, two science laboratories, and six toilet rooms.

The building will take the place of the Jenkins Building which has been the principal building of the orphanage plant in the past. Examination of the old building showed that it could not be made modern and fireproof without great cost. It occupied the finest site on the grounds and after consideration the executive committee decided to tear it down to make way for the new structure. Work in razing the old building will begin next week. The new building is expected to be completed by May 1.

The new building will be the center of all future development of the orphanage. The whole plan of development of the institution for years to come has been worked out by Thomas W. Sears, of Philadelphia, landscape architect. At present there are under construction on the grounds a dormitory, a refectory building, and an outdoor swimming pool. The same style of architecture will be used throughout.—News and Observer.

N. C. GETS BIG SUM FOR HIGHWAY WORK

Federal Aid for Coming Year Will Total More Than Million and Half.

Washington, June 9.—Apportionment among the states and Hawaii of $75,000,000 for Federal aid highway construction for the year beginning July 1 was announced by Secretary Wallace. Prompt apportionment of the Federal funds insures continuation of the work without interruption. Of the 170,000 mile Federal aid highway system, 60,000 miles have been surfaced and 8,700 miles graded, leaving 110,000 miles to be surfaced which will require an annual program of 11,000 miles to be completed by 1934.

The apportionment of the 1925 funds for Southern states includes: Alabama, $1,542,052; Arkansas, $1,258,857; Florida, $887,836; Georgia, $1,087,022; Louisiana, $965,301; Mississippi, $1,294,371; Missouri, $2,423,485; North Carolina, $1,497,246; Oklahoma, $1,753,189; South Carolina, $1,061,026; Tennessee, $1,025,740; Texas, $4,410,169; Virginia, $1,445,562.

The story of all the great fortunes is about the same. Someone began by banking the FIRST DOLLAR and he kept it up and prospered.

There are just as many opportunities today, in fact there are more, but you cannot grasp them until you have the money.

Start a bank account with us—one dollar will do it—and each pay day put in all you can spare. It won't be long until you will be proud of your balance.

Come in. We will welcome your account.
