PERSON COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

The following pupils stood the 7th grade examination and either received P. or C., which means Passed or Conditioned. Those who took the examination but failed are not mentioned. All the papers were examined and graded by their teachers and the superintendent. The examination grade counted for one third and the daily grade for two thirds. If on no subject the daily grade and the examination grade fell below 70 the pupil was allowed to pass, and a P follows his name. If the pupil passed on the most of the subjects, but failed on others he was conditioned and given a C.

SIMPSON—O'BRIANT

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized on Saturday June 6th at 8:30 P. M. in the Methodist Church at Hurdle Mills, when Miss Omar O'Briant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tuggle O'Briant, became the bride of Mr. Haywood Giles Simpson of Chatham, Va.

The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and roses used in profusion. A background of evergreens banked with roses and sweet peas was prettily arranged, while large baskets of sweet peas and pink roses tied with bows of white tulle were placed on each side of the altar. Prior to the wedding a lovely musical program consisting of several selected songs were played by Miss Foy Lawson, accompanied by J. W. Chaney violinist of Chatham, Va. Mrs. George Lougee of Durham sang "Ove's Garden of Roses" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told." Rev. L. V. Coggins, pastor of the bride, assisted by Rev. Merritt of the Methodist Church, officiated. The ushers were: N. T. Williams, Ira O'Briant, Walter O'Briant, and Paul O'Briant. The four bridesmaids were Misses Connie Stewart of Mt. Airy, Betty Kernodle of Burlington, Margaret Singleton of Durham and Hilda Mitchell of Roxboro. They were effectively gowned in pink georgette and carried lovely colonial corsages of Columbia roses. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Josephine O'Briant dressed in powder blue georgette, with colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses. The matron of honor, the bride's mother, Mrs. Tuggle O'Briant, entered, dressed in lavender satin back crepe. Next came Raymond Webb Jr., small nephew of the bride, attractively dressed in a black satin suit, carrying a pillow of white satin, followed by two flower girls, Marion Coleman and Elizabeth Webb dressed in pink, carrying baskets of pink roses.

The bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. The bride, a striking brunette, never looked more lovely in her wedding gown of white georgette over white satin with veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She wore a necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom. The groom entered with his best man, E. C. O'Briant of Roanoke, Va. Following the ceremony the young couple left for an extended wedding trip to New York, after which they will be at home to their friends in Chatham, Va. Many out of town guests were present for the ceremony.

THE WAR IN ALLENSVILLE

To the Editor of The Courier:
In order that people outside of Person County may know how the War started in Allensville, the following facts are presented:

At first the committee of the Public school was accused of cabal, and after the now famous explosion and much riding around, some of the patrons signed a petition. The committee made an explanation; then some of the signers seceded and the war started. Right much of the war-news was allowed to pass the censor. Then the Professor was brought in, also Brother Davis and Poor Richard. Since then there has been a regular bombardment, with no deaths reported.

The last battle took place near the kitchen, where some hot gas, probably caused from stomach-ache, was thrown out the window and some of the Generals were too near. Then Eve's daughter was fired on and the best war prophets cannot tell when or where it will end. Sure it is, however, that Eve's daughter will have the last shot. We hope the League of Nations will take it up very soon and matters will be satisfactorily settled. SPECTATOR.

CONCORD AND LEAS CHAPEL

Let everybody who can, and some who think they can't go to Sunday School and church at Concord next Sunday morning. Do not be late.

And then let all the folks and especially the members of Leas's Chapel church, who were there last Sunday come back next Sunday to Sunday school and church at three and four o'clock.

Am glad to tell our friends through your columns that Mrs. Bradley is getting along nicely at Watts Hospital after a very critical operation. She hopes to be at home in the course of two weeks.

Many thanks to the members at Leas's Chapel who contributed enough to pay their pastor's board while at the Pastor's Summer School at Duke University. I am well fed. J. W. BRALEY, Pastor

GET YOUR AUTOMOBILE LICENSE EARLY

The State Department of Revenue has opened a branch office in the Crowell Auto Company office for the distribution of the 1925 automobile licenses. This office will be in charge of Mr. J. Melvin Long and is merely for your convenience. Mr. Long states that they are anxious to cooperate in every way with the distribution of these licenses, but says he has been instructed by Mr. Doughton not to accept any personal checks whatever. The reason for this ruling can be readily seen. He hopes that automobile owners will not wait till the last minute and will also aid in the work by getting their checks cashed at the banks before presenting them.

The first showing in the State of "The Ten Commandments" at Palace Theatre, Monday, Tuesday Wednesday June 29—30th July 1st. Secure your seats early. Two performances daily 3:00 and 8:15 P. M.

Society

Mrs. H. W. Winstead was the charming hostess to the Friday afternoon Book Club on Thursday evening at her lovely home to a most delightful dinner party. A color motif of pink and white was beautifully carried out in the decorations of the dining room, the table being artistically arranged with lovely bowls of sweet peas; pink candles burned softly in silver candelabra; attractive place cards of sweet peas marked the places of the guests, and four delightful courses were served. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by her daughter Annie Wooding and her niece Lula Belle Winstead.

Covers were laid for Mesdames R. J. Teague, A. S. deVlaming, T. E. Austin, B. E. Love, Preston Satterfield, A. M. Burns, M. E. Long, T. W. Henderson, J. J. Winstead, W. C. Watkins, W. D. Merritt, W. T. Pass, E. P. Dunlap, Geo. W. Kane, J. W. Noell and Miss Mollie Walters. Following dinner, the guests were invited to the living room where Boston rook was enjoyed for a number of progressions.

On Friday, June 12th, from five to seven, little Clinton Winstead, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Winstead, Semora, N. C., entertained sixty of his little friends, the occasion being his seventh birthday. The happy little folks first enjoyed outdoor games, after which they were all gathered together on the lawn. There the white paper caps were for the girls, and yellow for the boys. Several pictures were made, then they were invited into the house. Yellow and white snapdragons were used on the lower floor and this color scheme was carried out in the dining room and table decorations. In the center of the table was the large white birthday cake, on which seven little yellow candles were burning. Sixty dainty little yellow baskets filled with yellow and white mints tied with ribbon streamers extended to each guest place. The color scheme was also carried out in the refreshments served. Master Winstead received quite a shower of gifts. Every one present enjoyed the evening.

On Thursday evening, June 11th, Mrs. O. H. Winstead entertained at a beautifully appointed supper in honor of her husband's birthday. The happy affair was in every way a complete surprise to Mr. Winstead and not until they entered the dining room and there beheld the table beautifully arranged for a birthday supper with the cake and thirty green and white candles aglow, did he fully realize he was the honoree. The entire lower floor was thrown ensuite, and a color scheme of green and white predominated throughout. Covers were laid for ten and the sumptuous supper was served in four courses to the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pointer, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Green Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Winstead and son, and Mrs. J. H. McAden. The favors, dainty green fans for the ladies and linen handkerchiefs for the men, were hidden beneath the chandelier with green ribbons attached which extended to place cards, and tied to each ribbon were dainty fan-shaped green baskets filled with green and white mints. A most enjoyable evening was spent in this lovely new home, and every one present felt as if they could not leave without expressing that old, yet ever new wish, "Many Happy returns of the day"

Mrs. W. S. Clary Jr. entertained at a bridge luncheon Wednesday morning in honor of Mrs. J. H. Hughes, who was formerly Miss May Willson. Summer flowers were used in profusion as a decoration and the place cards were suggestive of the bride. Concluding the game of bridge, a three-course luncheon was served. The honor guest was presented a linen towel, and a hand-made handkerchief was given Mrs. Eugene Mills of Raleigh.

Those present were Mesdames A. M. Burns, A. S. deVlaming, Frank Willson, W. T. Pass, Edgar Boatwright, M. E. Long, Walter Woody, Eugene Mills of Raleigh.

HOOPER—WALKER

In a ceremony marked by simplicity and beauty, the marriage of Miss Annie Walker and Dr. Vance Hooper of Baltimore, Md. was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Walker on Main Street. The living rooms were pretty in their decorations of cut flowers and ferns. The vows were spoken before an improvised altar banked with ferns and palms and interspersed with cathedral candles. Before the ceremony a short musical program was given by Mrs. K. L. Street, while two lovely solos, "To the End of the World with You" and "At Dawning," were sung by Mrs. Carrie P. Bradsher. During the ceremony "to a Wild Rose" was softly played by Mrs. Street.

The bridal party entered to the strains of Lohengrin, Miss Polly Walker, attractively dressed in lavender georgette crepe with picture hat and corsage of orchids, was maid of honor. The bride, beautifully gowned in a rose crepe Elizabeth suit with accessories to match and a corsage of orchids and valley lilies, entered with her uncle, Mr. J. S. Walker, and was met at the altar by the groom who was accompanied by his brother, Mr. Victor Hooper, as best man. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. R. E. White, pastor of the bride, in the presence of relatives and a few special friends. After receiving congratulations and good wishes, Dr. and Mrs. Hooper left for a bridal trip to Northern points, after which they will be at home in Baltimore. The bride, who is an attractive brunette, is a popular member of the social set of the town and was educated at Peabody College, while the groom is a former resident of Elizabeth City but now a practicing physician of Baltimore.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

The pastor will preach a sermon to fathers and mothers at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning.

At the evening service at 8 o'clock Rev. P. Cary Adams will preach and the Presbyterian and Baptist congregations will unite in the service. The Sunday School continues to grow in attendance and interest. The music is an attractive feature of the school as the new song books are a great addition. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend all these services. R. E. WHITE, Pastor.

MARY HAMBRICK MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Mary Hambrick Missionary Society had a very interesting meeting in the Sunday School auditorium of the Methodist Church on June 15. The District meeting will be held in Graham on Friday, the 19th. A shower will be given Miss Ruth Merritt, who goes as a missionary to Brazil.

Otis Wilkerson, Reginald Harris, Misses Isabel deVlaming, Louise Thompson, Eglantine Merritt, Lessie Barnett and Sue Merritt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moore gave a delightful dinner on Friday honoring Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Briggs of Washington, D. C. A wealth of early summer flowers was used to good effect as decorations. The living room, music room and dining room were prettily decorated with beautiful shasta daisies, pink roses, sweet peas and evergreens. A handsome cut glass bowl of Dorothy Perkins roses occupied the center of the table.

Covers were laid for six and a delicious menu was served, consisting of spring chicken, string beans, garden peas, sand potatoes, country ham, pickles, hot biscuits, iced tea, frozen Manhattan salad, ice cream and pound cake. Other dinner guests were: Rev. R. E. White pastor of the Baptist Church of Roxboro, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Moore and Mrs. J. E. Hester.

Mrs. George Garrette and her two daughters surprised Mrs. Offie Clayton with a birthday visit last Wednesday, June 10th. Beautiful music was rendered by Miss Victoria Garrette after which cake and fruit was served by Miss Fannie Clayton. The occasion was much enjoyed and the hope expressed that Mrs. Clayton will have many more happy birthdays.

BASE BALL TEAM IS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. C. H. Richmond has returned from a visit to Richmond and Danville and is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George L. Cunningham.

The beautiful showers of last Tuesday and Sunday have greatly benefited the gardens, corn, cotton and tobacco crops in our section. Tobacco was rather scarce, but we firmly believe there was enough tobacco planted and not enough of cotton and corn.

There will be services at Cunningham Chapel on the third Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. We hope another large crowd of the good people will come out to hear Rev. Betha of Raleigh, as he is one of the best preachers in the State.

Miss Vida Lea Stephens has returned home from a delightful trip to relatives and friends at Bailey, Durham and Thomasville, Ga. After a short stay at home, Miss Stephens will enter the University of North Carolina Summer School. Miss Lucy Green, our popular and efficient teacher of 1923, will be principal of our new school. It will make the hearts of everyone happy to know that we have already engaged two such fine teachers as Miss Green and Miss Stephens. Miss Green will leave in a few days to enter the University of Virginia Summer School.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Cunningham entertained the Turbeville Agricultural High School baseball team last Friday evening; a delightful afternoon was spent by these fine young athletes, of which their son, Richmond Cunningham is a member. This is the second consecutive year that Turbeville has defeated all the strong teams of this section, South Boston, Halifax, Danville High School, Seccsburg and others, and are the champions of their county. Mr. George Cunningham is proud that he had the pleasure and honor of coaching this fine team.

RICHARD DYNAMITED

A cowardly affair happened Saturday night when a bunch of rough-necks dynamited Poor Richard's yard with the hope of scaring somebody. But, they found instead of being scared that the Richards were all on duty.

It they had only been gentlemen and come to Richard as gentlemen, the general talk is that the Richards would have handled them two at a time.

ANOTHER ENDORSER.

EPISCOPAL SERVICE

The Reverend Morrison E. Bethea, Arch-Deacon of the convocation of Raleigh will hold service at Saint Mark's Episcopal Church at Roxboro, June 21, in the evening at 8:00 o'clock. Every one invited.
