Dr. Lew Makes Good Talk To Duke Students

Dr. Lew, of Peking, Counsels Patience and Urges Co-operation in Appeal

LOOKING TO AMERICA.

Durham, June 1.—Twelve thousand smiles were bridged today by Dr. Timothy T. Lew, of Peking, China, as he sketched his native country's cause for the graduating class of Duke University and an audience that filled Craven Memorial Hall. He was introduced by President Few.

"America ought to co-operate with China because China has acquired American ideals of democracy," said the Chinese religious leader who wore the gown of a doctor of philosophy that he got at Columbia University and whose single ornament of jewelry was a Phi Beta Kappa key that he won at an American college.

"Looking to America."

"The stupid, stubborn Europeans," he exclaimed as he made his plea for American co-operation with China. He said that the friendship of America for China had become traditional. If America will lend her co-operation, he declared, the Russians won't have a chance to invade their ideas of government into the minds of the Chinese.

He spoke to the Duke graduates today as a representative of the college students of China, with whom he has been in close touch as he is connected with National University in Peking. With much that he wished to say, he was compelled to sketch, but he drove his ideas home with Americanisms.

He was generous in his praise of America as he contrasted its history with that of his own. Five thousand years ago China was a nation. As a nation it was contemporary with Egypt and Greece and Rome, but it was only 15 years ago that it became a republic like the United States.

Crowell - Thompson

On Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock a wedding, beautiful in its charming simplicity, was solemnized at the Methodist Church of Roxboro, when Miss Louise Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Thompson, became the bride of Oscar Bernard Crowell, of Hendersonville. A large crowd of the friends of both families witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. F. M. Stambarger, pastor of the Methodist church.

The church was artistically decorated with a profusion of ferns and white flowers, a soft glow being cast over the entire scene by candles placed on pedestals on either side of the altar. Just prior to the ceremony, Miss Isabel deVlaming, of the organ, and Tom Crowell of South Boston, brother of the groom, rendered several appropriate musical selections. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. N. S. Thompson, and was accompanied in a royal, elegant blue tulle ensemble and with lace bodice, with a large pink picture hat with blue facing. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Edeline Merritt acted as maid of honor, wearing a delicate blue evening Elizabeth dress, with blue hat to match, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. Clyde O. Crowell, of Roxboro, brother of the groom, was best man, while the ushers were Dr. J. H. Hughes, R. P. Burns, R. A. Bullock and Dewey Bradsher.

Following a wedding trip to points of interest in western North Carolina, the popular couple will be at home in Hendersonville.

Mrs. Crowell is well known in Roxboro and has a large circle of friends here and elsewhere. She is a graduate of Randolph-Macon College at Lynchburg. Her marriage will be of interest to many over the state. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Crowell of Roxboro and a graduate in law of Wake Forest College. He has been located for some time at Hendersonville, in the practice of his profession. The good wishes of a large circle of friends go with this couple to their new home.

Evidence of Good Farming

We were out driving the other afternoon and took a spin in the neighborhood of Mr. Flam Long's farm. There are some good farmers in this section, but we were forebly struck with the evidences of good work being done on the farm of Mr. John M. Brewer's farm. He has hundreds of yards of splendid terracing, which has been done in the most approved manner, and the crops on his place show that he has not given all of his time to terracing.

Serious Cutting Affair

The Northern section of Orange County was the scene of a very serious cutting affair last Friday night when two young men, Sam Wilkerson and a Hornor boy, (brothers-in-law) each the occupant of a Ford, met on the road in a narrow place. A quarrel followed, each contending for his particular right to the road. Finally they passed and each one went on his way, but Hornor decided that he was not satisfied, so he proceeded to the home of Wilkerson and a battle followed in which Wilkerson received a serious stab in his chest. He was carried to Watts Hospital for treatment and Hornor escaped and has not been apprehended.

Earl Carroll Ordered To Penitentiary

Producer Will Be Taken From Greenville Hospital—At Once; Relatives Stunned

DENIED CLEMENCY

Washington, June 7.—Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, sentenced to Atlanta Penitentiary for perjury, who became ill in Greenville, S. C., today was ordered taken to Atlanta to begin serving his sentence.

Attorney-General SATTEN announced that Carroll would be taken to the prison tonight or tomorrow, indicating late today that there was nothing in the Carroll case that would justify its being referred to President Coolidge for action on a petition for executive clemency filed some time ago.

Deny Clemency

Carroll has been in a Greenville hospital for more than a month and decision of the Department of Justice to deny him clemency at this time was based on a report made by two examining officials.

The physicians sent by the Attorney-General to investigate reports that Carroll was critically ill reported that "there is nothing the matter with him," the Attorney-General said.

The Attorney-General said Carroll's sentence had not begun, but would date from the time he is admitted to the prison.

Carroll was sentenced in New York to serve one year and a day in the Atlanta prison as a result of his conviction on a charge of perjury before a Federal grand jury investigating his famous "bath-tub party."

Two Thousand People Hear Dr. Mangum Sunday Night

Great Throngs Attend Each Meeting Of County-Wide Revival

SERMONS OF GREAT POWER

The County Wide Revival has been in progress for ten days, and throngs of people hear the wonderful messages which are being brought by Dr. O. B. Mangum. It is peculiarly noticeable that no "high power" efforts are being used to get those present to come up and give their hands to the preacher. He emphatically states in his appeal to sinners that he does not want any one to accept the invitations given unless they feel that they want to live a better life and consecrate themselves to the Master.

Dr. Mangum is a consecrated Christian, and he preaches the Gospel in all its simplicity, making it so plain that any one can understand, yet it has the appeal of a man thoroughly grounded in the Spirit, highly educated, much travelled and who believes every word he is preaching. So far there has been no very great interest manifested on the part of the unsaved, but the crowds which greet him at every service, morning and evening are proof positive that the people are thoroughly interested in the great work and it is believed by the Christian people that the many prayers which are being offered daily, coupled with the mighty appeals of the Minister, will bear much fruit and many will be brought to see their lost condition.

It has been most gratifying to see the way people from the country have attended these meetings. It has, indeed and in truth, been a county-wide meeting. We believe there has been more people from the country present at every evening service than there were from the town. They have taken an active part in the song service, helping to make the greatest choir ever gathered together in Roxboro, and we trust they will continue to feel that it is truly a county-wide meeting, and that the good influence will be felt throughout the County.

The services will continue throughout the week with services at 8 in the morning and at 8 in the evening, closing with three services next Sunday, one at 11 a. m., 3:30 p. m., and 8 p. m. At the evening services last Sunday there were about 2,000 people present, and it is expected that that the house will be full to overflowing on next Sunday.

Come to every service during the week, and then come on Sunday and help make it the greatest day for Christianity ever known in this County.

Chamberlin And Levine Sets New Distance Record

Fog Confuses Americans And Gas Gives Out At Eisleben; Fliers Take Off After Fueling But Are Again Forced Down at Cottbus, 65 Miles From German Capital, Breaking Propeller; New Record of 3,905 Miles Established.

DIDN'T HAVE GERMAN MAP

Berlin, June 6.—Broken distance records—a dramatic flight from New York to Germany—two forced landings.

These great thrills given to the world and Germany by Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, who flew farther in the Bellanca monoplane Columbia than man ever has flown before, failed to satisfy Berlin today.

Berlin wanted to be the first to greet the fliers on their arrival, and disappointment ran high when it was learned that the Bellanca was in Cottbus, sixty-five miles away, with a broken propeller and that Chamberlin and Levine were to spend the night in that town.

(Cottbus, Cram's map of Europe shows, is really east of Berlin, though far to the south.)

Tired and weary Berliners, who had stood for many hours left Tempelhofer field singing the praises of the men who had made so marvelous a flight, but bemoaning Berlin's ill fortune in not being able to greet them today.

Washington, June 6.—Clarence D. Chamberlin, in the New York to Germany flight, exceeded Captain Charles A. Lindbergh's non-stop long distance record by approximately 300 miles, officials of the geological survey estimated today.

The air line distance from New York to Eisleben is 3,905 miles, but Chamberlin may have covered more miles by deviations from the route to avoid bad weather.

The estimate has no official status, as that will be determined by the national aeronautical association.

Cottbus, Germany, June 6.—Neither Clarence Chamberlin nor Charles A. Levine are happy over their record-making flight from New York to Germany—on the contrary they are dissatisfied.

"It's not as good as it should have been—we should have reached Berlin," said Levine, when he was greeted by the International News Service correspondent here today at an impromptu ceremonial luncheon given the fliers by the dignitaries of Cottbus.
