Sanders Says Feed Hogs The Improved Way

Partial Results Of Hogs On The Self Feeder. Local Farmers Approve Plan.

THE PIGS EAT AT WILL

Four herds of hogs were weighed this week to ascertain their gain in weight since they were put on the self feeder, the cost per pound gain, and the average gain made per day per pig.

Mr. J. C. Wagstaff started with ten pigs this spring on the self feeder and fed them according to the methods used by the best pork growers for securing the fastest and cheapest gains by allowing the pigs to eat at will from the self feeder of corn meal, fish meal and shorts, each in separate compartments, with plenty of water before the pigs at all times and salt, ashes and sulphur, which were kept before the pigs in separate box where they could eat of these minerals at will.

They were on the feeder 150 days when weighed. The total weight of the ten pigs were 2390 lbs. Deducting 320 lbs for the initial weight of the pigs leaves 2070 lbs gained in 150 days. This makes an average gain for the lot of 1.36 pounds per day per pig. One pig was sick a long time and did not weigh as much as the rest. If this pig were taken from the lot, the gain per day for the nine pigs would have been 1.63 pounds per pig per day. The average for the State last year, on 424 head fed under similar conditions was a gain of 1.33 pounds per day.

Counting the cost of all feeds since the records started at market prices for the corn, corn meal, fish meal and shorts, each pound of pork cost 754 cents per pound gain.

Mr. K. C. Wagstaff started May 1st with 12 head of pigs on the feeder and sold four of them recently. The total weight of the eight pigs was 2291 pounds. Deducting 320 pounds for the initial weight would leave 1971 pounds net gain in 140 days. This would give an average daily gain of 1.64 pounds per day. Deducting the feed bill shows that the pork was produced at eight cents per pound gain. The average weight of the eight pigs was 286 pounds.

Mr. Jno. D. Winstead started in April with 18 head of pigs which were on the feeder 150 days when weighed. The average weight for the 18 head was 314 pounds. The initial weight of the 18 pigs was 57 pounds. The weight last week was 5832 pounds. Deducting the initial weight would leave 5775 pounds gained in 150 days, or an average of 1.88 pounds per day gain per pig. However two-thirds of this bunch made a daily gain of more than 2 pounds per day. His heaviest hog which weighed 375 pounds, made an average gain of 2.29 pounds per day.

Total cost of all feed eaten was $256.28. The cost was 7.22 cents per pound gain.

Mr. C. H. Winstead fed out 12 head on the feeder under similar conditions. The initial weight of the pigs was 384 pounds. The total weight at the end of 150 days was 2751 pounds, which leaves a gain of 2367 pounds for the 12 head or an average daily gain of 1.33 pounds per day. The average weight for the 12 head was 229 pounds. The feed bill was $163.00 which if divided by 2367 pounds gain would make the cost equal to 6.13 cents a pound.

Good Business Record

When any firm or corporation remains in business thirty-two years and makes a success, it shows evidence of good business ability. Messrs. Hambrick, Austin & Thomas, Druggists, are announcing such a record elsewhere in an ad. to which we invite your attention.

Large Opening Sales on Middle Belt Markets

Sales of tobacco got under way in the middle belt markets yesterday with large offerings and prices ranging on an average around 18 to 20 cents. Old timers at Durham could not recall a larger opening. The sales were around 700,000 pounds, the average being 20 cents.

Oxford had the best opening in its history, nearly a half million pounds being sold at an estimated average of 20 cents.

Henderson sales were calculated at 200,000 pounds, the average being placed at, from 15 to 18 cents per pound.

Most of the tobacco offered was of an inferior grade. Sanford, Carthage, Aberdeen and other markets had good openings.

SOCIETY

On Saturday afternoon Miss Annie Belle Crowder delightfully entertained with Miss Rosa Robertson as honoree.

After an appropriate and interesting dinner, little Miss Frances Nora Featherstone invited the guest of honor to follow her to the "end of the rainbow," where a "pot of gold" was found, containing many lovely and useful gifts.

The hostess assisted by her sisters, Misses Pearl and Mavin Crowder, served a delicious ice course with pink and white mints.

Those enjoying Miss Crowder's hospitality were: Miss Rosa Robertson, Mrs. E. J. Robertson, Miss Mary Winstead, Mrs. J. B. Satterfield, Misses Mary and Carrie Wagstaff, Miss Emma Robertson, Miss Ruth Hester, Miss Clarisse Brooks, Miss Vivian Paylor and Miss Lena Bailey.

Mrs. C. O. Crowell very charmingly entertained the Bridge club at her home on North Main street Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. Beautiful dahlias of bright colors were used as decorations throughout the living room. Four tables were placed for the games and several interesting progressions were played, at the close of which the hostess served delicious refreshments in two courses.

The Philatelic class of the First Baptist church held their regular monthly meeting with Misses Maude and Mabel Montague, on Friday evening. An unusually large crowd was present and several important business matters discussed, after which a very delightful social hour was spent. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Big Day For The Farmers of Bushy Fork

Agricultural Council Meeting October 1st, at Bushy Fork School House

DINNER WILL BE SERVED

The Agricultural meeting for this month will be held at Bushy Fork Schoolhouse October 1st in the form of an all day session with a basket dinner on the grounds.

Mr. E. C. Blair of State College, will be present to discuss cover crops and methods of soil improvement and Mr. G. M. Garren, also of State College will discuss the growing of small grains and give demonstrations on how to treat wheat and oats to prevent such heavy losses as have been sustained by the farmers caused by smut. It is probable that Mr. V. W. Lewis of The Department of Markets will be present to discuss marketing of different farm products. The use of limestone on the soil for all crops will be discussed also at this meeting. All should make their plans to be out and remember to bring a well filled basket.

Brings His Still In Court, Admits He Made Rum

Smithfield, Sept. 20.—John B. Ryals, a white man of Elevation township, did a thing unusual in court annals here today, when he, of his own volition, appeared before Judge W. P. Aycock bringing his own brandy-making outfit and confessing his faults before the court, asking for judgment against himself for violating the prohibition laws.

About ten days ago Ryals was searched out by the officers and a small quantity of beverage was found in his possession. Since then he has been under the surveillance of the officers, and the strain became too great for him. He ended the matter by bringing his little twenty-gallon copper distillery here to the courthouse and surrendering it to the officers of the law. He was tried here today in the recorder's court and given a ninety days road sentence, suspended upon good behavior and payment of cost and went home a much happier man than when he came to town this morning.

Mr. Glenn Able To Be Out Again

The friends of Thomas Glenn will be pleased to know that he is able to be out again. It will be remembered that Mr. Glenn had a very painful accident on his motorcycle a few weeks ago near Rougemont, and suffered several severe cuts and bruises, and was carried to Watts Hospital for treatment. He is still unable to work.

Rev. J. A. Beam Is Improving

We are glad to know that the condition of Rev. J. A. Beam is better this morning. He is slowly gaining his strength and his friends hope he will soon be able to be up and out again.

Day-Swartz

Mr. Clyde Swartz and Miss Alma Day left yesterday morning for Lynchburg, Va., where they were married. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Maxie Daniel, Misses Banna Day and Alice Oliver and Mr. William Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Swartz are two of Roxboro's most popular young people and they have the best wishes of their friends.

Supper Was Served to About 800 Guests By The Meredith Girls

GOOD MUSICAL PROGRAM

The North Carolina Baptist Centennial Campaign was launched at Meredith College on Thursday evening, September 15th. A complimentary and very delicious supper was served to about 800 guests by the Meredith girls. The guests were the Presidents, trustees and faculties of our seven schools, the members of the general board, the members of the State Centennial Campaign Committee, the pastors and many key men and women of the churches, in the nine associations in the central part of the state. Our Beulah Association was represented by pastors, W. F. West, L. V. Coggins, N. J. Ford, and A. M. and R. P. Burns, Mrs. D. W. Bradsher, Miss Ruth Harris, Mrs. A. M. Burns, Mrs. Frank Hester, Mrs. Anna Bradsher, G. F. Cole, John Glenn and Mrs. R. L. Wilburn. Chairman Max Gardner was unable to be present, so R. N. Simms was master of ceremonies and presided in a most delightful manner.

Dr. Maddy, as general director made an earnest plea to the representation of the churches for their held and co-operation in this worthy object.

Dr. W. L. Potrat, ex-president of Wake Forest College, spoke in his usual eloquent and impressive manner, comparing the Wake Forest of 1834 when it was established as the first effort of North Carolina Baptist Convention towards the education of young men called of God to the ministry, to the Wake Forest of today and of the future, closing with this prophetic utterance, "Me thinks I see the dawn appearing in the east."

N. C. W. M. U. then spoke, pledging the women of North Carolina to support the campaign, body and soul.

Dr. Francis P. Gaines, the new president of Wake Forest was then introduced. It was the first time that many of the people present had had an opportunity of seeing and hearing Dr. Gaines. All were captivated by his appearance and charming personality, as he impressively spoke on Christian education. His thoughts hovered around the text, "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus." The object of Christian education, he said, is to redeem and set free the minds of our children from the shackles of ignorance and sin, so that they may be able to perceive and know the truth in Christ Jesus.

A most enjoyable musical program was rendered by the Meredith girls and quartets from Wake Forest and Campbell sang to the appreciative audience.

Recognition of the pastors and church workers of the association, the college presidents and alumni and presidents of the college student government was then made.

The meeting was one of great inspiration as all caught the spiritual vision of the glorious future ahead for Christian education in North Carolina. This will be made possible by prayer and a sacrificial gift of a million and a half. The assembly broke up to go back home and work as they have never worked before to make it come to pass.

J. J. Woody, W. M. A. C. Gentry, Sec.
