

Meeting of Swine Feeders Sat. March 31

W. W. Shay, State College, To Discuss Marketing Problems And Feeding

LAST MEETING OF SERIES

Mr. W. W. Shay, State College, will be at court house Saturday at the last of a series of weekly meetings to discuss with the breeders of swine problems of marketing and feeding. There are 36 feeders in the county in operation, and while hogs are cheap, there is no reason for becoming discouraged. This always will happen and the man who sticks to the problem will win out in the long run. There is money to be made feeding hogs for the markets if at least forty bushels of corn are produced per acre on your own farm.

Those who want to dispose of any hogs in April or May should attend the meeting, or write the county agent how many he will have to sell so arrangements can be made to ship them to Richmond if the Durham market cannot handle them. At this special swine growers and feeders meeting an attempt will be made to try to get orders for a few registered gilts or young pigs to be brought into the county. We can raise good pigs as any other county, and a good brood sow on a few farms in Person County should not overstock the country with good desirable pigs for sale. It is much safer and better to raise your own pigs from good large well developed sows than to depend on outside sources for your pigs.

A Delightful Evening

The Mens Brotherhood Of The Methodist Church A Live Organization

As the guest of the Pastor, Rev. T. A. Sikes, it was our pleasure to attend the monthly luncheon of the Mens Brotherhood of the Edgar Long M. E. Church, South, last Wednesday evening. The Brotherhood meets once a month and lunch is served by the ladies of the Church. As announced by the president, Mr. G. C. Davidson, it is run on the Dutch order, every guest leaving the price at his plate before leaving the table. It is composed of the laymen of the Church, and about eighty of them were present on this occasion.

The program was in charge of Mr. J. Foster Barnes, assisted by Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Cunningham, of Durham. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes are well known for their musical talents, and the several selections they rendered were greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Cunningham at the piano was equal to the occasion in every respect. Mr. Barnes included in his program a sermon by a negro hard-shell preacher, and this sermon was much enjoyed. After the exercises a motion was made thanking the visitors for their splendid entertainment and inviting them to come again.

High Winds Take Heavy Toll in The Carolinas

Seeking Better Mail Facilities

For about thirty days Roxboro has been without any morning mail, save the morning papers, which are delivered by private carriers. The mail from Durham, north, now arrives here at 12:28, which deprives us of any mail at all during the morning. A petition is being circulated asking the department to give us a morning mail from Durham to arrive here at around 8 o'clock. It is believed this is so just and reasonable that the request will be granted. As it now is the rural routes all over the County go out in the morning, and no rural subscriber receives his daily paper until the following morning, making it about 26 hours old before receipt.

At The Edgar Long M. E. Church

Next Sunday, April 1st, the simultaneous services in the city of Roxboro will begin. The churches co-operating are the Presbyterian, Brookdale, First Baptist and Edgar Long Memorial. All the day services will be held at 8 o'clock each morning in the Presbyterian Church. These will be conducted by the pastors, alternatively. The night services, beginning at 7:30 p. m., will be held in the various churches, and the pastors will do the preaching. The public is cordially invited to attend. Let the membership of the churches be much in prayer.

All regular services will be held in this church Sunday. Mr. John Guice, of Conway, Ark., will be present to assist in the singing during the meeting.

"He came. The soul the most full of love, the most sacredly virtuous, the most deeply inspired by God and the future that men have yet seen on earth; Jesus. He bent over the corpse of the dead world and whispered a word of faith. Over the clay that had lost all of man but the movement and the form. He uttered words until then unknown. Love, Sacrifice, a Heavenly origin, and the dead arose, the world of liberty and equality, the world of liberty and equality. From that clay arose the true man, the image of God, the precursor of humanity."—Mazzina.

Five Killed In Georgia When Twister Sweeps Eastern Cherokee County

Canton, Ga., March 27.—A small tornado tore a path through two little communities in Eastern Cherokee County last night, leaving five dead and about twenty injured. Moving northwest to southwest and cutting a comparatively narrow path, the twister struck first at the Millwood home in Orange community, demolishing the house and scattering sleeping inmates.

High Winds Sweep Carolinas

Spartanburg, S. C., March 27.—Cutting a comparatively narrow path that covered a wide area, high winds late last night swooped down on outlying communities in the Carolinas, inflicting at least a score of persons and doing damage estimated to run into many thousands of dollars. None of the injuries was serious. The northwestern section of South Carolina and eastern North Carolina separated by a distance of 200 miles, were the hardest hit. It was in South Carolina, however, that human injuries were reported and there from a half dozen communities came reports of homes blown away, barns and stores damaged or demolished.

Mayo, ten miles from Spartanburg, was hardest hit according to available reports. There four homes were destroyed and in two of them 18 members of the families of Fred and E. O. Turner were injured by flying debris, but not seriously. At Mayo also a warehouse, barns and outbuildings were leveled. The loss at Mayo is fixed at approximately $8,000.

Several buildings were wrecked at Lockhart Junction and Kelly's Station in Union County, and at Gaffney the wind wrecked the shipping room of the Daisy Damaak Mills, blew over telephone poles and tilted the roofs of several other places.

Reaching into North Carolina the storm spent its fury, but at Shelby and other mountain points high winds and electrical storms were reported. In eastern North Carolina damage was done to timber and telephone and telegraph lines. In Wilson, Greenville, New Bern and several other eastern towns and communities reported poles down and wires severed.

Rotarians Play Success

Greeted With Full House And A Neat Sum Realized

The plays put on by the Rotary club and some of their friends last Friday evening was a real success in every way. The people turned out strong, and we believe everyone felt like they received their money's worth. The characters had been thoroughly drilled and each performed like old stagers. Especially was the act by Mr. Willie Tokstad worthy of special mention.

The Rotary club is endeavoring to pay off an old obligation incurred in efforts to help athletics, and the play was so well received that it will probably be given at other points in the County.

$6,500 To Be Given Pupils And Teachers

School Officials Cooperate With Highway Education Board In Seventh Safety Contest

GET TRIP TO WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., March 27.—Offering $6,500 in prizes for the best essays and lessons on street and highway safety, the Highway Education Board is announcing to the schools the annual safety contest open to elementary school pupils and elementary school teachers of the nation. The competition is conducted each year with the active cooperation of the school authorities.

Based on past experience, officials of the Board say they expect to receive essays, not only from each state in the Union and virtually every city of size, but from the territories and outlying possessions as well, such as Alaska, the Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Canal Zone.

The $6,500 in prizes is given by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce and this year includes 442 state prizes for elementary school pupils, three national prizes for pupils, and three national prizes for teachers, the latter totaling $1,000 in cash. In addition, the pupil and the teacher whose essay respectively are chosen as the best in the nation are given a trip to Washington with all expenses paid, no matter from what section of the nation they may come.

This year, according to the rules, pupils are to write essays of 500 words in length on the subject "Why We Have and Practice Traffic Rules." Teachers are given the subject "Objectives and Methods of Education in Street and Highway Safety," on which they are asked to prepare practical lessons for use, not alone in their own class rooms, but by other teachers in the community.

Annual State Sunday School Convention

Begins Tuesday Night, April Tenth, In Concord Lasts Two Days

TWO SESSIONS EACH DAY

Beginning Tuesday night, April 10, and continuing through Thursday night, the 12th, the Annual State Sunday School Convention under the auspices of the North Carolina Sunday School Association, will be held in Concord. General sessions of the Convention will be held on Tuesday night, April 10, and Wednesday and Thursday mornings and nights, the 11 and 12. In the First Baptist Church which will be the convention headquarters, the afternoons of Wednesday and Thursday will be devoted to departmental conferences, which will be held in the First Presbyterian and Central Methodist Churches.

An out-of-state Sunday School specialist will be in charge of each of the departmental conferences. Directing the work in the conferences for workers in the Cradle Roll, Beginners, Primary and Junior Departments will be Miss Mabel Lee Cooper, New York, Field Worker and Director of Teacher Training for the Department of Religious Education of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The conferences for workers in the Intermediate, Senior, and Young People's Departments, will be conducted by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Finn, Director of Young People's work for the Northern Baptist Sunday School Board.

Dr. Wade Crawford Barclay, Chicago, Executive Secretary of the Committee on Religious Education in Foreign Fields, Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will help in the conferences for workers with adults in the Sunday School. Dr. Charles F. Wiles, Philadelphia, Head of the Editorial Department of the United Lutheran Sunday School Board, will emphasize Sunday School conferences for pastors, superintendents, and other general Sunday School officers.

Besides these out-of-state specialists a number of the State's most prominent leaders in religious education will help with the program. Dr. E. D. Soper, Durham, Dean of the School of Religion of Duke University, will give the opening address of the convention on Tuesday night, April 10. Rev. F. A. Bower, Athermarle, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, will lead the Convention music, and Rev. J. E. Pritchard, Asheboro, Pastor of the Methodist Church, will give a devotional message at each general session.

First Baptist Church

It is very gratifying to see the marked degree of interest that is being manifested in the approaching simultaneous evangelistic services which are to be held in our community beginning next Sunday. We have every reason to believe that this will be one of the most far-reaching meetings ever held in Roxboro, and it is hoped that every church will be filled to its capacity each night.

There will be a union service held each morning at eight o'clock at the Presbyterian Church which will take the place of the day services of the other churches.

The Baptists are very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Q. L. Fry to lead the singing as he is a very capable and experienced consecrated young man who needs no introduction to many of the young people of our state as he is a native of Hickory, and has frequently led the singing at Young Peoples Conventions.
