HON. JOSIAH BAILEY DELIVERS STIRRING APPEAL SATURDAY

Calls Upon The People to Stand By The Democratic Party In Masterful Speech

GREAT CROWD HEARS HIM

Hon. J. W. Bailey spoke here last Saturday afternoon to a court house packed to its capacity. For nearly two hours they listened to this masterful speech, and every minute was full of interest to all who were present.

Outline Of Speech

1. The vital principle of the Democratic Party is to fight out our battles within the party, that is in the primary or convention; and when the will of the majority is expressed to write in the campaign and the election.

2. We must preserve the Democratic party as the great historical institution of the popular will and the people's rights. It is not a thing of a day. We received it from the fathers, we ought to preserve it for ourselves and our children.

3. We of the South ought to be especially jealous to preserve the Democratic party. It is the faithful guardian of the Southern civilization. The Republican party is a sectional party. It was brought forth in sectionalism. It never understood the Southern people. It is an incapable today of understanding them as it was fifty years ago.

4. The American people ought to drive the Republican party from power this year because of its notorious corruption—the oil scandal.

WILL ROGERS Says:

The less a voter knows about you the longer he is liable to vote for you. I believe that these other two boys that are running for President would both have been better off if they had pulled a Coolidge and got down in their shell and not come out till the votes were counted.

If I was these boys I would kinder fight shy of a public clinic. I believe if they had both stayed behind the microphone out of sight of any audience and shot it to 'em at long range, they would have been better off.

This thing of meeting your hero and get acquainted with him is awful liable to make you start hunting another hero. Al and Herb have both done things which are on the record and I believe I would let folks look over the record instead of the patient.

As the presidential candidate of the Anti-Bunk Party, I am going on the theory that it is better to read about a brown derby than it is to see one. When we know that a man has put the Nose Bag on Belgium and made us eat bran mash like a cow instead of bread, why we are going to look for a mighty commander and magnetic personality.

I don't think I am betraying any national secret when I say that both of these boys are liable to get more votes if you can't see 'em. Campaigns have ruined more men than they have ever made.

Making The Most of Milk

Your Dairymen Should Be Selected With The Utmost Care

By H. K. Sanders

Milk consumers who would get the greatest satisfaction and benefit from money spent for milk or for the keeping of home dairy cows should give heed to the following suggestions:

- 1. Buy only the best milk obtainable. It is the cheapest in the long run. 2. Consult the health department before selecting your milk dealer. 3. Buy only bottled milk if possible. Dipped milk is often dirty and deficient in cream. 4. Take milk into the house as soon as it is delivered and use it in the refrigerator. Bacteria increase in milk which stands in the sun or warms otherwise, and such milk will sour quickly. 5. Keep milk in the original bottle in the refrigerator until the moment of serving. Milk which has been poured from the bottle should not be returned to it. 6. Keep the bottle covered with a paper cap or an inverted tumbler to prevent the entrance of flies and dust, which may carry dangerous bacteria into the milk. 7. Keep the refrigerator clean and sweet by means of proper drainage and frequent washing with scalding water and sal soda, since milk quickly absorbs unpleasant odors and becomes less palatable. 8. Wash bottles as soon as emptied, by rinsing first with luke warm water and then with hot water. If there is an infectious disease in your house, do not return bottle except with the knowledge of the health authorities and under conditions which they may prescribe. 9. Return empty bottles promptly, and do not use them for anything else. Remember that they are the property of the dealer and represent cash. 10. Remember that clean milk, properly cared for, is one of the best foods obtainable. It is nourishing, digestible, and usually economical.

PACK HOUSE AND DWELLING BURNED FEW HOURS APART

BOTH WERE TOTAL LOSS

Sunday evening at about 6:30 the pack house, in which was stored practically all of the tobacco crop belonging to Mr. Haywood Barnett, was discovered to be on fire. The fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save anything, the barn and tobacco being a total loss.

Mr. Barnett lived at the Old Long place, about four miles west of town, on the Loch Lily road, and his loss is very serious. We hear he carried a small amount of insurance on the pack house. It is not known how the fire originated, though the two coming so close together and the surroundings seem to indicate it was fired by some one. The pack house and dwelling was more than seventy-five yards apart and the dwelling was covered with tin, so that the theory of a spark is hardly possible. The matter is being investigated.

What To Do This Month

By H. K. Sanders

Plant a winter cover crop at once. Plant plenty of oats for spring feed and wheat for home grain supply.

Store seed corn carefully to avoid injury by weevils, rodents and molds. Build broad base Manure terraces. Repair breaks in old terraces. Build and repair fences. Keep all machinery under shelter during winter.

Prepare land for setting fruit trees in November and December. Order fruit trees now and when they arrive unpack and heel out in moist soil until they may be properly transplanted.

Such bulbs as narcissus, tulips, hyacinths, crocus and hardy lilies may be planted now.

Make cuttings of grapes and figs and seat out immediately.

Plant sweet peas in a well prepared trench in November. Cover the seed five inches deep.

Plant raspberries, strawberries and dewberry plants and asparagus roots. If peach trees have not been treated with paradichlorobenzene, remove the worms from the roots this month.

Sow lettuce in cold frame for use in January and February. Make hill selection of sweet potatoes at digging time.

Plan for the winter sprays for the orchard, shade trees and hedges. Write for information on how to spray for scales. Get the spray pump in good order. Do not wait till time to use it.

Beware of unscrupulous fruit tree agents; buy only trees and plants certified by the State of North Carolina.

Get shellac and coal tar or white lead paint to cover all ragged cuts made in pruning.

Disinfect sweet potato storage house with 1 pint formaldehyde to 30 gallons of water before storing potatoes. Dig sweet potatoes before a heavy frost hits them. Chilled potatoes rot quickly. See farm notes in last issue regarding the use of lime in controlling potato rots. If a heavy frost should catch the potatoes, cut the vines off with a knife at once.

Provide ample shelter for all livestock. If sheep are infested with stomach worms, get in touch with a veterinarian and have them treated.

Separate cows and all calves which are four to six months old. Feed bulls heavy grain rations (containing no cotton seed meal) and plenty of good legume hay.

Get the corn and fodder corn in before the winter rains damage same. The livestock will do better on good roughage that is not rotten from inclement weather. They deserve the best you can give them. Read last week's farm notes on feeding the heifers between one and two years old.

Cull down the old farm flock of poultry. Sell the culls and feed the best ones you have. Give them a warm dry place to roost in. Better still put in a few standard bred chickens and take care of them properly. They will help to keep you.

Beaufort County farmers find it profitable to cut their timber trees carefully and to market the logs directly to the mills.

STILL STUMPING

Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic candidate for vice-president is shown on his arrival at San Francisco to stump Hoover's home state for the Smith cause.

SUCCESSFUL LIVE STOCK FEEDER

Deal Kindly With Your Cattle If You Wish To Make A Success

Some men like livestock, and some do not. Some livestock like some men and some do not. Animals will usually show a profit for those who like them. Animals respond for those they like and do not respond for those they do not like.

We teamsters will feed their teams the same feed and do the same work. One of these teams will be in good flesh and the other will be poor. Two cattle feeders may feed the same ration, one getting satisfactory gains and the other unsatisfactory. Animals respond better to the feeder who is quiet and kind to them. They learn to have confidence in such a feeder. The feeder who is rough and noisy keeps the animals in a nervous condition and they do not make the best use of their feeds.

It is not enough to have scientific information. A successful feeder must also have these other characteristics along with his knowledge of balancing rations.

Livestock raising requires more intelligence than do most other lines of agriculture. A livestock farmer must not only know how to raise crops, he must know how to feed them to the best advantage. It is fatal to turn the care and management of livestock to over to ignorant help.

Circle No. 1 and Circle No. 2 and Circle No. 3 of Mill Creek joined together in a study course, the name of the book being "Only a Missionary," with Mrs. John Merritt teaching. I wish every Christian woman could have heard her, she made it so interesting. It made us feel that we want to do more for our missionaries. After our last lesson Mrs. Ora Tingen invited us into the dining room and served cake, pickles, hot coffee and chocolate. We had with us one young gentleman, Mr. Reuben Strum, and we were glad to have him for he brought with him his mother and a load of ladies. The room was beautifully decorated with winter flowers.

THE PEOPLES BANK BUILDING NOW MOST MODERN BANK HOUSE

All Are Invited To Call And Look Over The Completed Arrangement

ALWAYS PROGRESSIVE

The Peoples Bank, the oldest banking institution here, has been noted for its progressiveness, especially when it meant progress for the benefit of its customers and stockholders, but this time the progress is in the interest of both the customers and the workers in the bank. An entirely new arrangement for banks in this section has been inaugurated, the old cages which have so long been used in the banks have been done away with and when you walk in now you are confronted with a beautiful counter, over which a dozen or more may be waited on without any delay.

It is beautiful on the inside and the arrangement will appeal to all, while on the outside a new coat of paint has brightened things up materially. The lobby has been enlarged with the active vice-president, Mr. E. G. Long, occupying a private office just off from the lobby, and beyond his office there will be found a ladies room where the lady customers may go to transact their banking affairs or write some letter, and if they happen to have the use of a safety box all can be looked after in the utmost privacy. The bookkeepers have new quarters on the mezzanine and are away from all noise and interference.

If you are a stock holder in this institution you will be proud of your bank, and if you are simply a patron—and this is the class this bank caters to most carefully, you will appreciate the convenience here enumerated. All, whether stockholders, customers or simply well-wishers are invited to call and look over the new arrangement.
