CARNES NOW CONFINED IN PRISON HOSPITAL AS A TUBERCULAR PATIENT

Defalcating Baptist Home Mission Board Treasurer Too Ill To Sit Up

BEEN ILL FOR TWO WEEKS

Milledgeville, Ga., April 30.-Clinton S. Carnes, who, as a defaulting treas-urer of the Southern Baptist-Convention Home Mission Board, was sought for many weeks before his apprehentence for embezzlement, is confined in the prison tuberculosis hospital here, way and Prison Physician Dr. Rich-ard Binion here and by Chairman E. L. Raney, of the State Prison Com-mission, at Atlanta.

Dr. Binion said Carnes had been in the hospital for two weeks, was able to rise from his bed only for his meals and was under constant medical attention. His confinement followed a case of "flu". The prison doctor said examination of Carnes showed he had been suffering from a form of tuber-culosis for a number of years.

Qarnes is confined in a guarded hospital a half mile from the regular prison buildings.

Little Buck Latta

Little Buck Latta, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Latta, who had such a very close call a few weeks ago in the accident he suffered when he fell from his - father's automobile near Prospect Hill, has returned to his home from Watts hospital and is rapidly recovering from the accident which at the time seemed in all probability death would be the victor. Buck is a brave little boy and has staged a heroic fight and all his friends and admirers are glad to see friends and admirers are glad to see composed of E. E. Brads the glow of health and vigor return. Woody and H. L. Crowell.

Edgar Long Memorial

Those who attend services at this church next Sunday will have the pleasure of listening to one of the outstanding ministers of the country. Dr. Frank S. Hickman, of the faculty of the School of Religion, Duke University, will preach at the morning hour. We are hoping that he will be greeted by a large congregation.

All regular services will be held at the usual hours: Sunday School 9:45; preaching at 11 and 8:00. Epworth League 7:15. The choir and men's quartette will render special music at the 11 and 8 o'clock services. A cordial welcome is extended to strangers and visitors.
T. A. SIKES, Pastor.

A Glad Surprise

Last Sunday morning, Rev. W. F. West was surprised when an envelope containing a check for, in round num bers, one hundred dollars, which was to pay his expenses to the Southern Change Train Schedule Memphis next week. This was a gift of his congregation, and he very feelingly thanked them for the gift He folk & Western Railway Company for the convention, and will be about made a change in their convention. for about a week or ten days,

The Assosiation decided to put on dollar day campaign sometime during the summer months, the date to be decided later. The question of closing the stores for a half day each week was discussed, but no action taken in the matter.

Sheriff Gets Still

Sheriff M. T. Clayton had an idea that if a little raid was made down in Holloways township an illicit still plant could be found. Acting under the supervision of this idea a rtip was made a few days ago resulting in the location of a very crude still outfit. The kettle was of the steel tub type while the cap was made of wood and the stem of copper. The outfit was taken but without any finished pro-duct or any material. The 'run" had been completed and the operators had moved along. The only company or help that Sheriff Clayton had was two young school boys who went along through mere curiosity

As will be seen from an advertise made a change in their schedule last Sunday. The following is the correct schedule for Roxboro: Train No. 36 for Lynchburg, arrives at 11:24 a. m. Train No. 38 for Lynchburg, arrives at 5:29 p. m. Train No. 38 for Durham, arrives at 5:29 p. m. Mr. Pulliam Hurt

Last Friday afternon Mr. Geo./W. Pulliam, who is working for Mr. G. W. Kane on the Collins-Aikman new building at Bakers, fell from a falling scaffold and broke his leg. He was carried to the hospital in Durham, and last reports are that he is getting on just as well as could be expected from such an accident.

Notice!

A Joint Missionary meeting of Cas-well and Person Counties will be held Several of our Conference Officers will be present to speak to us. We ask that a representative of all our Methodist churches be present, and, also extend an invitation to the other denominations to send a representative from their church.

BETHEL HILL DEFEATS ROXBORO HIGH 14-8

Final Inning Proves Poison To Roxboro In One Of Season's Hardest Fought Games

With almost everything in baseball included, both good and bad, Bethel Hill walked over Roxboro in the final innings by a 14-8 score. Roxboro secured an early 5-0 lead, then Bethel Hill took the lead 7-5. Roxboro scored three in sixth to take an 8-7 lead. In the eighth, inning Wilborn G., scored two runs with a triple down third third base line. This put Bethel Hill in front again and to this she added more in ninth on a perfect bunt Montague and a home run by Emmitt Wilborn.

Both teams batted the pitchers rather freely and most of the time fielded well. However several runs were scored by each team due to erfielded well rors. The Bethel Hill pitchers, Mon-tague and Wilborn, struck out ten, while Perkins whiffed right for Rox-boro. All in all, the game was clean boro. All in all, the game was clean and hard fought with plenty of thrills and heart aches for the rooters of each team. Mr. Harris of Roxboro, called the game and was very satisfactory to both teams and the supporters of each.

Bethel Hill meets Durham in Rox-boro in a championship on Wednesday, at 3:30. Durham defeated Roxboro by a one run margin and this game should be a thriller,-Cor.

New York Night Club Queen Advises People To Stay In The Country

GREAT TO WORK ON FARM

"Why, even the call of Broadway came from the farm—'hey! Hey!" says Texas Guinan. "I'm a ranch product myself and certainly can teach farmers how to sow wild oats. Of course"—and she winked—"I cater to the gentleman farmer.

"You hear a lot about farm relief these days.

"The only thing anybody read in the McNary-Haugen Bill was the part about farm relief.

"It's the farmer who puts the president in the chair. No class of people approaches the farmer in influence."

Texas Guinan is the most dazzling spectacle in all New York, the most talked of woman in the world today, perhaps because she symbolizes the gay elements of city life as does no one else.

Originator of the phrase "Hello, sucker," which is the form of her greeting to night club patrons, and "Give The Little Girl A Hand"—her bid for applause—she has fascinated bid for applause—she has fascinated by her personality.

all Manhattan by her personality.

And yet Texas Guinan, the greatest whoopee artist of them all, often thinks longingly of the farm. In an exclusive interview with a representa-tive of the Autocaster News Service, she told of her early life on a ranch near Waco, Texas, a ranch of tre-mendous proportions, "unpaid for un-til the time I left it." "Just get me somebody"—she leaned forward—"with a lot of dough and a nice farm already paid for and invite me to go there and rest—oh baby!

"On the farm people make their own laws. But I guess they'd keep an eye on me on the farm too. They'd bet-

"I've been made the football of the prohibition law, you know—and I've never had a drink in my life.
"It's easy to be a good girl on the farm but you've got to be a good girl in the city to get away with it!

"It's great to live on a farm if you can afford to. What with radios and telephones, and all the rest of the telephones, and all the rest of it, a farm's a country home now.

"When I was out in the great open spaces we had no such conveniences. "In those days people wanted to cut away from the farm on account of loneliness-today on the farm you can hear ball games, inauguration ceremonies and everything you want over the radio and have a better time than you would have on the scene.

"In my mall I get thousands of letters from kids saying 'I've got talent."
If they all came to the city there wouldn't be enough room to hold 'em. "If the person intending to leave the farm saw written before her a record of what she had to do and the hard knocks she would have to experience before succeeding, not one in one thousand would have the nerve to chance it. "Of course I've trained a lot of kids who came to me from the farm and are now married to millionaires, but for every one who makes a big hit

"I know people who come from farms who can never wait to get back to them. And say, it's wonderful to drive in your own farm gates-see the well cultivated ground-the fine home that's all paid for, and say: 'Gee, I'm glad to get away from the city mess.' Farms aren't uncomfortable any more. Peeple go to them to recuperate from

"There's got to be somebody on the farm for everyone out of it, and it's just as great to work on the farm as it is to be in the swim of things in the city:"
