MERCHANTS CONGRATULATED

We have heard only words of commendation for the merchants who helped put on Dollar Day last Thursday. It was a decided success, and every one seemed anxious to take advantage of the bargains on that day.

Of course, the grass on the other side of the fence always looks greenest, but really if those who reside in trading distance of Roxboro would only keep posted they would know nothing is saved by spending your money away from home, especially when it is a fact that on many well advertised lines they are regularly sold for less in Roxboro than in some of the other sections.

Again, take for instance groceries. If you will notice the prices advertised in the cities you will find that the same goods are being sold for less money in Roxboro. Yes, it pays to trade in Roxboro, and if you will post yourself you will find that we are not kidding you, but giving straight facts. Not only on special days, but every day in the year, Roxboro is your best market.

LIKE PATS CAT FISH

The opportunity this County was supposed to receive from the one cent gasoline tax has, like Pat's catfish, swunk. It was given out that the receipts from this source would be better than twenty-three thousand dollars, but the County Accountant has been notified that the first quarter it amounted to only sixteen hundred dollars. Now what our County Commissioners are wanting to know is, what has become of the remainder of this fund.

So, there is another matter which will require the best attention of the County Commissioners, and instead of reducing the tax rate five cents it would appear on its face that there would necessarily be an increase. "Unhappy lies the head that wears a crown," but that is nothing compared to the troubles of a County Commissioner of Person County.

The latest political gossip comes out of Hickory suggesting that Governor O. Max Gardner will be in the race for the Senate in 1932. Already there are two avowed candidates, Senator Overman, the present Senator, and Hon. Cameron Morrison, usually doped as this kind emanates from Raleigh, and we do not know how Hickory got in the limelight at this time, but evidently it scored one on Raleigh.

New Cheese Plant For Ashe County

Raleigh.—When dairy specialist Farnham and County Agent Turner cleaned out an old garage in West Jefferson last summer and invited farmers to bring in their milk to be made into cheese, some folks thought the two young men were suffering from a mild form of brain-storm.

"But," protested the two misguided men, "The Kraft Cheese company say they will take over the plant when we can guarantee 8,000 pounds of milk a day." "Sorry, boys, but there isn't that much milk in all this section," said some of the knowing ones.

Mr. Farnham and Mr. Turner had a meeting of some leading farmers who constituted themselves a committee in charge and after suitable preparations were made, the improvised cheese factory began operation. On the opening day, only 1100 pounds of milk were received but in less than a month, the guarantee of 8,000 pounds a day had been passed and the Kraft company had taken over the plant.

Wild Reed Pastures Fatten Beef Cattle

Raleigh.—Tests made with beef cattle in the black lands of eastern Carolina show that these areas may be used for the growing of beef cattle and that the wild reed pastures of the section are efficient in maintaining the animals.

"We began this beef cattle work at the Blackhead Branch Station farm three years ago," says Earl Hostetler, animal husbandman at State College. "There are several thousand acres of land near this farm covered with a dense growth of reeds which when dry cause a serious fire menace instead of returning an income. We purchased 32 head of native cows for the work and last year divided them into two groups. One group was bred to a native sire and the other to a pure bred Hereford bull. Each group was then placed on a comparable reed growth from June 8, 1928 until January 1, 1929."

"Spark Plug" Is Still Going Good

San Antonio, Texas—A Chevrolet with a chassis built in 1913, a full year before the World War began, and a motor that was assembled when our doughboys were encamping back in 1917, is still in daily use at Goliad, Texas.

too, that "Spark Plug" appears a bit antiquarian when contrasted with the handsome new Flusher bodies of the 1929 Chevrolet. But "Spark Plug" can do plenty of climbing, speeding and hauling on its own account and is beyond question an outstanding example of a long-lived and dependable automobile.

On several occasions Wilks has hitched a trailer to "Spark Plug" and pulled a load of 2,000 pounds, plus the 815 pounds which the trailer weighs, all the way to San Antonio, 125 miles distant.

Not long ago he piled it high with a 1515 pounds load of cotton bales and drove it through a dry creek bed—a road which no other driver in the section would dare traverse in a modern car. Many times he has driven it with water up to the floor boards.

No hill in the section is too tough for "Spark Plug", and Wilks says that it is sufficiently economical, continuing to give as good as 20 miles to the gallon.

... and there's no parking problem on the farm

FUNNY how farmers and city folks sorta feel sorry for each other. City folks think farmers have a tough time without street cars, traffic cops, night clubs, delicatessens and Greek restaurants. And the farmer thinks the city fellow is pretty dumb because he doesn't know a Berkshire boar from a Duroc shoat... Personally I think the farmer's got the best of it by a mile. With Delco-Light to give him the city conveniences at home and a car to take him wherever else he wants to go, he can live a pretty full life without ever wearing a swallow-tail coat or gray spats. With Delco-Light, he could even afford to wear them, if he wanted to.
