CO-OP RECEIVERS PAY OFF BIG DEBT

Not Now Expected Growers Will Get Over $500,000; Attorneys' Fee Ruling Soon

ALL SECURED DEBTS PAID

Raleigh, Nov. 12.—James H. Pott, one of the receivers of the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, announced yesterday that all of the $3,703,200 due the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank in Baltimore when the receivers were appointed on June 19, 1928, has now been paid. The amount due October 31 was $63,474.93.

Completion of this transaction leaves the receivers free of any secured indebtedness; but an undetermined amount of unsecured indebtedness must be paid as well as the final expense of the receivership and distribution. The receivers now have on hand 9,146,869 pounds of tobacco on which the bankers' valuation is $1,980,186.41. However, the amount realized will be much smaller. In addition the receivers have due them $162,923.52 from tobacco already sold and sums carried on the books at large amounts on account of investments in the subsidiary warehousing corporations, from which small returns are expected.

While the report of the receivers filed yesterday shows a paper equity for the grower members of $3,281,247, it is not expected that this amount will actually be much over $500,000.

There was a movement on foot to have this amount turned over to the proposed new growers' association as a cash reserve instead of divided in small dribbles among the 96,000 members of the old association. However, this movement has been abandoned, one stumbling block being the fact that many of the grower members assigned their claims to banks, which are unwilling to release them.

$345.22 For Load

Mr. D. H. Day sold a one horse load—and it was a small load, at that—694 pounds, at the Pioneer Monday and received a check for $345.22. That reminds us of days we never expected to see again, but it shows that it pays to raise fine tobacco, and sell it in Roxboro.

Sales Blocked Twice, But Prices Show No Decline; Farmers Seem Well Pleased

1 SALE AV. $26.87 MONDAY

The town was full of wagons loaded with tobacco last week, and the farmers were highly pleased with sales and prices. It is not uncommon now to see a pile of wrappers knocked off at seventy-five and eighty dollars, and quite a number of farmers have averaged better than fifty dollars for their entire load.

The sales last week were 757,762 pounds for $183,092.24, making an average of $24.16. Total sales to date are 2,622,848, which brought $554,186.49, the average for the season being $20.81.

Monday the sales were again blocked but the buyers stood by and saw that no pile was overlooked.

The farmers are patronizing their home market in a manner which is highly pleasing to all, and every one is trying to see that nothing is left undone to make the farmer's stay both pleasant and profitable.

ARMISTICE DAY IN ROXBORO SCHOOLS

Appropriate Program Rendered At The Central And High School Buildings

IMPRESSIVE EXERCISES

At the Central graded school and at the high school appropriate and very impressive Armistice Day programs were presented on Monday morning. It is to be regretted that so few—extremely few—of the parents and other friends of the schools were present to enjoy the exercises at each school.

At the Central school the following program was given:

Song: "America The Beautiful," by the school.

President Wilson's "War Message," by R. E. Hamlin, Jr.

"Heroes of Yesterday," short address, by Fletcher Winstead.

"Heroes of Today," short selection, by Ben Broadwell.

Poem: "In Flanders Field," recited by H. K. Sanders, Jr.

"Some Results of the World War," facts given by Helen Day.

War Songs: sung by school.

Chalk-talk: Mrs. R. L. Wilburn, in her charming and inimitable manner, brought to pupils, parents, and teachers an interesting, illuminating and impressive message on the subject of "Peace."

Mrs. Wilburn sketched a crayon picture as she gave entertainingly and effectively a lesson story, the meaning of which can not soon be forgotten by her hearers.

Mrs. Wheeler Newell sang in her own sweet and inspiring way the popular war song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

Pledge to the Flag. The pledge and flag salute were given by the pupils with remarkable precision and impressiveness. Miss Collins is mainly responsible for that excellent performance.

Song: "Soldier Boy," sung by Annie Barden Winstead.

Closing song: "America," by the pupils. All the singing by the school was under the direction of Miss Maude Montague, teacher of third grade, who is rendering a very helpful service in directing the singing of the pupils in the regular assembly periods.
