

165 Killed Hundreds Hurt As Elements In Full Fury Sweep Over Land and Sea

Earthquakes Spread Death And Destruction In Balkan States While In United States Violent Rains And Snowstorms Work Toll

HEAVY PROPERTY DAMAGE

Over Entire Area Of Atlantic Seaboard And Far Into West Cold, Rain And Snow Spread—River Seine Threatens Damage In France

The elements in all their fury beat across sea and land Sunday, earthquakes and storms bringing death to 165 and injuries to several hundred others. Of these, 150 were reported quake victims.

Earth shocks spread death and destruction in the Balkan states. In the United States violent rain and snowstorms worked their toll of life and property over nearly the entire area of the Atlantic seaboard and far into the west.

Snow blew into the southland over the week-end in Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina and eastern Tennessee. The storm was not accompanied by sufficient cold to keep the snow however, the flakes melting almost as soon as they reached the ground, leaving the threat of ice on the still frost.

In the mid-west blizzards a cold March snowed. Snow banks 12, 18 and 24 feet high were held reported. In 12 deaths in one town. Breakfast hours can not be held in many places.

Deaths in N. C. reported 100 and injuries 150. In N. C. the storm was a disaster. In N. C. the storm was a disaster. In N. C. the storm was a disaster.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY BY ERNEST CAMP JR

POOR BUT PROUD

If you have to be poor, be poor in style. That is the attitude of some of New York's neediest needy. Police distributing clothing to those in want, say that many of them turn up their noses at clothes that aren't stylish. People in dire need examine the clothing they are offered with critical care. If it does not meet with their ideas of style, they reject it outright or make the exchange that they return later.

At an East-side distributing station, they tried to exchange several pairs of women's high-heeled shoes. In practically all cases, women rejected them, even though the shoes were had on well-worn and worn.

BLOOD MONEY

The police are looking for a man who is believed to have been in the city for some time. He is believed to have been in the city for some time. He is believed to have been in the city for some time.

It is estimated that there are between 3,000 and 4,000 professional bondsmen in New York.

AT DAWNING

If you are one of those who gets up early enough to hear the radio program "On the 8:15," (cries of "Early! That's almost noon, my boy,") you must be interested (I'm an optimist, all right) to know that the Lawdt Trio and White have received a scroll of honorary membership in the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. This was awarded for the realism of the program's train effects.

BIG AND CLEAN

In some sections of the city, where buildings are not modernized, there are public bath-houses for the convenience of those who wish to use them.

A customer nearly caused the attendant to fall into the pool when he handed him a check for $1,000, saying that the money was to go to the city in payment for its generosity in letting him use soap and towels. The attendant found the check payable. He refused to cash it, however, for further investigation disclosed that the donor, in addition to his startling generosity, also had the habit of trying to jump off bridges.

Authorities sent the check back to the bank and put the grateful bather in an observation ward.

TO MARKET, TO MARKET

Two young men connected with the New York Stock Exchange were able to cause a run on the market for a time. They remember their past training.

One is "Red" Cagle, former captain of the Army team, the other, John Law, captain of the Notre Dame eleven in 1929. Cagle is reported to be earning his bread as a telephone clerk and Law's duties are said to be of a similar nature.

TANT-A-RA DEPT.

Speaking of sound effects, the latest thing in the radio studios is a keyboard which controls the sounding of automobile horns. The new instrumental creation, composed of 36 horns, each one tuned to one of 36 notes in a scale of three octaves, is played by fingering a row of buttons, all of which are like the horn buttons on a steering wheel of a traffic-going automobile.

'HELPING OUT' THE EDITOR

Business men don't run advertising any more "just to help support the newspaper." That is a thing of the past except in a few backwoods villages. Merchants have to watch their overhead now, and buy advertising space just like they buy any other commodity—for the returns it will bring.

This is as it should be. People don't buy groceries or clothing just to help support the merchant. They buy because they need the merchandise.

The newspaper business is a business proposition just the same as any other concern. If it has the subscribers that a merchant desires to reach with his advertising, then he should buy space. Many need "Moo" Mail.
