DANIELS IS FAVORED BY EASTERN SECTION FOR NEXT GOVERNOR

Elements Backing Editor Are Strong Enough To Make A Stand Against Business

SALES TAX HELPED HIM

Raleigh, June 14.—Eastern North Carolina men who have been attending the commencements at Duke and University of North Carolina bring the news that when any candidates for governor reckon without Josephus Daniels for gentleman, gentleman or gentlemanly women simply calculate without their hosts.

It has been a pretty generally distributed observation in which the hand of Mr. Daniels has not been visible. His paper has carried an occasional news story or public pulse contribution in which the idea was advanced, but the editor of the News and Observer isn't helping himself purposely.

Tests Daniels' Strength.

Simon Justus Everett, of Grensville, made an involuntary test of the Daniels strength a few days ago. He fell into a group who were talking politics incident to their business in the Pitt capital.

BOSTON GOLFERS WIN FROM LOCALS

Roy R. Shotwell is Low Scorer Of The Match, Turning In Score Of 87

JOHN MORRIS IS SECOND

Playing the long Hope Valley Course at Durham with a brand of golf that was surprising to followers of the match, the Halifax County Golf Club team defeated Roxboro in the first inter-city tournament between the two clubs.

Play was 18 holes in foursomes, 12 entrants from each club participating in single matches. Nassau method of scoring was used to determine winners, each match playing for 3 points. One point in the scoring was given to the winner of each nine holes match play and an additional point for the low aggregate medal score.

John Morris led the Roxboro golfers with a score of 88. Morris played an excellent game throughout and many of his shots, both on the greens and fairways, would have been a credit to a golfer of years experience.

The score that returned Halifax County Golf team winner of the match was as follows:

Morris, Roxboro—defeated Hill 3 points.

SURVEY NEW LAWS ON HUNTING AND FISHING

Emphasize Act Legalizing Fee System For Private Game Preserves

Raleigh, June 17.—Considered as the most important law passed by the last Legislature affecting the program of the State Department of Conservation and Development is the act giving legal status to privately owned hunting grounds and empowering the department to encourage the establishment of such areas of not less than 3,000 acres.

This new law and others affecting hunting and fishing have been compiled and will be issued in booklet form shortly, it was stated at the department yesterday.

The game preserve law, department officials stated, is intended to stimulate the interest of landowners in protecting and replenishing game resources and to provide a means of return for these efforts. Under the statute, landowners, after organizing and meeting specified requirements may charge a fee of not more than $4 a day for hunting.

Hunting law changes including moving up the open season on squirrels and deer to September 15. Open season on taking opossums and raccoons with gun and dogs will start October 1, but trapping will not be allowed until November 15.

Only one major change was made in the inland fishing regulations this being the raising of the non-resident license fee from $3.10 to $5.10.

Authority to promulgate fishing regulations was left in the hands of the board. Inland fishing regulations have been compiled in a booklet which may be obtained from the department here.

Rotary Discusses Tobacco Situation

The Roxboro Rotary club held its regular weekly meeting last Thursday night, being the guests of the ladies of the Presbyterian church at the Woman's club building.

The program was in charge of the urban committee, Mr. S. R. Davis, chairman. In presenting the program Mr. Davis said he might be venturing far afield, but he thought it a good time to say something about the warehouse situation in Roxboro, as it vitally touched the interest of nearly every one. He stressed the point that every one should lend a helping hand and see if more tobacco could not be brought here the coming season, for it is a well known fact that hardly more than fifty per cent of the tobacco raised in the County is sold here. Others followed pledging their best help towards making Roxboro one of the leading markets in this section.

OPERATED TWO YEARS

An order directing the dissolution of the Greater Durham Building and Loan association was signed yesterday afternoon by Judge Cameron F. McRae following the filing of suit by R. S. McGhee, large stockholder, asking that the assets of the association be liquidated to protect the holders of stock.

The action was not contested by the officers of the association who filed an answer admitting the allegations in the complaint presented by the plaintiff McGhee and joined in with him in petitioning the court for authority to liquidate the company's holdings.

Stockholders and others who have invested money with the association will be fully protected and receive (Continued on page five)

Textile Mills To Curtail Work Soon

Several Mills Will Halt Operations Entirely For Week During Month Of July

Charlotte, June 12.—The Observer says it has learned from semi-official sources that practically all southern textile mills will sharply curtail production the latter part of this month and early in July.

The paper says the practice of halting operations entirely for a week in July, generally adopted by the industry during the last several years, will again be followed by a number of mills in this section.

Other mills, the paper says, are planning to operate only every other week during July and August in an effort to regulate supply to demand in the hopes of obtaining better prices for their products.

Hoover Annoyed By Aviators At Marion

En route with President Hoover to Springfield, Ill., June 16.—President Hoover tonight called upon Secretary Lamont to make "an example" of three aviators who flew over the Harding memorial at Marion while the dedication exercises were in progress today.

The Secretary of Commerce, who boarded the President's train at Columbus was ordered to proceed under the Federal law which provides that licensed aviators shall not disturb public meetings. If he cannot bring to task fliers who disturb such meetings, Mr. Hoover made it plain he would recommend laws to prohibit similar occurrences to the next session of Congress.

The action was taken it was said, because flying over outdoor meetings, endangered the crowds and also interrupted the program.

Three planes flew over the meeting today. One, an Autogiro, passed over the crowd several times. It was said on the President's special car that former President Coolidge had been "very much disturbed and bothered by the planes" and that Mr. Hoover had been interrupted.

BOTTLERS VOLUNTEER TO PAY $100,000 TAX

Unwilling To Profit By Error In Enrolling Revenue Bill Passed By Legislature

ATTORNEY-GENERAL TO DECIDE QUESTION

Raleigh, June 12.—The North Carolina Bottlers' association today asked the state of North Carolina to allow the payment by bottlers of the state of something like $100,000 in increased taxes which the 1931 general assembly intended to impose on them but which an error in enrolling of the revenue bill failed to do.

J. Elmer Long, of Durham, former Lieutenant governor, today appeared before Gov. O. Max Gardner and A. J. Maxwell, commissioner of revenue, in behalf of the Bottlers' association and said the organized bottlers do not want in any way to profit by the $100,000 error in the revenue bill.

Mr. Long said the bottlers hoped to find some way to pay the state the $100,000 which the revenue bill omitted.

If the state cannot take the tax, he said, the bottlers desire to pay the state the full amount which it was intended to levy on them for the biennium 1931-33 with the state holding it in abeyance until the 1933 general assembly meets and enacts a law whereby the state can take the money.

Commissioner Maxwell said the matter was a question which Attorney General D. G. Brummitt must decide. He asked Mr. Long to submit his proposition to him and he in turn will give it to Mr. Brummitt.

GROWERS WARNED TO LEAVE LOW PRIMINGS

Warehouse Association Says Tobacco Farmers Should Not Market All of Crop

OTHER LEAVES BETTER

Kinston, June 14.—The Eastern Carolina Warehouse association today issued a warning to tobacco growers to leave on the stalk bottom primings from the 1931 crop. The association believes they will not bring enough on the market to pay the cost of hauling and curing.

Leaving bottom primings on the stalk will mean that other leaves will be of better quality, it was stated. Farmers will get more by following the warehouseman's advice than by marketing the entire crop, it was declared. "If there is not a material reduction in quantity of tobacco this year lower prices are certain to prevail" prices even lower than those of 1930, which were called disastrous. "Prosperity lies in smaller production with improved quality."

Growers were assured that the as- (Continued on page five)

WILLIAM FRAZER SENTENCED TO DIE

Convicted After Five Hours of Death Ride Murder of Mrs. Phoebe Stader

BODY FOUND IN VIRGINIA

Elizabeth, N. J., June 16.—William Moore Frazer of Rahway, charged with the "death ride" killing February 16 of Mrs. Phoebe Stader whom he professed he loved, was convicted of first degree murder tonight. The jury deliberated five hours and did not recommend mercy. The verdict carried a mandatory death penalty.

Within a half hour after papers had been signed, Judge Alfred A. Stein sentenced Frazer to die in the electric chair the week of July 27. Frazer's mother, who occupied a seat in the rear of the court room, fainted when the jury reported it had found the defendant guilty of first degree murder.

She was carried from the court room and did not hear Judge Stein pronounce sentence. Frazer's wife, present during most of the trial, was not in the room when the jurors returned with the verdict. (Continued on last page)

TYPHOID FEVER AND DIPHTHERIA TREATMENT FREE

State And County Boards Of Health Offering Protection To Every One

TO VISIT EACH SECTION

Person County and the North Carolina State Board of Health are offering protection by free vaccination against typhoid fever and diphtheria to every man, woman and child in the county. Vaccination with typhoid vaccine has been one way of reducing the number of death and cases for the last fifteen years.

Take it! Your neighbor may be careless.

In 1930, 3,248 people in North Carolina had diphtheria, and 253 died. Eighty-three per cent of those who had diphtheria and those who died of diphtheria were under five years of age. A great part of the expense of sickness and death of these children could have been prevented by diphtheria vaccine.

Every child between the ages of six months and ten years should take diphtheria vaccine. It has been shown by careful records that three doses will immunize eighty-five per cent of children treated.

Three treatments of diphtheria or typhoid vaccine are necessary. Each is harmless, practically a certain preventative, and almost painless. Neither cause any sore.

Bring the whole family to the nearest dispensary point. Remember! We wish to improve the health and save the lives of white and black, old and young, rich and poor, you and the other fellow.
