An Effort Being Made To Re-Open First National Bank

About Forty Men Interested Met Last Night And Heard Proposition

WILL REQUIRE $50,000 FOR RE-OPENING

The first meeting looking to the re-opening of the First National Bank of Roxboro was held last night in the Cheek & Woody store, with about forty present. Mr. T. B. Woody, who has been to Washington looking into the proposition, and Mr. S. G. Winstead, president of the bank when it closed its door, presented the proposition and explained the manner of procedure. After discussing the question from all angles it was decided to hold another meeting at the court house on next Friday afternoon. All stockholders and depositors will be invited to attend this meeting. We are not familiar with the new proposition, but the first thing which will be necessary, as we are informed, will be to raise fifty thousand dollars in cash, and get certain pledges from the depositors as to leaving their deposits with the bank for a certain period of time. If you are interested, either as stockholder, depositor or borrower, attend the meeting Friday.

Prominent Roxboro Couple Is Married

Last Saturday morning, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mollie Paylor Satterfield, near Roxboro, Miss Mildred Davis Satterfield and Dr. Austin Flint Nichols were married, the ceremony being witnessed by only a few of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. Mrs. Nichols is a member of the Roxboro high school, having charge of the English department, a position she has held for several years, and is very prominent in the social affairs of the city. Dr. Nichols is one of the prominent physicians of the city, enjoying a large practice, and is a factor in all of the civic affairs of the city. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for an extended wedding trip to northern cities, expecting to be away for about two weeks, after which they will make their home here.

Mr. Ellmore Transferred to Philadelphia

Always rejoice at the promotion and bid candidly we regret that Mr. G. H. Ellmore, manager of the personnel department of the Collins & Aikman Corp., is to be promoted and moved to the home office in Philadelphia. Few men have come to Roxboro who have made a more enviable reputation than has Mr. Ellmore, and we can ill afford to lose such men. We can only hope his successor will come near measuring up to his ability both with the company and in making friends. We sincerely regret to lose both he and his family as citizens, and wish them well in their new field.

Chandler-Newell Nuptials Announced

Cards announcing the marriage of Miss Josephine Smith Chandler and Mr. Russell Emerson Newell were received here last Monday morning, the marriage taking place in Halifax, Va., on Saturday, October 10th, 1931, the ceremony having been performed by Rev. R. W. Hagwell. Mrs. Newell is the daughter of Mr. C. G. Chandler, of Semora. Mr. Newell is the son of Mrs. W. H. B. Newell, and is one of Roxboro's most successful young business men, being connected with the Newell Jewelry Co. Mr. and Mrs. Newell will make their home with Mrs. T. C. Brooks, at her beautiful country home, the Pines, near Roxboro.

Not The Same Here

Mr. D. S. Long, one of our good friends on Route 1, was a visitor last Saturday and stated that he had plenty to eat, but what he needed just now was money. We need both.

Woman's Club Meets Monday, Nov. 2nd

Skyscrapers of Gotham Are Revelation to French Girl

Josee Laval Views Sights of American Metropolis From Top of World's Tallest Building—Finds Shopping In Smart Shops Very Interesting

New York, Oct. 26.—Vivacious Josee Laval found New York a bit too big and her time a trifle too short today, but just the same she can tell the home folks she saw it all—from a height of 1,200 feet. The 19-year-old daughter of the French premier got a panoramic view of the metropolis from the world's tallest building with such distinguished guides as former Governor Alfred E. Smith—complete with brown derby and jutting cigar—and John J. Raskob. Her youthful desire for "close-up" of everything she saw in miniature from the skyscraper stretched her subsequent motor tour down Fifth avenue, past the smart women's shops, up along Riverside drive and across the shining new George Washington bridge. But even then there were a hundred things she did not have an opportunity to examine and pronounce, in her favorite phrase "tres magnifique." Mlle. Laval and her father began their last day in the United States by breakfasting in the presidential suite in a tower of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. Dressed in a brown and white ensemble and a knitted brown beret, with a fox scarf around her shoulders, Mlle. Laval accompanied her father to the Empire State building. The girl's brown eyes sparkled as Mr. Smith pointed out famous spots on the skyline from the 86th floor. There was one object in which Mlle. Laval did not need identification. "That's the Brooklyn bridge," she cried, pointing to the southeast. But Mlle. Josee wanted to go higher. So Mr. Raskob guided her to the 102nd floor, where a 50-mile northeast wind soon sent her down again, shivering with the cold. After luncheon she set out to continue her tour of the city. Preceded by a motorcycle escort and followed by reporters and cameramen, her party endeavored to scurry to all parts of Manhattan before dusk. After that there were official engagements. Mlle. Laval had promised to join her father at a banquet given by the French chamber of commerce—but just for a minute, she said, as she accepted an invitation to the theater with the party of Andre Citroen, French automobile manufacturer.

A Revolutionary Improvement In Watches

Radical changes in watch construction have been "few and far between." Not since 1788 has there been a revolutionary departure from the "conventional" arrangement of a watch movement. But 1931 marks a milestone in the evolution of American watches by the inauguration of an improvement which eliminates the necessity of the "compensating" balance wheel, invented in 1788, the last previous great development of this character. The improvement lately announced by two large watch manufacturers is a hair-spring made out of "Elinvar." This hair-spring is not affected in elasticity by temperature changes and for that reason does away with the need for the "compensating" balance. It cannot become permanently magnetized and therefore meets one of the greatest needs of this electrical age—when watches are so with magnetic fields. Elinvar hair-springs are also immune to rust, which is said to cause 80% of watch repair jobs. These watches are made by Hamilton and sold at The Newells, Jewelers.

Dr. Love Improving

Dr. B. E. Love underwent an operation at Watts hospital one day last week, and his friends will be glad to know the operation was entirely satisfactory, and he hopes to be able to return home soon.

Robbers Visit Three Places Saturday Night

Thieves were active here last Saturday night when they visited the stores of Messrs. Hambrick, Austin & Thomas, where they secured a dollar watch and some loose change; they also visited the Central Service Station and secured about $8.00 in cash, and again they went into the store of Messrs. Aubrey Long & Co., where they made the best haul, securing about $35.00. With only a slight clue the police are working on the job, but without any visible results so far.

Another Roxboro Boy Making Good

The following letter, copy of which was sent us by Col. Horton, is very complimentary to Cadet Winstead, and we congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Winstead for the success of their son: October 24, 1931. Mr. H. W. Winstead, Roxboro, N. C. My dear Mr. Winstead: As a result of official orders published October 17th, Cadet Winstead, H. W., Jr., has been named as Cadet Corporal and assigned to Company B. This means that your boy has demonstrated his efficiency in a group of nearly five hundred cadets from thirty-three different states and five foreign countries. I hope that you will congratulate him and encourage him to put forth the effort necessary to qualify for further promotions. Sincerely yours, O. R. Horton, Lt. Col. Inf. Res., Superintendent.

Gov. Johnson Here

About the biggest man, physically, mentally or socially, in Rotary in this section is Governor Ted Johnson, of Raleigh, and it was a real pleasure of the Rotary club here to have the Gov. with them last Thursday night. He was accompanied by his good wife, though she failed to honor the club with her presence. After lunch the Gov. made one of the most sensible, out of the ordinary addresses the club has had the pleasure of hearing.

EXTRA SESSION WOULD NOT BE REQUESTED TO RESTRICT ITS DEBATE

Gov. Gardner Says Legislators Not To Be Asked To Consider Only One Subject

WHETHER CALL WILL BE MADE NOT YET KNOWN

Raleigh, Oct. 26.—North Carolina's general assembly will not be called into extraordinary session with its members pledged to limit their legislative activities, Governor O. Max Gardner said today in a formal statement. In his first prepared statement on the proposal to call a special session with members of the assembly pledged to consider only cotton and tobacco acreage curtailment, legislation, the governor declared: "If condition should warrant and demand that, with the consent and approval of the council of state, I should convene the general assembly in special session for any purpose, I would not undertake to bind and fetter the members by personal pledges to limit their constitutional and inherent powers to legislate. To undertake to do this would, in my opinion, indicate a lack of faith and confidence in the patriotism of the general assembly itself." Sentiment Against It Governor Gardner declared (Continued on page four)

SERIES OF MEETINGS HAVE BEEN HELPFUL

Rev. Hugh Bradley Has Preached Daily For The Past Ten Days

MEETING ENDS WITH TONIGHT'S SERVICES

The series of sermons which have been preached at the Presbyterian church by Rev. Hugh Bradley, of Roanoke Rapids, have been greatly enjoyed by large congregations at each service. For ten days Mr. Bradley has brought the Gospel home to his hearers, and his style of preaching has been delightful. Last Sunday night there was an overflow, and quite a number had to be turned away. His subject at this service was, "Ye must be born again," and there were many who, notwithstanding their names are on the church rolls, asked themselves if indeed, and in truth, had they been born again. It was a masterful sermon, full of thought and beautifully delivered, and will undoubtedly bear much fruit. Mr. Bradley has deeply endeared himself to the people of this town and community, and they will long remember his messages. The meeting will close tonight.

Heavy Tobacco Sales Monday

Better Grades Offered And Prices Becoming More Satisfactory

We believe there were more people here Monday with tobacco than on any day this season. Of course, the price continues low, but it seemed the farmers were better satisfied, probably because their average was better. As the season advances better tobacco is coming in and the average will be better. Everybody seems to be at sea, not knowing whether to advise the farmer to sell, or to hold, but it seems apparent to all that there is no prospect for the lower grades improving, as no one seems to want them at any price.

Disability Benefits

One of my companies, the Indianapolis Life, decided on July 1, to stop granting disability insurance in with life insurance. The Mutual Life of New York will abandon this practice in January, 1932. Other companies expect to follow these soon. If you would like to have the disability clause in your insurance, you had better buy now. I can give it to you without examination or with examination just as you wish. We have one man who is drawing $100.00 a month and the company is paying his premium. All of those who have this clause HOLD to them and do not let them lapse. KNIGHT'S INS. AGENCY.

"The College Flapper" Was Well Received

"The College Flapper," a play put on by Miss Weaver, under the auspices of the Woman's Club, was a decided success, financially and otherwise. The play was given two nights last week, Thursday and Friday, the large auditorium of the high school was practically full at the first performance. One of the enjoyable features was the selections rendered by the Roxboro Chorus club. The play netted the Woman's club quite a satisfactory amount, which the ladies will have to carry on some worthy effort which they make each year.

Defeat Of Arthur Henderson, Worst Casualty Suffered By Labor Party

GREATEST LANDSLIDE IN BRITISH HISTORY

London, Oct. 28.—Prime Minister J. Ramsay Macdonald's national government buried the Labor party today under the greatest election landslide in modern British history. Led by Stanley Baldwin's Conservative party, the national cabinet supporters smashed the Socialist attack in the Midlands, in the Scottish Highlands, in the great industrial regions and in every other part of the nation where the voters responded to Macdonald's plea for a free hand in dealing with the national financial and economic emergency. With 287 of the total of 615 seats in the House of Commons already decided, the national government parties, Conservatives, most Liberals and Macdonald Laborites, had won a total of 264 seats as compared to 23 for the Labor party. A total of 308 is required for a majority. (Continued on page four)

Hallowe'en Exercise At Helena School

Come one, come all To the witches call. The witches and goblins will be in full parade at Helena High School Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. At 7:30 o'clock the curtain will open to reveal perhaps the most joyous occasion of the school year. The program consists of songs, recitations and plays. The high school will present "The Haunted House," that really is haunted. All grades will participate in the evening's program. Last but not least, a dress parade will be staged and the best costume will receive a prize. You are invited to this program and to participate in the costumed parade. Admission 15c and 10c.

2,991 New Motor Cars Sold In The State Last Month

Raleigh, Oct. 13.—There were 2,991 new automobiles and motor trucks sold in North Carolina in September this year, an increase of 34 vehicles over the total of 2,957 sold in the same month last year. L. S. Harris, director of the motor vehicle bureau, reported today. There were 2,084 passenger cars and 907 trucks sold in September this year compared to 2,418 cars and 541 trucks in the same month last year. In August this year there were 3,134 vehicles sold, compared to 3,395 sold in August, 1930.

6 Per Cent Decrease In Tobacco Exports

Washington, Oct. 26.—Tobacco exports decreased approximately 6 per cent during the first nine months of 1931. The commerce department today placed the exports at 380,204,456 pounds of leaf, a decline of approximately 6 per cent from the same period of 1930, but an increase of 3.5 per cent when compared with 1929. Values fell 17 per cent. The average per hundred pounds for the nine-month period this year was $19.65, compared with $22.55 in 1930 and $24.42 in 1929. The value of leaf tobacco exported this year totalled $70,790,968.

Premier Laval In Abe Lincoln's Bed

Washington, Oct. 26.—A huge and historic bed made especially to fit the giant frame of Abraham Lincoln was the resting place of Premier Laval during his stay at the White House Friday night. Set up in what is known as the Lincoln suite of the Executive Mansion, the bed measures nearly nine feet in length and six feet across. Its comfort is a by-word in the White House. The French Premier stands five feet six. Prime Minister Ramsay Macdonald slept in the bed two years ago. It has borne other notables too.
