Side Quit Hurting, Got Stronger, Well; CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. R. L. West, of Huntsville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting and I was soon feeling strong and well." Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

VERY LATEST

Cool and comfortable as this attractive frock for morning wear. It is easily made, easily worn, and easily laundered, due to the simple lines of its design.

It may be developed in the smart diagonal striped cotton, in red and white, blue and white, or green and white, with bright colored buttons and slide giving accent to the white trimming and belt. Or cotton flower prints, linen, or tub silk may be used.

The shaped trimming on the waist and the belt are made of contrasting material, and the capelet sleeves are ideal for spring and summer wear.

Designed in sizes 34 to 46, size 38 requires 3 2-3 yards of 39 inch material with 1-4 yard of contrasting material, 35 inches wide, for the belt and waist trimming. The width of the dress at the lower edge, with plait fullness extended, is two yards.

Person Co. Chapter of U. D. C. Hostesses To Veterans May 10

The Person County Chapter of the U. D. C. were hostesses to the Veterans of the county May 10th.

Mrs. G. A. Duncan presided. After welcoming those in attendance, a quartet composed of Messrs. Jim Kinkaid, A. J. McKelvey, King, and Strange, sang "My Native Land." Invocation was by Rev. E. B. Craven. Another quartet, "The Blue and the Gray," was rendered at this time. Mrs. E. E. Bradsher accompanied them at the piano each time.

The president introduced the speaker of the day, Mr. N. Lunsford, who gave us an inspiring address that was enjoyed by all present.

Nancy Bradsher, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bradsher, told a beautiful story entitled, "What The Knight Wished."

"Tenting Tonight," was rendered by the quartet after which, Rev. J. F. Herbert dismissed us with prayer.

The president invited all present to the Woman's Club rooms where a bounteous lunch was served. Rev. W. F. West giving thanks for us. After lunch cars were furnished and all that wished were taken to the cemetery where the graves of the Confederate dead and their wives were decorated with flowers and flags.

There were five veterans present: Mr. R. H. Oakley, Mr. W. F. Reade, Mr. Sam Barnwell, Mr. Wyatt Brooks and Dr. P. G. Pritchard.

We hope to have every one of them back with us for another enjoyable day May 10th, 1934.

We want to thank the following for their help which made the day such an enjoyable one: Our president, Mrs. G. A. Duncan; Mesdames J. H. Hughes, M. R. Long and E. E. Bradsher, Messrs. The Turn of The Tide

Prices have begun to rise. That is the best news the country has had in three years. The rise has started where it ought to start, with the basic products of agriculture. Wheat, cotton, corn, hogs, tobacco, rice, dairy products, have all started upward. Some are rising faster than others, but all are showing an upward tendency.

We do not think that this is merely another "false alarm." We believe that factors have been brought into play which will put prices up still higher, until we reach somewhere near the level of 1928. That is what those in charge of the nation's destinies are aiming at we are told. That would mean that the average of commodity prices would be more than double present prices, in some instances, half to two-thirds higher in others.

Starting with the products of agriculture, the rise in prices is bound to extend to industrial products. For when the farmer begins to get a profit from his operations he can begin to pay up his back taxes and mortgage interest, to buy the commodities he and his family require. Money thus put into circulation enables others, in turn, to buy at prices which mean a profit to the seller. That means that manufacturers can start up their factories

We have never felt there was much to the argument that people have stopped wanting to buy things. The only reason they have stopped buying is lack of money to buy with. There is not and never has been "overproduction" in the sense that more commodities were produced than people wanted. Our whole social system is built upon multiplying wants and as money circulates again people will gratify those wants.—Autocaster.

Buttermilk Recommended As Good Hot Day Drink

Raleigh.—A jar of ice-cold buttermilk is a highly nutritious drink for hot weather and should have a place in every spring box or refrigerator, declares W. L. Clevenger, dairy specialist at State College.

Buttermilk is generally regarded as a by-product of making butter but it can easily be made from whole, sweet milk in any home. In fact, the buttermilk made this way from cultures is usually superior to ordinary buttermilk in both flavor and quality, he says.

These gardens that everybody speaks about sound attractive, but where do you buy the beer seed?

It has been found that high frequency electric currents will kill typhoid germs.
