Followers of tennis confidentially expected to see the American Davis cup team return to the United States from overseas with the Davis cup. Instead the United States was defeated by England and didn't even get to play France.

That certainly is a beautiful race in the American league. The New York Yankees are in the lead one day and the Washington Senators the next.

Volmami Iso-Hollo, the young Finnish runner and Olympic steeplechase champion, broke the world record for four miles the other day at Viborg, Finland, in an athletic meet, covering the distance in 19 minutes and one second.

The other day at Phoenixville, Pa., a woodpecker landed on a baseball umpire's head during a ball game. Would give three cents to know what the bird was thinking about.

"Grandstand" managers are predicting that Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees will manage the Brooklyn Dodgers next year. It is also said that Ruth will manage the Chicago White Sox.

For the second time in succeeding months Mattir Javinen of Finland has broken the world's record for throwing the javelin. The Olympic champion competing in an athletic meet at Vaasa, Finland, made a throw of 74.61 meters, approximately 244 feet.

A terrific double duel of tackles is in prospect for the Century of Progress all-star football game the night of August 24, in Chicago, with Dal Marvill and Jack Riley, Northwestern 1931, behemoths, aligned against Southern California's great 1932 pair of Ernie Smith and Tay Brown.

Eva Coleman, a cashier in a London hotel, plans to tackle the English channel this month to give England the women's record now held by Gertrude Ederle, of New York.

The youthful players on the four clubs in the Nebraska State Baseball league, receive no more than $50 a month.

The annual women's national tennis championships—singles and doubles—will be played at Forest Hills, New York, August 14-19. Miss Helen Jacobs will defend her title. Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, many times winner, will seek to regain championship honors. Miss Alice Mrable, of California, will bear watching in this tournament. She is a coming champion.

Baseball, boxing, golf, horse shows, polo, racing, tennis, yachting—these are all offered to the visitor to New York these days. The sports season is at its height.

Sales at the newly established curb market at Lenox, Caldwell County, have averaged about $500 a month and are growing steadily.

Willie Macfarlane, 43-old veteran of the Oak Ridge Golf club, Tuckahoe, N. Y., is the new New York metropolitan open golf champion.

IN MEMORY OF GRANDMOTHER

Mrs. Mary Jane Bryant was born Oct. 9th, 1860, died Saturday, March 25th, 1933. Her stay on earth was 72 years, 5 months and 16 days.

We like to recall her life of service here on earth. She was kind, gentle and loving to all she met. She was never too tired to do anything that she could to help some one in need. In the midnight hour when someone was sick she was never too tired or sleepy to sit up with them.

Grandmother had great faith in prayer. After she was taken sick many a night she would call me to get and pray for her, that God might give her some rest that night. But we no longer pray for

New Strike-Out King

Jerome (Dizzy) Dean of the St. Louis Cardinals set a new modern baseball record on July 30 by striking out 17 Chicago Cub batsmen at St. Louis. The former major-league record of 16 strikeouts in 9 innings was held by Kahn, Mathewson, Waddel and Backer.

grandmother now. Thank God, we believe that she is sitting around God's feasting table with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and all of the saints that have gone on before. But our request is for those left behind and that God might keep us safe on the rock of ages until we are called home to meet her.

She was taken sick eleven months before she died. No one on earth knows the suffering she went through. But God knows best. He only wanted to train and mold her for heaven. We miss her so much.

There is a vacant place in the home, there is a voice we no longer hear and a smile we no longer see. But her vacancy on earth only meant a filled place in heaven. Our sorrows were only for heaven's joy. Just before she died she called her loved ones by her bedside and told them how she loved them. It was sad to part and leave loved ones and friends behind, but God had a better world for her where there would be no disappointment, no crepe on door, no more funeral train in the skies, no graves on the hillside of glory. Oh, blessed joy that is hers now! Oh, grandmother, as we write tonight we long to be with you. We know that there will be no tears to be shed up there, no more trouble. But God has a work for me to finish and then when our work is done we will meet to part no more. We know if grandmother could but speak to those left behind she would tell them to follow the footsteps of the Savior. Her parting words were that she wanted to hear of all her folks going to heaven, and as she looked over the room she said, "Farewell to all," and went to another world to finish her service.

Written by her grandson, Clyde Bryant, July 21, 1933.

800,000 View N. & W. Fuel Satisfaction Exhibit at World's Fair

Approximately 800,000 persons have viewed the mechanically animated Fuel Satisfaction exhibit of the Norfolk and Western Railway in the General Exhibits Building at the Chicago World's Fair, according to careful checks made by N. & W. attendants. More than six and one-half million people have visited the Fair and the N. & W. check shows that ten and fifteen percent of this number have seen the railway's display.

On July 3 and 4, with an average daily attendance of 237,500 visitors, the Norfolk and Western exhibit drew approximately 50,000 people, or an average of about 2,500 an hour. The largest crowds visit the exhibit between 11:30 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. Officials of the railroad stated that from the multitude of favorable comments and the letters of commendation, "we feel that we have one of the most interesting and instructive exhibits at the Fair."

The exhibit, in the shape of a huge block of coal, approximately 22 feet square and 10 feet high, depicts realistically a miniature modern mining community, a mechanically animated tippie showing the various operations of preparing coal for the market, a life-like reproduction of a coal mine, and the loading and transportation of coal. The coal cars and locomotives are exact duplicates of the railroad's modern equipment for transporting Fuel Satisfaction.

The mining community and tippie are in the hollowed interior of the block. At the back of the booth is a mine tunnel, in which actual coal mining operations are shown by means of a diorama—a
