Young Lady Injured When Hit By Auto

On Monday night at about 11:00 Miss Mamie Pleasants of the Hester Store section of the county, who was visiting in Jalong, was struck and knocked to the pavement by an automobile driven by Wilson Long of Roxboro. The car came from behind the City Bus and was almost on top of Miss Pleasants before either she or the driver of the car realized what was happening. Upon examination by Dr. Love Miss Pleasants was found to be injured in her left hip and leg. However no fractures were found and although she was in considerable pain Miss Pleasants did not suffer any serious injury.

Ice Cream Supper

On Saturday night, Aug. 12th, the Intermediate Class and teacher of Lea Bethel Baptist church had an ice cream supper. There were about thirty or more present. In the earlier part of the evening the young people entertained themselves by singing and in the latter part about 9:00 o'clock, they were served with ice cream. Every one enjoyed themselves.—Rosa Turner.

Three Cities Reject School Supplement

If we are to judge the elections held yesterday the people generally are satisfied with the eight months school term, as Charlotte, Greensboro and Concord refused to vote for any supplemental funds to increase the term to nine months. In all three cities the vote was overwhelmingly against the proposition.

PRISONER SLIPS ONE OVER ON JAILER LONG

Red Tingen Locks Jailer In When He Comes To Aid Of Sick Inmate

LEAVE KEYS BEHIND

One of the guests of Mr. Arthur Long up in Stony Loanesome on top of the courthouse was taken with a pain last night, Mr. Long, administering first aid treatment, went to get some pills for the ailing one. Upon returning he found his patient in such agony that in hurrying to get relief to him he unwittingly left his keys in the door leading from the main corridor of the "hostelry." However, so the story goes, when Mr. Long turned to leave the jail he found the door locked and one of his guests, Red Tingen, had unceremoniously departed from his abode. He was kind and thoughtful enough to leave the keys behind so our jailer had no difficulty in getting relieved from his embarrassing predicament. So if you see a strange looking man loitering around your place it might be this disciple of Houdini.

ANNUAL SESSION OF THE JR. ORDER

Convenes At Hickory, Tuesday, August 22nd, for A Two-Day Session

NOTABLES TO ATTEND

Hickory, Aug. 14.—Members of the Junior Order in every county in North Carolina are now preparing to attend the annual session of the state council which convenes here Tuesday, August 22nd, for a two-day session. Lewis P. Hamlin of Brevard, as state councilor will preside over the sessions.

Members of the local council have prepared an excellent program of entertainment for several hundred visitors expected here for the convention. While the convention has but little time for special entertainment, time will be taken out for a little diversion.

Reports of the state officers will show excellent progress during the year now ending with a large number of new councils instituted. The membership report will reveal small losses in members despite the unusually hard period through which the rate has just passed.

Among the notables expected to attend the session are: Gurney P. Hood, State bank commissioner; Dr. Charles E. Brewer, president of Meredith College; Charles Abernathy, congressman; and national council officers.

Election of officers will be one of the outstanding matters of business to confront the session. B. C. Siske, state vice councilor of Warsaw, will automatically be elevated to the office of councilor. In all other offices contests are expected.

HearD about TOWN

Mr. R. B. Griffin, the popular and efficient principal of Bethel Hill high school, was a Roxboro visitor Monday. Mr. Griffin appeared before the Board of Education concerning routing busses for his school.

Rev. and Mrs. W. F. West and son, Billy, Rev. J. C. McGregor and Mr. Howard Young of this city, and Rev. P. T. Worrell of Yanceyville, left yesterday morning for Louisville, Ky., where they will spend a few days. Louisville is the birthplace of Master Billy, and he was very much enthused over the visit.

We are glad to say, so far this week there has been no signs of snakes on Lamarr street, and the victims of the past week have recovered. Al snakes, even though it be the harmless black snake, had best keep under cover on Lamarr.

Mrs. H. M. Beam and daughter, Patsy, Mrs. J. H. Hughes and sons, Jack and Charles, and Mrs. Raymond Bailey and daughters, Rachael and Sarah, have returned from a week's stay at Bay View. Dr. J. H. Hughes and Dr. H. M. Beam spent the week-end with them, all returning the first of the week.

You know there is always an IF. This County has the best crop of tobacco raised in many years and IF it brings a fair price—we mean if it will average around twenty cents—the farmers will be sitting on top of the world; many of them will clean up their debts, and the others will pay their taxes, with a little mite paid on mortgages. Altogether, things look mighty good for business here this fall.

Miss Eugenia Bradsher of Durham, Misses Sue Bradsher, Mary Hester, Esther Thompson, Eva Newton and Annie Lou Thomas left on Tuesday for Chicago where they will visit the World's Fair. Mrs. W. I. Newton accompanied this party as far as Cincinnati, where she was met by her son-in-law, Mr. E. G. Clayton of Lexington, Ky. Mrs. Newton will visit Mr. and Mrs. Clayton at their home in Lexington.

Bill Howell (William Howard, son of Mr. E. L. Howard of this county) who has been in training in Washington for the past year in order to engage in boxing contests, fought his first six round bout on August 5. Mr. Howell appeared on the same card with Billy Strickler of Washington and Ken Overlin of Norfolk. Bill Howell has won several four round bouts in Norfolk.

The highway forces are at work repairing the Roxboro-Oxford highway. We hope it will not be many weeks before contracts are let and some new highways leading into Roxboro are under construction. Plenty of help can be had in this County, and at thirty cents an hour it will wonderfully help business here.

We regret to learn that Rev. N. J. Todd's mother, who lives in Bertie county, is seriously ill. He was called to her bedside by a message received Saturday morning.

Mrs. F. C. Coldwell, of Stanton, Tenn., and her three daughters, Mrs. Nannie Karr, Miss Nellie Coldwell and Mrs. Ivey Martin, of Memphis, Tenn., left Monday morning for their respective homes after spending several days here as guests of their cousin, Mr. C. H. Hunter. They also visited their parents in Craven county.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Talley and Claude and Eunice May Talley have returned to their home at Semora after visiting Mrs. W. B. Barker in Danbury, Conn. They also visited Mrs. Theodore Kehoe in Breunster, N. Y., and visited in Tilsonburg, Canada and Niagara Falls. Mrs. Barker returned with Mr. and Mrs. Talley for a visit.

The 'New Deal' Watch

There may not be anything new under the sun, but certainly that new jump watch—the "New Deal," the Newells call it, is new on us. In lieu of hands it has a face similar to the speedometer. It is a beauty and if you are interested in a watch you might investigate the Jump.

BOARD OF EDUCATION IN REGULAR SESSION

Committeemen Named For Several Districts, And Truck Routes Approved

FINAL APPROVAL LATER

The Board of Education for Person County met in regular session on last Monday, August 14. There were several items of routine business to be attended to and also the board had to appoint new committeemen for several of the school districts in the county. This is in accordance with the ruling of Attorney General Dennis G. Brummitt who has recently decreed that three committeemen from each district is sufficient. Thus the following appointments were made:

Mr. T. T. Mitchell was appointed to fill the place left vacant by Mr. F. O. Clayton on the Olive Hill Board.

Bethel Hill: A. J. Crutchfield, Leslie Hall, Stephen Gentry.

Helena: J. G. Chambers, Ed. Brooks, J. Frank Timberlake.

Bushy Fork: Carl Hester, Eddie Broach, Howard Hester.

Allensville: Ed. Gentry, B. G. Crumpton, Dr. G. C. Vickers.

In addition to the appointing of these new men on these respective boards the matter of truck routes was taken up. The Superintendent presented the proposed routes to the board meeting and they were passed on as indicated on the map. However these will have to be presented to the State School Commission for the final approval and so announcement of the routes will be at a later date.

Mrs. C. A. Whitfield Dies On Tuesday

She had been in failing health for about a year, having suffered a stroke of paralysis from which she never recovered. Funeral services will be conducted at the grave near Bushy Fork, in the family cemetery today at 3 o'clock, Elders W. R. Monk and Lex Chandler in charge.

Mrs. Whitfield is survived by three daughters, Mrs. F. O. Bumpass of Virgilina; Mrs. C. H. Clayton, Yanceyville; Mrs. R. W. Royster, Reidsville; four sons, Mr. W. W. Whitfield, Zebulon; Mr. L. A. Whitfield, Jalong; Mr. C. D. Whitfield, Leasburg, and Mr. K. A. Whitfield of Roxboro.

Electrician Injured

Mr. Dan Loftis, while engaged at his regular job of assistant electrician to Fred Long, burned his arm severely yesterday morning while he and Mr. Long were engaged in some electrical wiring for the Longhurst plant of the Roxboro Cotton Mills. It seems that they were working on a switchbox when it burst without warning. Mr. Loftis was painfully burned but his hurts were not of such a serious nature as to render him helpless. He was out on the street a short time after the accident and except for the use of the arm which was burned, his right one, he appeared to be enjoying his usual good health.

First Baptist Church

TEACHERS AND TEXTILES; CHILDREN AND CIGARETTES

Newspaper Writer Presents Figures Concerning Situation In Our State

TEACHERS STILL LOYAL

(Published by request of School Teacher)

Already it is assured that the minimum wage for textile workers in North Carolina will be larger this year than the minimum wage for teachers.

We wonder if future developments will also assure that the minimum wage of cigarette workers will be larger than the minimum wage of those who are assigned to work with and train our children.

It is a matter of record, too, according to one official over in Greensboro, that one county pays an expert more to look after pigs than it is preparing to pay those who look after the children in the school room.

But getting back to the minimum wages for textile workers versus the pay of teachers in this State, The News and Observer presents some interesting figures:

"At $12 a week a cotton mill worker will receive $624 a year. How will this compare with the wage of our teachers?"

"Last year in North Carolina the lowest teacher wage in the State was something like $30 a month for a Negro teacher with a second grade certificate in a school of 22 pupils or less. Since such schools generally have only a six-month term such a teacher received for her teaching in a year $180. A white teacher in a similar school received around $45 a month or $230 a year for her teaching. Such low grade teachers in such low grade schools are few but they do exist."

"The lowest paid large group of teachers are those who hold elementary C grade certificates. Last year they received around $60 a month. If the term of schools in which they taught was six months, as was usual, they receive from the State in a year for their teachings, $360.

"Of the 23,000 school teachers in North Carolina, 11,000 are college graduates. Last year these teachers of the highest type received under the State schedule around $90 a month. If the schools in which they taught ran for a six-month term they received $540 for their teaching in a year.

"Thus so far as State contribution and State salaries are concerned, last year school teachers in North Carolina received for a year's teaching less than cotton mill workers will receive under the code which soon goes into effect in that industry. School teachers in addition must expect a cut from the salaries of last year. For many teachers the terms will be longer which will mean more months of pay. For many the terms will be shorter, which will mean less months of pay. But the whole body of school teachers in the State under the law will receive a salary cut of not less than 30 per cent per month. This does not mean that all will receive a 30 per cent cut but the average will be reduced 30 per cent."—Winston-Salem Journal.

Community Stew

On last Friday evening most of the residents of that section of our town known as Western Reams-town gathered together with a number of invited guests for a good old fashioned Brunswick stew. Messrs. Robert Dickerson and Melvin O'Brian were masters of the ceremonies and they did the thing up in their usual efficient style. It was voted one of the best stews that the guests had ever eaten. The quality of the stew can be attested to by the fact that when everyone had enough there was not any left over.

CHIEF OLIVER FINDS NEW SHOE POLISH

Locates "Flats" Under Shoe-Shine Stand At Service Station at Edge of City

SHINE BOY ARRESTED

Last Sunday afternoon, as "Sam" was pursuing his duties as guardian of the law, he happened to drive under the shed of Mr. Luther Smart's Service Station which is located at the northern extremity of town. Under the shed was a negro boy shining shoes. He had the usual equipment of a shine boy, a box on which to put your foot, a receptacle in the box wherein he kept his polish, brushes, rags, etc. We can see no reason so far as to why Chief "Sam" should suspect that this negro had a brand new kind of shoe polish. But suspect he did, and investigate, he did. Under the shoe-shining equipment on the inside of the box he found two "flats" or whiskey containers and they were not empty. So the chief says that anyone desiring to try out his new shoe polish can see him and he will guarantee satisfaction, or call on the erstwhile shoe-shiner abiding with Mr. A. M. Long on the top floor of our courthouse.

MOB SACKS PALACE AS MACHADO ABDICATES

Colonel Jimenez, Head of Police, Slain by Soldiers; His Body Maltreated

NEWSPAPER IS WRECKED

Havana, August 12.—President Machado's regime collapsed today and its downfall was celebrated by the looting of the presidential palace and the killing of at least five members of the dreaded Machado secret police.

Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, former ambassador to the United States, was named provisional president as exuberant and sometimes vicious mobs were wrecking the fixtures of the presidential palace and coursing through the streets cheering and singing.

All communication with interior Cuba was cut off and the capital was ignorant of what was going on there.

Newspaper Wrecked
Shouting opponents of Machado stormed the office of Herald de Cuba, a newspaper which had supported him. The building was set on fire and the interior wrecked.

Meanwhile another mob carted a piano out of the presidential palace, and carried it to the office of the Diario de La Marina, an opposition newspaper. There the piano was broken into bits to provide souvenirs of this great day in Cuban history.

General Machado was believed to be at his country estate outside of Havana, heavily guarded but not injured.

One of the mainstays of his regime, Colonel Antonio Jimenez, who headed the Poora—the secret police—was shot dead by soldiers. His body was kicked about and trampled on.

Exactly how many members of the Poora had been slain could not be established immediately, but the total was at least five.

A howling mob, carrying its leaders shoulders high, marched through the streets to attack the Poora headquarters.

N. & W. Has Novel Exhibit at World Fair

In continuous operation for approximately 12 hours a day, miniature passenger and time freight trains operating on a double track main line, are among the most interesting and realistic feature of the Norfolk and Western Fuel Satisfaction Exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair. Each of the trains travel approximately 36 feet in 35 seconds or about 22,200 feet or 4.2 miles per day.

It has been estimated that during the period of the Fair each train will travel about 660 miles—the approximate distance between Norfolk, Va., and Columbus and Cincinnati, the main line of the railway.

The main line track extends around the front of the exhibit from a tunnel on one side to another tunnel at the opposite side. The trains, operating alternately in opposite directions, enter the tunnel at one side of the exhibit, circle the booth hidden from view and, after a 35 second interval, emerge from the portal at the opposite side.

The trains are described as remarkable reproductions of the Norfolk and Western's modern freight and passenger equipment. The coal and box cars in the time freight represent the latest equipment of that type and have been executed to the most minute detail. The locomotive that pulls the freight is a duplicate of the railroad's new giant mountain type freight engines. The passenger train is a life-like model of the Norfolk and Western's crack flyers.

Every detail of the miniature town, built within the hollowed recess of a huge block of coal, 14 feet wide and 12 feet deep, makes for an atmosphere of startling reality. The spectator sees exact duplicates of miners' homes, a church, store, office building, lighted streets, miniature autos, filling stations, trees, fences, gates, dogs running about, and even washing on the clothes line.

Thousands of the multitude of visitors who have seen the display have commented upon the unique reproduction of the N. & W.'s transportation equipment, the realistic appearance of the mining village and have described the exhibit as one of the most unusual and interesting at the Fair.

There is agitation in the east to have two minute rest periods between rounds of boxing.
