Communion Service On Thursday Night

According to our reckoning it was on our Thursday night that Jesus instituted the Lord's Supper.

The Communion will be celebrated at Long Memorial Church on Thursday night of this week.

The people are invited to come to the church at 7:45 for this service, or at any time between 7:45 and 8:30.

First Baptist Church

Awake, O earth! break out in flow! Let birds their anthems rise!

Let every soul exultant praise The triumph of our King.

Dear Lord, our light, our life, our joy, May we thy glory see.

On this glad morn and evermore, In blest eternity.

—Caroline F. Dole, Bible Schol 9:45 a. m. Dr. H. M. Beam, General Supt.

DEATH OF MRS. J. L. ROBINSON

By the request of her daughter it becomes my duty to write the death of a good woman, Mrs. J. L. Robinson, who died March 17th.

Before marriage she was Annie Eastwood, and was married to J. L. Robinson Nov. 24th, 1897. She has been a member of the church and one of God's great workers 42 years.

She leaves to mourn her death a true husband, seven children: Mrs. Joe Eggleston, Wooddale; Mr. Joe Robinson, Roxboro; Mrs. Jesse Shotwell, Roxboro; Mrs. Arnold Shotwell, Roxboro; Mr. William Robinson, Misses Alice and Lula Robinson, of Roxboro; seven grandchildren and two sisters: Mrs. J. W. Hopkins Durham, and Mrs. E. W. Owen, Clarksville, Va.

She was laid to rest in Bethel Hill cemetery. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. N. J. Todd.

The bereaved ones have my sympathy and may this dispensation of the Lord be sanctified to the sorrowing husband and motherless children, is the desire of the writer.

Mrs. E. S. Regan.

ENJOYED MR. CURRIN'S SERMON

Rougemont, N. C., March 25, 1934.

Having just read and enjoyed Mr. Currin's sermon in last week's Courier I am prompted to write a few thoughts along that line.

He says that Moses was confronted with the question of what he was to do with his training and abilities, or how was he to use his powers.

This question also confronts us and has given me trouble. Some say when they are afflicted that they can't see what they have done to cause the Lord to send the trouble or affliction upon them.

Maybe it is for a punishment and maybe it is not. We can't always know. But in either case I think we should not feel self-righteousness but should strive to see our imperfections and weaknesses and try to overcome the negligence of Him that we are in a greater or less degree guilty of.

Afflictions in many cases are necessary to discipline us and cause us to cultivate the virtues necessary to a full and helpful life—patience, love, humility, etc.

They also make us realize more plainly our dependence on God and our duty to Him, while heretofore, perhaps we have allowed the hurry and worry of life to crowd him too near out of our lives, thereby losing our faith and also our power to be of much help to others.

The Lord says that whom he loveth he chasteneth. Then it behooves us to accept our afflictions and means of drawing us near to God and making us better men and women. I feel that afflictions are often necessary to draw us back to the right way.

"All things worketh together for good to them that love God" we are told. If we love him then we know that he is doing the best for us regardless of what our desires may be.

So many of us are squandering away the time our Lord has given us to prepare for the life to come. We pass this way only once, so why not use our God-given talents for his honor or glory? Can we expect to enter in at the strait gate that leads to glory if we disregard our duty to God and spend our lives serving the devil? 'Tis such a sad mistake for us to go through life careless and indifferent and then when death calls us have to go to meet our master empty-handed.

If he is indeed our master, sadder still the fact if we have failed even to trust him as Lord and Saviour. Come what may I am reconciled to his will and am standing on his promises. Mrs. Robert L. Day.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

Fresh lime kept in the cellar absorbs moisture and freshens the cellar.

A glass ashboard is better than one made of zinc and it will last much longer.

To open a glass bottle with a glass stopper, light a match near the stopper. The bottle will open immediately, and very easily.

Paint and mortar spots may be removed from windows with hot vinegar. If they are stubborn use turpentine and sand.

Common soap, lathered, and placed on burns, is more effective than ordinary grease. A bit of salt should be sprinkled on over the lather.

Tinware may be cleaned by a piece of moistened newspaper on which has been put some common soda. Polish tin with a dry piece of newspaper until it looks like new.

Iron rust spots may be removed from any fabric by a mixture of salt and lemon. The spots should be rubbed with the mixture and then held over a vessel full of hot water.

MUSIC—neighborhood sings

I am not yet convinced that the radio is a good thing in all respects. People do too much listening to professional singers and musicians, make not enough effort to produce their own music.

Not that it is not refreshing to listen to first-rate music—which we get too seldom "on the air"—but it ought not to be too easy.

There is more social value, more that makes for love of home life and neighborly spirit, when everybody in the neighborhood, or a group of neighbors, get together, in a home or a church or a town hall and try what they can do to make a little music for themselves.

I know of nothing that is so heart-warming in its effects as a "neighborhood sing."

In the part of New York where I hole up for the winter, Greenwich Village, we've been having these old-fashioned musical evenings this winter, and hundreds of my neighbors are beginning to say to each other: "I never knew what nice, friendly people New Yorkers were."

Of course, they're just like all other people, everywhere, but it takes something that they can all do together to bring out the human qualities.

WATER—"heavy" brand

Science has discovered a new kind of water. It is called "heavy water" because the hydrogen molecules which it contains are composed of atoms which weigh twice as much as ordinary hydrogen.

"Heavy hydrogen" is itself a recent scientific discovery. It combines with other substances the way ordinary hydrogen does, but gives entirely new compounds. Thus, "heavy water" kills seeds instead of aiding them to germinate, and tadpoles placed in it quickly die.

Just how widely this poisonous "heavy water" is found in nature nobody yet knows. But some think it may account for the barrenness of desert lands, and the absence of animal life in some odd corners of the world.

New discoveries of science, especially when they deal with matters of everyday use, are one of the greatest stimulants to the imaginative mind. Some day we may see some bright young man turning "heavy hydrogen" into gold, by using it to make some revolutionary invention work.

Your Bank's Profits Become Your Protection!

REASONABLE PROFIT

In order to be safe a bank must operate with reasonable profit.

RESTORED

Banking profits are not for the purpose of paying large salaries or high dividends. Their primary use is to provide reserves as a protection to depositors.

During recent years all reserves, both of business and banks, have been greatly reduced. For the sake of safety these reserves must be restored.

SOUND BANK MANAGEMENT

Operating costs have increased under the NRA. The cost of deposit insurance must be borne by the banks.

The low yield on high grade investments have reduced the earning power of the bank assets. At the same time a high standard of service must be maintained.

To do this and produce a profit requires the rigid application of the principles of sound bank management.

THE PEOPLES BANK

recognizes its obligations to its depositors and the public. Its management is committed to the principles of soundness in banking, reasonable profit in operations and a high degree of service to its customers.
