ALFRED SLOAN SEES RECOVERY BEGUN WITH IRRESISTIBLE FORCE

President Of General Motors Feels Certain That We Are Making Strides Forward SAYS EARLIER FORECAST IS JUSTIFIED

New York, July 2.—Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, feels certain that we are in an industrial recovery; furthermore, that this recovery is, in its general trend, a force as irresistible as that of the industrial depression that preceded it.

He was asked today, the end of the first half of 1934, if, in spite of all the current pessimism, he still felt as he stated in his annual report, earlier in the year.

There was no hesitation in answering "yes" on the part of the industrialist who is responsible for scores of corporations operating factories from coast to coast—all over the world in fact—and employing more than 200,000 men in America.

Stands by Prediction He said: "Let's see exactly what I did say then. Here it is:

"The rate of improvement may be accelerated or retarded by injecting into the picture abnormal influences, but the general trend will not be affected for the reason that an industrial recovery, like an industrial depression, is in a practical sense of the word, an irresistible force."

"Yes, I still stand by that, although the part about acceleration or retardation is important, and there goes with that the implication that influences could be injected into the picture that would temporarily offset the normal trend toward recovery."

Remains Optimist Sloan, while an optimist, appreciates that pessimism is quite general among business and financial leaders today. He said:

"For one thing, the thinking people seem to view with apprehension the spending of such huge sums of money. They realize that expenditures of this character have the political effect of calling for more and bigger expenditures, and they wonder where it will end and whether it will end short of a catastrophe. "Understand, I'm giving you what I believe to be a cross-section of opinion of the people I meet—not necessarily my own. As for myself, I just can't believe but what we will have judgment enough to recognize facts and adjust our course before it is too late."

"There seems to be uncertainty as to whether industry and business will come forward and take up the load, which, all agree, the Government cannot continue to carry indefinitely."

"The situation seems to call for some definite clarification of policy on the part of the Administration. On the other hand, we all must recognize that that is not possible because many of the things that are being done are admittedly experimental."

N. C. REVENUE SHOWS ALL-TIME HIGH MARK

Receipts For General Funds During Fiscal Year Aggregate $21,569,818.07

Raleigh, July 2.—The state of North Carolina collected more general fund revenue during the fiscal year which closed Saturday than it ever received before.

Receipts for the general fund aggregated $21,569,818.07, an increase of more than $7,000,000 over the total of $14,301,819.03 which was collected in 1932-33. A. J. Maxwell, commissioner of revenue, said today.

Highway fund receipts for the 12 fiscal months aggregated $22,552,478.57, an increase of $2,383,000 over the 1932-33 total of $20,169,478.57.

To close the state's books with all possible 1933-34 revenue included, highway patrolmen came into Raleigh all through Saturday night with last minute collections of all kinds and the books were not finally totaled until 8 o'clock yesterday morning after the force had worked all night.

As a result receipts Saturday totaled $300,885 and the money received on schedule B license taxes reached $1,018,000 for June, nearly a million dollars ahead of the same tax receipts last June. Only $94,286.18 in all taxes was collected on June 30, 1933, the last day of the previous fiscal year.

The increase of $7,000,000 in the general fund was largely accounted for by the collection of $6,015,800.36 from the three per cent general sales tax, which was in effect for the first time. It was pointed out these figures represented fully only 11 months collections and did not include any tax on credit or time accounts outstanding on June 1.

License Plates Up The highway fund statement revealed that 70,248 more pairs of automobile license plates had been sold up to June 30 than in the similar period last year with the revenue from this source showing an increase of $1,138,856. Gasoline tax receipts for the fiscal year were $1,000,194 above those for last fiscal year.

In connection with the tax collections, it was pointed out that the general fund never acted as collecting agency for the 15-cent ad valorem levy which was in effect from 1931 to 1933 but its returns of about $4,000,000 annually were less than those from the three per cent general levy.

The general fund report also noted that levies which brought the state $525,459 in 1933 were discontinued by the legislature effective on July 1, 1933. They affected merchants through a license tax and were licenses on trucks for hire. General fund revenue in June totaled $1,765,700.44, compared with $1,502,867.55 in the same month last year, while highway revenues aggregated $1,629,775.82, compared with $1,442,142.97 in June, 1933.

PRINCE HENRY OF HOLLAND IS DEAD

Consort Of Queen Wilhelmina Succumbs To Heart Malady At Age Of 58

The Hague, Holland, July 3.—Henry, Prince Consort of Holland, died today. Death came suddenly, shortly before 3 p. m. He was 58.

Suffering from heart disease, he had been ill for several days since he was stricken at his headquarters in the Red Cross office.

It had been stated, however, that his condition was not considered serious. This morning his physician said he was quiet following a restless night, and the end came unexpectedly in the afternoon.

Prince Henry's daughter, Princess Juliana, now visiting London, was to leave tomorrow, to see her father. Her departure, it was believed, may be hastened by his death.

The marriage of Prince Henry to Queen Wilhelmina of Holland in 1901 was one of the most brilliant royal alliances of a generation. She was 20 at the time, and her bridegroom, 24.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK—

That your home merchants always carry in stock seasonable merchandise at reasonable prices.

You can get quality, price and satisfaction from home merchants, so why buy from a peddler or a catalogue?

The amount of money taken away from every community by door-to-door peddlers is surprising.

Peddlers are usually people who do not live in the community in which they work, they pay no taxes, do not help to support the community and are interested only in what they can take out of it.

Money spent with them is money taken out of the community to work for some city far away.

Everyone should stop and investigate before they buy from a peddler or a catalogue.

MONEY SPENT WITH HOME MERCHANTS SERVES THE HOME COMMUNITY. IT STAYS AT HOME AND WORKS AT HOME.

EVERY DOLLAR SENT AWAY FROM YOUR COMMUNITY TAKES NEEDED STRENGTH FROM IT.

KEEP YOUR MONEY WORKING IN THE HOME COMMUNITY.

With His Opposition Crushed German Chancellor Releases Pressure On Von Papen

NAZIS DENY HUNDREDS WERE SLAIN IN REVOLT

Berlin, July 2.—Chancellor Adolf Hitler, his opposition crushed by scores of "heads rolling in the sand," lessened the pressure on Vice-Chancellor Franz Von Papen tonight, permitting his second-in-command to go scot free.

The order came on the heels of an earlier decree placing most of the members of the Vice-Chancellor's entourage under arrest. Von Papen, long under surveillance as the outstanding conservative, monarchist leader in the Nazi-controlled cabinet, however, was permitted his utmost freedom.

The move was regarded as a victory for President Paul von Hindenburg and the conservative group toward whom Hitler is swinging following "Bloody Saturday" and the days since in which his executioners have mowed down men who stood out against him in the extremist blocs of his own Nazi movement.

Deny Wholesale Killings.

Officials, meanwhile, denied published reports that "hundreds" had been slain in the suppression of the opposition. The known dead totaled 46, with possibly twice that number shot in cities and towns as Hitler's men moved against insurgent elements in the Nazi Storm Troops, consolidating his position and rising to new might in the Third Reich.

Twenty were shot at the Lighterfield cadet school. An official formally denied wild rumors abroad of higher figures. The cabinet tomorrow is to publish the list of dead.

Hitler's enemies were stunned into submission by the swift action of firing squads. President von Hindenburg's blessing on Hitler's baptism of blood—seldom equalled outside of war—restored to the Chancellor the prestige which momentarily during the past 48 hours it appeared he might lose.

Hitler significantly refrained from molesting members of the former Imperial family residing in Germany and rumors persisted that the Nazi movement would continue toward the right.

The third day of his suppression of the "Second Revolution," begun on "Bloody Saturday" at Munich, was marked by the announcement that Gregor Strasser, former Hitler confidant, had committed suicide.

The death list mounted with dispatches from Munich confirming the execution of Karl Zehntner and Alexander Glaser. Zehntner was described as proprietor of a restaurant where the late Captain Ernst Roehm, executed Storm Troop commander, often conferred with friends. Glaser was an attorney.

Strasser, like others executed, Hitler's orders, was close to the Chancellor during his rise to power. He broke with Hitler in December, 1932, over the question of Nazi support, to the Von Schleicher cabinet. General Kurt Von Schleicher and (Continued on page eight)

CLOGS, WALTZES IS A FEATURE OF ROTARY PROGRAM

Thursday Night Program Led By Wheeler Newell Proves Very Interesting

NEW OFFICERS TAKES UP DUTIES TONIGHT

Wheeler Newell presented to the Rotary Club a very interesting and entertaining program last Thursday night at the New Hotel Jones. The first item of entertainment was a series of clog dances given by some of the old timers here. These included Ben Davis, W. H. Harris, Reg. Harris and Rev. Billy West.

These men were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Wallace Woods, pianist for the Rotary Club. At the conclusion of the dances Mr. W. H. Harris was declared by a vote of the club to have won the prize, which was a beautiful loving cup with his name engraved upon it. (Some of the members stated later that they couldn't decide whether Wheeler bought the cup from the five and ten or whether he dug it up out of some of his old stock.) The next on the program was Mr. Joe Kirby, whose fame as a dancer is known far and wide. His partner in the waltz number was Miss Margaret Penn, of Carthage, guest at the New Hotel Jones. This couple danced with such grace and ease that it is a wonder how the other members kept to their seats. After the dance a prize was presented to Miss Penn, she being the deserving one, sayeth the master of ceremonies, as it was she who had to carry a double load, i. e. both she and Mr. Kirby walked on her feet.

The program was immensely enjoyed by everyone present. Wheeler, in his own way, always brings a good one. Mr. W. A. Sergeant made a brief talk, congratulating the retiring president, O. B. McBroom, upon the successful way in which he had managed the affairs of Rotary during the year just closed. The newly elected officers, Jack Hughes as president, and Gene Thompson as secretary, will be inducted into office on this Thursday night.

KIWANIS ELECTS NEW TREASURER

In the regular meeting of the Roxboro Kiwanis Club on Monday night H. R. Simmons, treasurer of the club, tendered his resignation on account of the fact that he had accepted a position with a drug store in Lumberton and would be leaving after many expressions of regret from the president and others that "Hank" would have to leave. J. Brodie Riggsbee was elected to succeed him. It was pointed out that Doc Simmons had been a most valuable member, and although all the members did not say so, the sentiment of the entire club was expressed by those who did speak.

The meeting was held in the club room of the New Hotel Jones. Guests for the evening were as follows: T. B. Woody, C. A. Wright, Dr. Henderson, Baxter Wade, and Miss Margaret Hannah Critcher.

FAN DANCE SALLY SPRINGS NEW ONE

Chicago, July 3.—Censors clamored for a preview of Sally (I-Wear-A-Fan) Rand's new bubble dance, but she wouldn't let them have it. Back at the world's fair for her initial appearance tonight, Sally defied them with the retort that they couldn't stop a show they hadn't seen yet.

"I can get an injunction to prove it," she said. Sally's new dance has to do with a gigantic transparent bubble, which is said to float away from her leaving her standing alone in a pair of sandals and a folk village.

Students at the United States Naval Academy have the rank of midshipmen.

Code Signed By The President Provides For Representation Of Farmers

SOME PROVISIONS OF THE CODE

Washington, July 2.—Tobacco sold by auction and loose leaf warehouses is to be handled under a code of fair competition that is designed to enable the industry to eliminate many trade practices considered detrimental to the best interests of warehousemen and growers, the agricultural adjustment administration announced today. The code, signed Saturday by President Roosevelt, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, and NRA Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, is effective as of July 9, 1934.

Officials of the tobacco section of the agricultural adjustment administration, who assisted members of the industry in drawing up the code, pointed out that the code is unique in that it provides for representation of tobacco farmers on the code authority, which will administer the code.

The code provides for a producers' advisory committee of five members, whose chairman is a member of the auction and loose leaf tobacco warehouse industry code authority which is set up under the code. The producers' advisory committee is designed to represent the interests of tobacco growers and to act as spokesman, through its chairman, for the producers. The chairman, however, is not entitled to vote as a member of the authority.

Voting members of the code authority will number eleven, ten of them elected by warehouse associations in the various tobacco belts and one elected by members of the industry who are not warehouse association members.

The producers' advisory committee may make recommendations to the secretary of agriculture concerning the operations under the code and suggest needed amendments.

Further provision is made that in addition to code authority and producers' advisory committee members, the secretary of agriculture and the administrator of the agricultural adjustment act may each appoint not more than three members of representatives to the code authority, who shall be without vote and shall serve without expense to the industry.

The code authority, under such regulations as may be promulgated by the secretary of agriculture, will have full power to regulate and govern the industry. It also will receive and investigate complaints of alleged violations of the code.

The code provides for the slowing down of the rate of sale of ungraded tobacco on the auction warehouse floors at a maximum of 360 piles or baskets an hour. The rate for tobacco graded in accordance with United States grades shall not exceed 375 piles or baskets an hour. On some markets tobacco heretofore has been sold as fast as 400 piles or baskets an hour, and at times it has even run as high as 450 piles. Farmers are also allowed at least 15 minutes after an auction sale in which to reject a bid.

The code further provides that all tobacco offered for sale shall be weighed by a licensed weighman and that scales shall be tested daily during the marketing season.

It provides that buyers shall pay for the tobacco on the basis of weights at the time the tobacco is taken from the warehouse floor rather than on the basis of what it weighs after it has been transported to the factory.

The code authority, with the approval of the secretary of agriculture, will recommend the opening dates for sales in each of the tobacco belts.

Safeguards against discrimination between growers has also been provided in the code. Rebates of all kinds, direct or indirect, are definitely prohibited. No warehouseman shall reserve space in his warehouse for any person other than a producer or bona fide dealer in tobacco. The reservation of floor space for truckers is prohibited.

In states where warehouse charges are not fixed by law, each tobacco warehouse association must submit to the code authority a schedule of fees and commissions to be charged by all warehousemen in the tobacco (Continued on page eight)
