Opening Proves That Roxboro Is Paying As Much As Any Market

SALES WERE BLOCKED

The Roxboro tobacco opened yesterday with all four of the warehouses full of tobacco. Early Monday afternoon the farmers be n coming in with tobacco and ore night it was known the marwould be blocked for opening

The Hyco drew first sale and promptly at 9 o'clock the hum of the auctioneer was heard. The Pioneer drew second sale, the Planters third sale and the Winstead drew fourth. Sales continued all day but night came before reaching the Winstead.

We do not recall such an opening, for notwithstanding the large amount the sales did not lag for a moment, the buyers being just as anxious for the last pile as they were at the beginning. With 250,000 pounds on the floors it sold for an average of better than $31.00, and if there was a dissatisfied farmer we falled to meet him; many were surprised at the prices they received for first primings and tips.

Winstead Warehouse had first sale this morning and there was no let up in prices and the farmer who failed to get a sale yesterday lost nothing by the deal.

Yesterday's opening proved conclusively that Roxboro is paying as much for tobacco as any market and many farmers who have not been selling on this market for the past few years were here with their first load and will make this market their market-and this is as it

Can Not Sell Trash Or Scrap Tobacco At Barn Unless Entered On Card

IF IN DOUBT, BRING CARD AND BILLS TO CO. AGENT

By H. K. Sanders

Some of the contract signers ar laboring under the impression that after their allotment is sold they can sell whatever surplus tobacco they have on hand by paying the tax. This is a mistaken idea.

Contract signers who produce in excess of their allotment have the privilege of securing cards from their friends and using whatever unsold pounds remain on these cards. If cards cannot be obtained from contracting signers here at home, you may order cards from the Georgia farmers, through this office, at 5c per pound.

The government requires that if any contract signer sells tobacco and pays the tax, that he must cancel his contract, return his rental check, and pay tax on all tobacco sold from the farm.

Contract signers cannot sell trash or scrap tobacco at their barns unless this tobacco is entered on the allotment cards. If a contract signer wishes to sell any trash tobacco, it is the better plan to take it to a warehouse and sell it there, and let the number of pounds be any contract signer sells scrap tobacco and does not have it entered Kiwanis Club Entertains The on his card, he will have to forfeit hts contract, return his rental check, and pay the tax on his whole crop

Mr. O. C. Gravitt made a sale which of course, he was wonderfully pleased with on the opening days here. It has been a long time since tobacco brought $1.00 a pound, but for a pile yesterday. He sold a small load at the Hyco which averaged $45.12; and naturally he will be one who will boost this market.
