REV. ROBERT JEROME, BURLINGTON PASTOR, HEARD HERE SUNDAY

Held Morning Service At Long Memorial In The Absence Of Pastor

Rev. Robert Jerome, pastor of the Webb Street Methodist Church in Burlington, N. C., occupied the pulpit at Long Memorial Methodist Church here Sunday morning in the absence of Rev. J. P. Herbert, pastor of the church, who is conducting a series of revival services in Fredericksburg, Va.

Mr. Jerome brought a sermon filled with much thought to his hearers. He pointed out that there were five ways by which God The Pure Spirit, made Himself known. Those who were privileged to hear him enjoyed Mr. Jerome's sermon very much.

At the evening hour Rev. Thomas Hamilton, pastor of the Roxboro Presbyterian Church, occupied Mr. Herbert's pulpit. He spoke of the Galilean accent, pointing out that, if we wished to get a certain accent, it is necessary to live among the people who use that particular intonation of the voice. He applied this illustration to the life of Christian workers. If we wish to live in the way of Christ, then it is necessary that we live close to Him.

All the regular services of the day were held in their usual order Sunday, and it was announced that the services of the week would be in their usual order.

Interior Changes Help Appearances At Roxboro Drug Co

New Floor Covering, New Prescription Department Adds To Looks Of Store

The Roxboro Drug Store has made quite a few changes in the interior appearance of their store over the week-end. A new first-class quality linoleum flooring has been put down, replacing the old flooring; the prescription department has been moved to the rear of the store, giving much additional needed floor space. In order to make it more convenient for the customers to get their prescriptions to the druggist, a window has been cut in the prescription counter. All in all this progressive drug store is better equipped than ever to give its patrons the best in drugs and in service.

On another page you will find their advertisement. Read it and see what attractive prices they are offering on everyday needs for the medicine cabinet.

Roxboro High Now Member In Southern Association

Word was received here last week that Roxboro High School had again been accorded membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Only sixty-seven schools in North Carolina are members of the association. Roxboro has been a member heretofore, but on account of reduced budget, which meant a reduced standard, it was dropped.

SEVENTY-FIVE CASES OF MEASLES REPORTED SINCE FEBRUARY 1ST

The Majority Of These Cases
Are In Roxboro; All Schools
Operating On Schedule

Seventy-five cases of measles have been reported to the County Health office since the first of the month, records in the hands of the County Health Nurse show. Most of these cases are confined to Roxboro and its immediate vicinity, although there is a scattering throughout the county.

With the reopening of the Cunningham and Indian schools all Person County are operating on their regular schedule. However, the attendance has been somewhat impaired due to the abounding number of measles cases and the flu. Cunningham and the Indian School had been closed down for several weeks, but they were the only schools in the county that had to close.

PROSPERITY

The new cigarette, Prosperity, manufactured by the Farmers Cooperative Tobacco cigarettes were placed on sale here last week by Mr. N. T. Davis, who is interested in the Association. Several farmers of this County have stock in the business, and we trust they will receive large dividends. The cigarette is of good appearance and is by no means a bad smoke, many saying they measure up in quality with any of the old brands. Get a package and see how you like them.

House Badly Damaged By Fire Today

Fire Caught In Flue And Had Good Headway When Discovered

The two-story frame dwelling house that adjoins the Roxboro Central School property on Lamar Street was damaged to a considerable extent about 1 p. m. today when fire from a defective flue broke out between the walls. Two families, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Strum and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lunsford and their children, lived in the house.

Most of the household furnishings was saved and everybody, including two small children ill with measles, got out in safety. As we go to press there has been no estimate placed on the damage done to the building itself. Two rooms, one upper and one lower, suffered the greatest amount of damage, that being the place where most of the fire was. But there was considerable damage done to other parts of the house by smoke and water.

Only in the central and southern portions of China is rice a staple article of diet.

AROUND THEM SWIRLS THE DRAMA OF LINDBERG CASE

Hauptmann

The Judge

The Jury

On the upper left are four close ups of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, whose fate is now in the hands of the twelve ladies and gentlemen shown below. At the upper right is the man about whom little has been heard during the thunders of the lawyers in this famous trial. He is Justice Thomas W. Trenchard who, during these many weeks, has quietly sat on the bench and guided the trial through all the intricacies of legal ethics and technicalities.

The defense completed its plea Monday with Defense Chief Reilly making an all-day appeal for the life of his client. The State rested Tuesday after prosecutor Wilentz had thundered "No compromise with murder" in demanding the life of Hauptmann as the kidnap-murderer of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. The judge charged the jury this morning as soon as court convened and the fate of the defendant rests entirely in the hands of the jury pictured above.

DAVID T. WILENTZ DEMANDS DEATH OF BRUNO RICHARD HAUPTMANN

Fiery Attorney General Unleashes Scathing Denunciation of German

JUDGE TO DELIVER HIS CHARGE TODAY

Sensational Court Interruption By Brother of Chain-Gang Fugitive

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 12.—In the name of all laws, written and unwritten, a little firebrand in gay strode this courtroom today, demanding that Bruno Richard Hauptmann be executed as the worst criminal of all time.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz raged at the prisoner from the first moment of court until dusk. When he leaned across the jury rail and asked for a verdict of first degree murder and the death of Hauptmann for the murder of Baby Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

Tomorrow, the calm, impartial voice of Justice Thomas W. Trenchard will be heard under these ancient rafters, and all passion and rage and pity will be gone for an hour or two. He will be instructing the jury on points of law, talking to them in that homely, friendly way of his, and bidding them go out and search for a verdict. The jury probably will get the case at noon. Then there will be nothing for Hauptmann to do but wait.

Strongest of All

There have been plenty of things here to rasp nerves and bring people jumping from their seats in a frenzy of excitement. But the strangest one of all came today, late in the afternoon, when the courtroom was stifling, when perspiration dripped from the chins of spectators and smeared the rouge and powder on Women's cheeks.

Wilentz, weary and spent, was coming to the close of his summation, speaking the last words of denunciation that can be spoken in this courtroom.

Abruptly, a man, wearing clerical garb, stood up among the spectators and shouted:

"If your honor please, a man in

Roxboro Preparing to Go After Worth-While Things

Kiwanians And Rotarians Back Movement For Chamber Of Commerce

They say Roxboro has been asleep for the past some time, and while this charge is admitted as pertaining to some things, roads for instance, and public building, etc., it is absolutely untrue as to the growth of the town, increase in business generally. However, there are two civic clubs here which have determined that no grass shall grow under their feet, and they propose to see that Roxboro, and Person county, get the things they are entitled to. As will be seen from reports of the Kiwanians and Rotarians elsewhere, they have both taken up the matter of a Chamber of Commerce—with big capital letters, and are going to see that Roxboro has an organization which will mean much to the town. We know there are some who will call our

Huge Navy Dirigible Wrecked Off Coast of California During Maneuvers

SHIP IN CHARGE OF COMMANDER WILEY

Sent SOS Calls And Then Dropped Into Ocean; Two Men Unaccounted For

San Francisco, Feb. 12.—The $4,000,000 dirigible Macon lurched out of control tonight, plunged 2,500 feet and sank in the Pacific, but 81 of the 83 Navy men aboard her were saved.

The fate of two men who had remained aboard the ship—a radio operator, Earnest Edwin Dailey, and a mess attendant, Edward Quinday—had not been determined more than four hours after the crash.

A sudden unknown disaster—possibly an explosion or disabled gear sent the pride of the Navy's air forces into a sickening plunge to the fog-cloaked waters.

Wiley Saved
Lieutenant Commander Herbert V. Wiley, skipper of the giant airship and only officer who survived the Akron disaster, was picked up by rescue ships which were on maneuvers with the dirigible.

The scene of the disaster was 13 miles southeast of Point Sur, rocky promontory 110 miles south of here.

Sixty-four survivors were picked up by the Cruiser Richmond, the (Continued on page six)
