CHANGE IN DAYS OF ISSUE Memorial Day Palace Will Open Its Doors For Sunday Movies

Theatre Will Make Move On Next Sunday For First Time In History

The Palace Theatre will open next Sunday for an afternoon and an evening performance. Though many surrounding towns have made it a practice for several months, this will be the first time that Sunday pictures have been shown here. This move is deemed necessary to give the patrons of this house the best service ever. The management of the theatre states that a percentage of the proceeds from the Sunday movies will be applied toward a Milk Fund, which will be in the hands of County Health Nurse Ruth McCollum O'Briant.

The schedule has been arranged that none of the performances will conformance will begin at 9:15 P. M. The and bridegroom. box office will be opened fifteen minutes before each performance,

The Kirby Bros, have always held cessional. ing a first-class theatre.

When we began publishing THE COURTER semi-weekly we gave our publication days as Tuesday and Friday, but as a matter of fact published it on Monday and Thursday. We shall continue to publish on Monday and Thursday, and the majority of our readers will get it on Tuesday and Friday, as at present, but it will bear date as of the day it is printed, Monday and Thursday.

We do not like the idea of printing on one day and dating it the next day, as it is confusing, as for instance, last week there was a wedding here on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock and in reporting we had to say that the wedding occurred this morning, and many of our readers were reading about it on Monday afternoon. So to avoid such troubles we are dating our papers as of day of publication, Monday and Thursday.

Of A Person County Boy Is Herewith Enclosed

This day, Thursday, May 30th, has been set aside when we pause to remember those who fought and died in the three major conflicts in which this country has engaged during the past three-quarters of a century. For Person County's foremost hero, in the World War, especial mention is deserved. Robert Lester Blackwell served overseas from May 12, 1918 until the day when he was killed in action around Bellicourt on October 11, 1918. Told by some of the boys who were present at the time the story is Co. K. of the 119th Infantry, 30th Division, was among a group who were entrapped just outside the little town of St. Souplet, in France. The commanding officer, desiring to get help and get the help desired. All of these men were killed before they could reach the town. Upon stating that he, the captain, would not detail any more men to go into what looked like certain death, but that he would call for volunteers to go, Blackwell stepped forward and volunteered. He went, reached the streets of the town, but was shot down. In recognition of this

Local Reaction Seems To Be One Of Optimism And Yet With Air Of Uncertainty

With the whole country in a turmoil over the decision of the Supreme Court declaring the NRA as violating the Constitution, local reaction seems to contain feeling of optimism and yet with an air of uncertainty.

In going about the writer has met with various opinions concerning this decision, but they all seem to lead Although the NRA has been officially cancelled the effects of it are here try to totally abandon the present status, it will be deplorable. Until such shall happen, industrial leaders contemplate no change in the schedule that is at present being maintained. Collins and Aikman, Inc., has posted a notice for their employees that they contemplate no departure from their present schedule.

Other reactions are that the President and Administrator Donald Richberg will have a new plan to present in the near future, which will observe the limitations of the Constitution and be acceptable to Congress.

Refunding Plan Is Not Likely To Add Anything To The Present Tax Burden

$623,117 outstanding obligation of the Town of Roxboro has been tentatively approved by the North Carolina Local Government Commission, the North Carolina Municipal Council, an organization of municipal bond-holders whose members, it is thought, hold the majority of the town's bonds, and it is more than likely that the Town Board of Commissioners will approve it at its next meeting.

$71,117 of the $623,117 is accrued interest on the bonds and $33,000 of it is in notes. The balance, $519,000 is outstanding bonds.

The plan provides for the purchase of town bonds in the open market with accumulations of the sinking fund, if they can be had for less than par value. If not it is requested that the sinking fund be used periodically to retire bonds. All the new bonds will be subject to call.

"Undoubtedly the town's credit will be very much improved by this program if it proves successful and there is every reason to suppose that it will succeed," stated Town Attorney F. O. an interview this morning,

SPECIAL FEATURES

The Merchants', Manufacturers' and Farmers Exposition swung into action Monday night when Mayor R. B. Dawes welcomed the patrons on behalf of the City of Roxboro and with Gordon C. Hunter, President of the Chamber of Commerce, and Secretary Hugh Sawyer, speaking a few words on behalf of that organization.

Some fifty merchants have booths at the Exposition, and the supreme effort seems to have been put forth to make these the most beautiful that have ever been seen in this county. Indeed many old-time exposition men have stated that they are the most beautiful they have seen at an exposition in a town approximating the
