

POSTMASTER OPENS BIDS FOR POST-OFFICE SITE

Only Six Bids Received, Ranging From $5,000 to $21,400

Postmaster Tucker opened the bids for a post office site yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Judging by the number of bids submitted the land owners of Roxboro are not greatly interested in where the post office building is located, and also judging from the prices, are not especially anxious to sell. The following bids were submitted:

M. W. and Miss Maude Satterfield; lot on Depot and Foushee street, $5,000. Peoples Bank; lot on South Main and Academy street, opposite Baptist church, $12,000.

J. A. Long and the Town of Roxboro; lot on South Main and school street, adjoining city hall and fire station, $21,400.

W. A. Sergeant and A. W. Clayton; lot on Lamarr and Reams Avenue, now used as a filling station, $10,000.

S. G. Winstead; lot on proposed new street to be called Satterfield, said street to be opened running from Main to Foushee street, between the Winstead warehouse and Central Service Station; Government to select location anywhere in rear of Central Service Station, and Mr. Winstead agrees to donate said lot.

J. A. Long; lot on Reams Avenue and Lamarr street, $14,000.

R. T. Andrews; lot on Depot street, adjoining Griffin Motor Co., $4,500.

Postmaster Tucker will forward the bids to Washington and await instructions.

The Thompson Ins. Agency Is Congratulated

The Thompson Insurance Agency has received several letters of congratulations from Jefferson Standard Home Office Executives for their remarkable production during August, which is Loyalty month. The Agency produced 55 1-2 applications for a total of $71,500 production. The Company advises that this production is outstanding both as to volume and applications.

When buying insurance, buy from Roxboro's oldest, largest, and best insurance agency. They sell every known type of insurance.

Notice To Parents

Children who will enter school this fall must be six years of age not later than November fifteenth, according to a ruling of the State School Commission.

Each child is required to have successful vaccination or else a statement from a physician that the child should not least for the time being, for physical reasons be subjected to vaccination.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Austin, and Mr. Hubert May of Nashville, N. C., and Mrs. Jackey Plyler of Salisbury, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Austin, and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Austin of Smithfield, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Austin and daughter, Carmen, of Four Oaks, N. C., spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Austin.

FORTY MEN WANTED FOR THE NAVY

B. D. Spears, petty officer in charge of the Navy recruiting station, located in Greensboro, N. C., has announced that the September quota of enlistments for the two Carolinas has been set at 40 men. All enlistments will be made as apprentice seamen.

Patrick J. Hurley, former Secretary of War, testifying before the Senate Lobby Committee:

"I am a goldfish in a bowl. You can see me from any angle."

'Electric Whoopers'

"I don't know whether I want to go to school this year or not," said a seven year old child to Health Nurse O'Briant while she was conducting one of her vaccination tours.

"Why?" asked Mrs. O'Briant. "Because they tell me that the new man up there (referring to Superintendent Griffin) has got electric 'whoopers' and is going to whip children by the hour," was the little fellow's response.

Mrs. O'Briant certainly has some unique experiences in her regular rounds.

Yankee Scout Here This Week To Look Over Ca-Vel Team

Johnny Nee, Head Scout, Sees
Ca-Vel Play. Is Favorably
Impressed

Johnny Nee, head scout for New York Yankees, was in town for several days the first of the week to look over Ca-Vel's team. He saw them play on Monday and Tuesday afternoon, and reports are that he was favorably impressed with the showing of some of the boys.

It is understood that a tentative offer was advanced by Mr. Nee to Baxter Mangum, manager of the team, for two of his players but no definite action was taken. The results of this offer will be announced at a later date.

Mr. Nee, one-time manager of a ball club at Kinston, N. C., makes it his business to travel over the country and pick up new talent for Colonel Rupert's team. It was he who first started Dick Ferrell on his path to glory. Rick, as is well known, is a native North Carolinian, being from Greensboro, and a brother to Wes Ferrell. When asked about Wes Ferrell, Nee said that he was a great ball player, as are the Dean brothers.

Someone asked him who was the greatest ball player today, and he replied "Lou Gehrig."

Howard Will Fight Cox In Headliner Here September 13

Clyde "Jack" Oakley To Meet
Tommie Barton. Other Interesting Bouts. Adm.
At Regular Scale

"Wild Bill" Howard will meet Fred Cox of Danville, Va., in the headline attraction of the boxing event to be held here in the Winstead Warehouse on Friday, September 13th. Howard, who has already made his debut as a fighter to Roxboro audiences, weighs 148 pounds while Cox, who will be fighting here for the first time, weighs 146 pounds. It is reported that these two are very well matched and should put up a good fight on this occasion.

Clyde "Jack" Oakley of this county, who also has already fought before fight fans here, will meet Tommie Barton. He, too, has fought here before.

Both of these bouts are scheduled to be five 2-minute rounds.

Maurice Jackson, 128-pounder of this city, will meet J. P. Morgan, Jr., 126-pounder of Danville, Va., in four 2-minute rounds.

Also fighting four 2-minute rounds will be Thomas Rigley, 105 pounds, of Danville vs Young Fleyton, 105 pounds also of Danville.

Principal Urges Parents To Start Children On Time

Allensville School Head Points
Out Necessity Of Beginning
School On Opening Date

The Allensville school will open on Tuesday, September 17 at 9:00 o'clock a. m. Due to the late date of opening I am hoping that all pupils will be able to start on the seventeenth. We are hoping to secure another high school teacher on the basis of our attendance record for the first two weeks of school. In order to do this, every student in the high school department must begin on the seventeenth and be present every day. I wish to urge every parent in the district to start his children to school promptly, for we need another teacher very badly.

The local board of education has announced the following faculty:

S. B. Satterwhite, principal, Thomas Gentry and Miss Patricia Slaughter, high school, Miss Hilma Ward, Mrs. S. B. Satterwhite, Miss Willie Mae Whitte, Miss Mary Etta Gentry, Miss Cornelia Thompson, grammar grades; Miss Cleo Rogers, grammar grades; Miss Lillian Brandon, primary grades.

Some changes have been made in the truck routes by the State School Commission and those families affected will be notified before school opens. S. B. Satterwhite, Principal

All Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds Called For Redemption

Must Be Exchanged At Once. Holders
Urged To Turn Them In To Nearest Banker

All fourth liberty loan bonds have been called for redemption by the Treasury Department. Holders of these certificates are urged to turn them in to their nearest banker at once.

This is the last call for these bonds that have not been refunded. If holders do not turn them in at once, it is thought that they will have to wait until October 15th.

Mr. John Ellington Tenders Resignation

Mr. John Ellington, who, for the past three years, has been in charge of the Seed Loan office here, has tendered his resignation to Uncle Sam. It will become effective on September 15.

Mr. Ellington has accepted a position with the American Agricultural Chemical Company and will be located in Fayetteville, N. C. He has many friends who regret to see him leave, but who rejoice with him in his new position.

MUST HAVE REQUISITION

Various and sundry connected with the town have been ordering and buying such supplies as they wished but the Board has issued orders that no bill be accepted unless same has been ordered by the City Manager. Be sure you have such requisition before filling any order for any one connected with the Town, or you will see your bill thrown in the waste basket. Too much promiscuous buying say the City Dads and they propose to put a stop to it.

FORMER CITIZENS VISITED HERE

Rev. and Mrs. C. T. Plyborn, of Forest City, N. C., former residents of Roxboro, were welcome guests at this office Tuesday afternoon. They attended the centennial held at Mill Creek Baptist Church Sunday, where Mr. Plyborn was formerly pastor. Mrs. Plyborn returned home Tuesday, while Mr. Plyborn is here conducting a revival at Mill Creek.

MEETS AN OLD FRIEND

Mr. A. V. Hudgins, who has just returned from a visit to Roanoke, Va., where he visited his brother and friends. Among the friends he visited was Rev. D. J. Miss Susan Hester Weds W. H. Gibson In Pretty Ceremony

Daughter Of Mr. And Mrs. F. J.
Hester Is Married At Home
Of Her Parents

In a very pretty ceremony that was simplicity itself Miss Susan Hester became the bride of William Harris Gibson of Wagram, N. C. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Hester, Tuesday afternoon.

Prior to the taking of the nuptial vows, which were spoken before the bride's pastor, Rev. William F. West, Mr. J. J. Pence of Wagram presented a beautiful program of wedding music. He played "Venetian Love Song," "Bridal Chorus From Lohengrin," and "To A Wild Rose". The bride and groom were unattended at the altar. The bride wore a becoming travel costume of Titian rust trimmed with mink. Her accessories were of dark brown. A lovely shoulder corsage of Jonna Hill and sweetheart roses lent a note of contrast.

The bride is the grand-daughter of the late Judge D. W. Bradsher and is an outstanding member of the younger social group. She graduated from Meredith College with an A. B. degree. She was popular and well known among the students while a resident of that campus. For the past year she has been a member of the Apex city school faculty.

The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gibson of Wagram. While a student at Wake Forest College, of which institution he is a graduate, Mr. Gibson was popular with both the faculty and the student body. For the past several years he has been a member of the Apex High School faculty. During the 1935 session of the state Legislature he served as representative from Scotland County.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gibson left for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Apex.

BRUNSWICK STEW

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Dunn gave a stew on Friday night, Aug. 30 for the members of the Daughters of America and their neighbors. At 5:30 o'clock three pots of stew was taken off the fire and dished out. The Brunswick and chicken stews were especially delicious. The guests numbered around one hundred. If Mr. Dunn has as good a crop next year as he has this time, we are sure we will have the opportunity to eat stew again with him.

Person County School Bus Routes Mapped For Year

Representative Here Last Week
Checking Over Routes,
Mapping Them In Accordance With The Requirements

The State School Commission has recently sent a representative into the county to check all the school bus routes. This is being done in all the counties of the state. The law of the last Legislature provides that all students living more than one and one-half miles from the school shall be transported; also, that pupils who live several miles from school shall be accommodated by trucks routed within a mile of their home.

It is the purpose of the School Commission to meet the requirements of this law and to decrease the cost of transportation as much as possible. An effort was made to stop two different trucks from traveling the same road. The Commission also recommends that drivers be secured as near the end of the line as possible to eliminate the necessity of empty trucks "doubling" on the same road.

The routes have been mapped and we hope to follow them as closely as possible. However, the School Commission has promised to revise the routes and restore the necessary trucks if these routes are not found practical after school opens, and the trucks have operated several weeks.

ergency Agencies.

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 4 — Back from a swing across the country, Postmaster General (Big Jim) Farley told President Roosevelt today that he would carry the nation in the 1936 election.

"We are all right," Farley said later to newspapermen in discussing party conditions, "no matter what they say to the contrary."

Despite Mr. Roosevelt's insistence that politics would be taboo in his meeting with Farley and other Democratic leaders, it was apparent that the subject was not long in being brought up for a lengthy canvassing over the luncheon table at the summer White House.

Farley also predicted the renomination and election of Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York.

He was confident that sufficient funds would be forthcoming to finance the Roosevelt campaign. "We won't need as much as in 1932," he remarked.

Republican Chest

"How about that big Republican war chest that is being collected," he was asked.

"It won't make any difference," he said, "it won't do them any good."

Farley revealed that in his meeting with the President the latter's forthcoming trip to California was briefly touched upon.

With him as he drove up to Hyde Park house were Vincent Dailey, a power in the state Democratic party, and Robert Jackson, special Treasury Department adviser, who hails from Jamestown, N. Y. They were joined later by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago and Charles Broughton, a Democratic national committeeman from Wisconsin.

Kelley's visit had to do with works projects that will be initiated in Chicago with the help of Federal funds. He departed for New York after a two-hour call.

Mr. Roosevelt turned to the national political situation after a morning given over to a press conference and in completing routine administration work.

RED CROSS FIGURES REPORT 101 DEATHS; RELIEF UNDER WAY

Lines are Restored; Storm now Moving Back Across Florida and Is Expected to Pass Out to Sea off the Carolinas; One of War Veterans
Survivors Tells Of Night Of Horror.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 4. — The racing tropical hurricane which swept the Florida keys with an unofficial toll of from 200 to 500 lives was headed back northward across the state tonight with apparently diminishing force.

The Red Cross placed the death casualties at "at least 101" in a report which Leonard K. Thompson, Red Cross disaster relief chairman here, sent to Admiral Cary T. Grayson at Washington. He said that 100 were known to be dead in the upper key region and that he estimated another 100 perished in the islands farther south.

No estimate of the crop and property damage could yet be obtained and it was likely an actual total of the loss of life would not be available for days. The Red Cross figure was the first of a semi-official nature to be announced. Rescue forces were being organized in all parts of the affected area, however, and it was hoped restoration of communication lines would quickly reveal the extent of the storm.

Going North

There were reports of high winds in northwestern Florida tonight and some property damage, but no indication of loss of life. At 7:30 tonight the weather bureau at Jacksonville said the disturbance gradually diminished to storm winds, probably would pass just north of Macon, Ga., and move out into the ocean through the Carolinas.

Coast Guard headquarters at Washington were informed tonight by its Jacksonville station that between 200 and 400 persons were dead at Matecumbe, where a number of World War veterans were encamped in a road building project.

An estimate that the dead in the keys would not exceed 300 came from Dr. J. P. Stewart, who late today completed an aerial survey of the storm-swept region.

George Branch, station master at Islamorada, toward the north end of the island chain, reported to the Florida East Coast Railroad that he had counted nearly 150 bodies, and estimated the storm had claimed several
