CATTLE SHOW GOES OVER IN MASTERFUL MANNER

Parade And Speech-Making In The Morning, Judging In The Afternoon, Feature Person County's First Jersey Cattle Show.

CREDIT WHERE THE CREDIT IS DUE

With parading and speechmaking in the morning, judging of cattle during the afternoon, the lowering of cows and bawling of calves all day Person Co. celebrated its first Jersey Cattle Show Friday. The parade started from the rear of the Planters Warehouse, show-ground for the day, at 10:00 A. M., proceeded to Main, up that street to School street and back to the grounds. Promptly at 11:00 A. M., with the rear wall of the warehouse backing him up on the south and facing Reams avenue H. K. Sanders from the improvised platform called the meeting to order and introduced the first speaker of the occasion to the five or six hundred people gathered for the show. Mr. S. G. Winstead, in his natural element, the platform, delivered one of his usually masterful addresses in bidding all visitors welcome to the cattle show. He dwelt briefly on the "live-at-home" program, pointing out that cattle raising must be an essential part of any such program.

Next in order was Mr. W. W. Fitzpatrick, manager for the Quailroost Dairy Farm and an old friend of County Agent Sanders. Mr. Fitzpatrick pointed out that any cow, in order to give the best service, must have enough to eat in foods that contain the proper ingredients. He congratulated Person County on its fine showing of first-class cattle and gave a fine tribute to those who had made the show possible. Following him was Mr. S. F. Nicks, Jr., Prosecuting Attorney for Person County. Mr. Nicks urged all present to live and trade in Person County. (Continued On Page Eight)

Two Cars Crash Saturday Night On Jalong Road

Ford And Chevrolet Involved In Crash That Occurred Inside City Limits

A Ford coach operated by Charles B. Adcock, who was accompanied by two other men, whose names could not be learned, crashed into the left front wheel of a Chevrolet coupe Saturday night when the driver attempted a left hand turn into Oliver's Service Station, at the same time passing another car. Mr. U. W. Lacks of Jalong, driver of the Chevrolet, was heading north and was completely off the hard surface on his side of the road. The Ford was coming south and attempted to turn into the service station while passing another motorist. The cars met just at the entrance to the station. Shortly after the crash it is reported that the two men with Mr. Adcock jumped out and ran. The occupants of the Chevrolet were brought to a physician's office here where they were given medical attention.

Gains Are Ahead Of Losses During Year of Business

New York, Sept. 29—Far more gains than losses in export trade for 1935 compared with last year were reported today by members of the American Manufacturers Export association. In a survey of manufacturing concerns in 23 states, the association found 79 per cent of members increased exports this year against last, and 21 per cent reported losses. "The greatest gains were reported by felts of 100 per cent," the survey ascertained, "an expansion of 78 per cent by automobiles, paper and stationery 61 per cent, automobile parts, accessories and equipment with an average of 50 per cent, sanitary ware of 50 per cent, confectionery products of 40 per cent and woolen goods, mohairs and velvets of 35 per cent." Losses from last year ranged from 9 to 10 per cent, it was found, and causes for the slump were assigned to such factors as strikes, rising costs under NRA, diversion in the lineup of foreign purchasers.

Woman's Club Head Has Message For Roxboro Women

Mrs. R. L. Wilburn Speaks Forcefully And Plainly About Womens Club Work In Roxboro

The Women's Club of Roxboro will hold its first meeting of the season next Monday afternoon, Oct 7th at 3 o'clock in the new community center. Does this announcement have any interest for you? Are you really and truly interested in your town? Do you love it and take up for it? Do you wish to see it grow better, spiritually, physically and mentally? If so, you are a natural born club woman and we need you and you need us. In union there is strength. Let us all combine our forces and determine in our hearts to be more deeply interested in our churches, schools, homes, recreation, folks and children. We want 100 members. Think of what 100 earnest serious minded women can do united in a great purpose. The following toast to Roxboro was found in the year-book of Woman's Club 1924-25. It is still our toast for 1935-36. Written by Mrs. Garland Winstead. Here's to our town, Roxboro that is to be. A green town, a clean town, beautiful to see. Where the weak grow strong and the strong help the weak. Here's to Roxboro, the town all should seek. Here's to her play-grounds and children glad. Her sand piles and swings the best to be had. May these be material out of which we shall build. A joyous young life our town to fill. Here's to the Parent-Teacher organization, A thing good for our school, therefore good for the nation. Where parent and teacher may meet and "have it out." Those troubles and bubbles you've all heard about. Our hospital is perhaps visionary. But our aches and pains a reality. Yet unless we begin to agitate one Our dreams will stay dreams and hospitals will none. Here's to the town where the streets are lightest, the teachers the smartest, the children the brightest. The best town, the blest town, whatever our fate, Here's to our home, Roxboro great! Mrs. R. L. Wilburn, Pres. Woman's Club

Teachers To Get No Sick Leaves

School Commission Decides Issue; Changes Age Limit For Child To Enter

The State School Commission voted Friday to grant no sick leave to the school teachers during the coming year and decided that, effective with the 1936-37 session, no child can enter school unless he becomes six years of age on or before October 1. The General Assembly of 1935 empowered the commission to award 5 days sick leave annually to teachers, but the commission ruled that expenses under the workmen's compensation laws passed by the Legislature and affecting teachers will be too great to allow sick leave spendings. Earlier this month, the commission changed the age-entrance rule to allow children who become six years of age by January 15 to enter school during this month. This rule will be in effect for the current year only. It was found that moving the date up increased the number of pupils to such an extent that it appears many additional teachers will be necessary. A committee of the commission was appointed to study the supplemental budget submitted by city and county school administrative units and will make reports at the next meeting of the group, to be held on October 11.

Two Ca-Vel Ball Players Sign With New York Yankees

Players Will Go To Norfolk, Va. For Spring Training. The Terms Not Known

Claud Wilborn, one of the brightest stars on an all-star pitching staff for Ca-Vel ball club this year, and Buster Maynard, stellar second baseman for the same aggregation, have signed contracts with the New York Yankees. They will go to Norfolk, Va. for spring training.

Some weeks ago Johnny Nee, head scout for Colonel Rupert's team, was here, and at that time he saw the Ca-Vel ball club perform. As a direct result of his visit came an offer to skipper Baxter Mangum for these two players. The contracts have been signed, the terms of which were not divulged, and the boys are awaiting the call.

Both players have played heads-up ball throughout this entire season with the two-time banner winners in the Central State League. Wilborn, a native of this county, had a reputation as first-class ball player while in school at Bethel Hill high school. Maynard, a newcomer, has proved that he is a secondsacker of no mean ability.

With the signing of these contracts the number of big-time players developed at Ca-Vel is brought to three. Enos Slaughter having signed with the St. Louis Cards at the opening of this season.

CHIEF OLIVER MAKES BIG WHISKEY HAUL ON CHINCH-ROW TODAY

Raids Two Negro Residences For Total Haul Of Thirteen Half-Gallon Fruit Jars

Chief S. A. Oliver made a big whiskey raid on Chinch-Row Avenue today at 1:00 P. M., the upper end of which is devoted to Negro residences and is better known as "Chinch-Row" and came away with thirteen half gallon fruit jars, twelve of which were full of whiskey, the other containing about a pint. The officer, with his assistants, pounced upon two places, finding eight of the jars at Edna Swan's residence and the other five at Willie Satterfield, alias Willie Holeman, both Negroes.

The chief stated that he had had his eye on these places for some time, but had not been able to close in in sufficient time to make the haul, but he was successful today, having made carefully arranged plans before he entered the houses. At this writing both negroes are in jail, pending bond arrangements.

BETTER TEXTILE BUSINESS SEEN

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 27—Belief there "is ground for confidence in better times ahead" for the cotton textile industry was expressed today by Goldthwaite H. Dorr, president of the cotton-textile institute, New York. Dorr said in an address before the Lewiston-Auburn Rotary club that a basis for optimism was "that the country seems to be beginning to experience a revival of its normal economic progress." Many cotton textile manufacturers, guests of the club, heard the address. The economic body was compared by Dorr to the physical body going through a period of convalescence and that which after losses and gains in strength there comes "without warning a flow of revivifying energy." "That slow recuperative progress seems to be under way," said Dorr. "Who can limit the wants of the people of the United States and the demand they will create with revivifying confidence and revivifying ability to spend?"

Hon. Frank Hancock Wires Notice That Application For Loan And Grant O. K'd.

The following wire was received here Saturday afternoon:

Washington, D. C. Sept. 28, 1935

Please advise officials County Board of Education President approved today loan and grant hundred and seventy-one thousand dollars for construction two schools and addition to old school.

Signed: Frank Hancock, Member of Congress

The above will come as rather a surprise, as the application was delayed almost to the last minute, and undoubtedly the fact that Mr. Hancock was on the grounds and was looking after it is the sole reason for its approval.

The following schools will be benefited by the loan and grant: Helena $61,500; Bushy Fork $58,000; Roxboro High School $33,000; Roxboro Grammar school $5,500; equipment and expense $12,000.

Under the terms of this loan and grant, unless there has recently been some change, the County will be required to furnish $93,500, and the Government will furnish $76,500. The amount to be furnished by the County will be in the shape of paper of some kind, bonds probably, which will be accepted by the Government.

Roxboro Attorney Speaks At Meeting Of Allensville PTA

Mr. Fitz Davis Addresses Group At First Meeting. Projects For Term Outlined

Allensville P. T. A. held its first meeting of the year on Thursday night, Sept. 26, in the school auditorium. Mrs. G. C. Vickers, president, was in charge of the meeting. Program consisted of a talk on "Community Life" by Mr. Fitz Davis of Roxboro, followed by routine business matters.

Mr. Davis, in a very interesting address, pointed out that individualism tends to break down our community life and that the schools of our nation are our only chance of overcoming individualism and of restoring the proper community life in America.

In setting its aims for the year the organization voted to purchase supplementary readers for the first seven grades and to terrace the school lawn and sow it in grass.

The third Thursday night in each month was set as the regular time of meeting. All meetings will be held at 7:00 P. M.

The association decided that Saturday, October 5, will be regarded as "Community Day." The ladies will furnish lunch on the school grounds, and the men will bring wagons and haul sand for the filter bed of the disposal system. All members are invited.

Mrs. Vickers urges every parent of the district to be present for a day of good fellowship, and show the real spirit of community life.

A Beautiful Dahlia Garden More Than 75 Varieties And Thousands Of Blooms

If you love flowers and want to see the prettiest sight you ever saw in the way of dahlias just drive out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Barnwell, about three miles north of Prospect Hill, on Route 14. Miss Lula Barnwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Barnwell, is the proud possessor of this dahlia garden, and has more than 75 varieties, and thousands of blooms to show you. Never in our life have we seen more beautiful dahlias or as many blooms; it is a sight to behold and is worth the trip of any lover of flowers. Visitors are welcome and you will find the entire family most agreeable and kind, and they will take pleasure in showing you this fine collection. Miss Lula sells flowers, and in planting season furnishes bulbs for hundreds of dahlia growers in both North Carolina and Virginia. In fact there is absolutely no excuse for sending to foreign growers for dahlia bulbs, when you can buy better home grown almost at your door. Visit this garden, see the flowers in bloom and select the varieties you want for next season; it is far more preferable than to order from a picture in some catalogue, which may come as represented, and they may not.
