Items Of Interest To Our Colored Readers

Mrs. Lee Jeffers and Cathern Jeffers motored to Snow Hill last Saturday to see their brother, Rev. Ralph Lawson who is very ill suffering from a stroke of paralysis.

Mrs. Coyle Humphrey Williamson of Durham is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flossie Humphrey of Seemora. Miss Bernice Humphrey and brother Leo Humphrey motored to Durham last Sunday.

The pastor and members of the New Ephesus Baptist Church of Cunningham closed a successful Anniversary the past week having raised $221.58. Most of the money raised came from patrons of the Woodburn School, Lillington, N. C.

Mr. W. H. Steel, of Lillington reports a successful year with 700 Rhode Island Reds. A 5,500 capacity incubator has been in operation for eleven months. Forty thousand baby chicks have been sold at an average price of 9 cents each. About six acres of wheat and corn are planted to feed these birds. Mr. Steel has one other man employed to assist in this work. His wife is in the teaching profession and they have cleared $500.00 up to the present time. A ten thousand capacity incubator will be installed first of the year.

Mr. Steel took Auto Mechanics as his vocation for a period of three years and decided to shift his interest to the poultry business.

VERY SUDDEN

San Francisco, Cal.—In 1900, Herman Hermansen wanted to wed Fredricka Friedman but she said that she would never marry. Too timid to try to change her mind, he saw an aggressive rival win the lady. Remaining a bachelor, he saw his chance when the husband died eight years ago, but it took him six years to push the question by mail. Fredricka said, "This is very sudden—yes."

Deposits In Banks Set High Records

Winston-Salem, Nov. 23—Clarence T. Leinbach, of Winston-Salem, president of the North Carolina Banks association, said here today total deposits in North Carolina banks as of November 1 reached a new peak for recent years.

Leinbach said a study of available statements made following the recent bank call as of November 1 showed deposits in the state would probably reach $360,000,000, a gain of more than 20 per cent since June 29, when the last bank call was made.

"Statements of November 1 for all the banks in North Carolina are not yet available," Leinbach said, "but an analysis of a number of reports made by banks in all sections indicates the total deposit figure will probably reach $360,000,000.

The highest percentage of deposit gains, he said, was shown by banks in the agricultural sections where crops are being marketed.

Jewett, Ohio.—The engineer and fireman on a locomotive were killed when a fog-blind motorist drove in front of the train. The car driver suffered a minor injuries.

RAMBLING 'ROUND NEW YORK

with HUGH KENNY

One of the town's illustrious tells of taking her three-year-old daughter to an exclusively advanced practice nursery school. "And what do they do," she asked. "Play with blocks and such?" The teacher drew herself up to a prodigious dignity and replied, "But Madame, we don't call it playing."

The story goes that Harlem's st. of well-to-do apartment houses that shelter such notables as Cab Calloway, Duke Ellington and Joe Louis—well, it's just called "Sugar Row"—that's all.

Plans for New York's World's Fair in 1939 will have to include transportation. The site is an hour away from town, and subways are taxed to the limit at rush hours now!

Over the stage door entrance of Earl Carroll's theater where the Vanities used to play, is inscribed the legend, "Through these portals pass the most beautiful girls in the world." Billy Rose has a variation in huge letters at the stage entrance to the "Jumbo" theater stage entrance: "Through these portals pass the most beautiful horses in the world."

One of the tailors of the town says he has orders for two satin-lined Inverness opera capes of the old school, and with an abstracted look in his eye wonders whether the tophat trade is returning to old-fashioned elegance.

Watching the important money being spent in the fashionable night clubs, the more exclusive jewelers' and furriers' shops, and the fancy new automobiles that roll out of salesrooms every day in New York, it looks like the beginning of a genuine boom. A recent order being talked about, was for a $100,000 chinchilla coat. The furriers reported the market simply couldn't supply the skins!

TODAY and TOMORROW

FRANK PARKER STOCKBRIDGE

LAMPS . . . . . Kerosene

A kerosene lamp—or, as the English call it, a "paraffin" lamp—exploded in the servants' quarters of St. James's Palace in London, where the Prince of Wales lives, the other day, and set fire to the building. I have heard of nothing recently which so aptly illustrates how long it takes to bring new inventions and conveniences into general use. When one of the British royal palaces still relies on oil lamps, it is not surprising that we still have millions of homes in America that have not been wired for electricity.

I have been trying to remember when I first lived in a house with electric light. I was 35 years old, and had lived in several good-sized cities, before I had electricity in my own home. It will be a long time yet before electric lights are universal.

WINDMILLS . . . . . nature's power

The oldest and almost the last of the picturesque Dutch windmills on Cape Cod is going to be moved to Henry Ford's museum at Dearborn. Mr. Ford has assembled there the largest collection of American antiquities in the world, for the purpose of showing the students in his trade school—and others—how things used to be made and done.

The windmill is perhaps the most primitive of all man's efforts to harness the forces of nature, and was efficient enough when nobody was in a hurry to get things done. The Pilgrims of Plymouth brought the Dutch windmill idea with them from Holland, where they had spent 14 years before embarking in the "Mayflower" for America.

I can remember as a boy "Down East" going with my father with a load of corn to be ground into meal in one of those old windmills. Now they are merely ornaments—and back in Holland, where they have been used for centuries to pump the water out from behind the dikes, they are being replaced by the more modern and efficient Diesel engines.

INSURANCE . . . . . old age

Everybody who reads this, if he or she works for salary or wages in any business or industry except farming, will have to begin pretty soon to pay Uncle Sam something out of the pay envelope every payday.

I've just been studying the Social Security Act, passed last Summer. Beginning Jan. 1 1937, it sets the Federal Government up as the biggest Life Insurance company in the world. Every worker—40 or 50 million of us—will be taxed on our incomes to pay the premiums on death benefits and old age annuities after we're 65. Every employer will have to pay the same tax on what he pays us, and besides that, a tax on his payroll for the Unemployment Compensation Fund.

I can't quarrel much with the idea of compulsory saving for old age, which is what this all amounts to, but I'm wondering how well this fund will be managed by the political appointees who will run it, especially when its gets up to fifty billion dollars or so.

UNEMPLOYMENT . . . . . facts

The greatest advantage of the new Unemployment Compensation law, in the Social Security Act, is that it will effectively separate the sheep from the goats. It will provide compensation when "laid off" for workers who have really been on payrolls, and leave only the chronic loafers to "re-lief."

Nobody knows, nobody ever has known how many genuine cases there are now or have been at any time of men and women willing and able to work, but unemployed through no fault of their own. The number, I believe, is much smaller than most of the so-called statistics would indicate. Before the Social Security Act has been in effect very long, we'll have some actual facts before us when we talk about unemployment.

FINGERPRINTS . . . . . on file

One of the provisions of the Social Security Act seems to point to the fingerprinting of every worker. Everyone who pays the Old Age Tax or for whom it is paid, has got to have not only proof that it has been paid, but that he is the individual entitled to its benefits, when the time comes to collect.

The Act contemplates a system of books, stamps and coupons, and "any helpful means of identification." I foresee a new social system in America, like that of European countries, where everybody—at least all of us who work for wages—will have to carry his complete dossier, a record of where he was born, where he has worked, how much he has earned and proof that his Old Age tax has been paid.

And all of those individual records, some 40 to 50 million of them, with fingerprints, will have to be on file in Washington.

State's New Gas Chamber Will Be Tested On Friday

Raleigh, Nov. 26—Initial tests of the state's new lethal gas chamber to be used in the future for executing criminals convicted of capital charges, will be held Friday, Capus M. Waynick, chairman of the state highway and public works commission, said today.

The double glass panels of the chamber were sealed into place today and everything will be in readiness for testing with a highly odorous harmless gas. A test with deadly gas will be made afterward.

Barring gubernatorial intervention, Ed Jenkins, Gaston county man, will be the first to die in the chamber December 6. He was convicted of the slaying of Paul Collins in Besmer City last July 4, and the Supreme court last week denied his appeal.

New York—Seeing a man climbing an elevated railway pillar Patrolman John Kennedy shouted, "come down." The man obeyed—dropping 40 feet on the officer who was cut and bruised. The unidentified climber was fatally injured.
