WEDNESDAY, JAN. 20, 1909

For an ordinary man Mr. Tillman has said enough, but he is built on a different frame from most public men. He believes he has been wronged by an enemy, not an official of the government, and is inclined to lay everything bare that has to do with the character of the man who has struck him below the belt.

Not since the days of Senator Vance has a man been elected to an office with more universal approval than the reelection of Senator Lee S. Overman. He is popular with all classes of people in the State and deservedly so. He has made a record which reflects credit on the State. Senator Overman's popularity extends beyond the borders of his State. He has as much influence in Washington as any Southern Senator, due to his high character as a man, as well as his ability. In him are embodied the true elements of a great man. Approachable, yet dignified and equipped for the highest office in the gift of his State.

MINISTERS AND FREE PASSES.

A matter which has been a subject for discussion since the passage of the rate bill two years ago has been reported on by the Interstate Commerce Commission. We give it in full:

The Commission is in receipt of a large number of protests against the construction placed upon that provision of the act to regulate commerce which authorizes the issue of free or reduced rate transportation to ministers of religion and persons exclusively engaged in charitable and eleemosynary work. The Clergy Bureau of the Transcontinental Passenger Association has issued a circular letter representing that, as a result of certain rulings of the Commission, special transportation privileges must be with drawn from many persons to whom they have hitherto been accorded. The classes particularly affected by this action are those comprehended by Rules 9, 10, 11, 12, and 14 of the Transcontinental Clergy Bureau, reading as follows:

Rule 9. Ordained clergymen acting as editors of officially recognized church papers.

Rule 10. Ordained clergymen acting as financial agents for church, religious or charitable institutions, including educational institutions under church government.

Rule 12. Ordained clergymen engaged in Christian Temperance or Y. M. C. A. work.

Rule 14. Brothers of religious orders, Sisters of Charity, devoting their entire time to religious work, who habitually wear a garb distinctive of their order. Applications to be made in the legal name of applicant, the religious names also to be shown and to be indorsed by the head of the institution with which connected; name of order or institution with which connected must always be given.

The Commission takes this occasion to state that the position taken by the Transcontinental Clergy Bureau is far in advance of anything required by the law or the rulings of the Commission. Reasonably interpreted, the ruling to which reference is made by the Transcontinental Clergy Bureau can not possibly necessitate the drastic action which it has taken. For information of carriers and the general public, we take this opportunity to express our views in terms, that it is hoped, will not be susceptible of misconstruction.

A clergyman does not lose his ministerial standing by reason of the fact that he leaves the pastorate for some other field of religious activity. A minister who becomes editor of a church paper, instructor in a theological seminary, financial agent for a church or other religious institution, or who engages in other work which may fairly be regarded as religious in character, and who does not abandon his ministerial work, may legally be accorded special transportation privileges.

The courts have been consistently liberal in giving construction to the words "charitable" and "eleemosynary," and we see no reason for being unduly narrow in interpreting these words as found in the act. A charitable institution is one which is administered in the public interest, and in which the element of private gain is wanting. This definition is broad enough to include hospitals, almshouses, orphanages, asylums, and missionary societies. This enumeration is not intended to be exclusive—it is only representative. It is important to note that such an institution does not necessarily lose its charitable character by reason of the fact that it is under the management of a particular denomination or sect, or because a charge is collected from some or all of those who enjoy its privileges. It is only necessary that it be conducted in the public interest and not for private gain.

The Commission entertains no doubt that carriers subject to the act may legally grant free or reduced rate transportation to some persons who may be included in any class comprehended by Rules 9, 10, 11, 12, and 14 of the Transcontinental Clergy Bureau. We can not undertake to pass upon individual cases. It is believed that no carrier, following the principles outlined here, need have any difficulty in determining who may be given concessions in the matter of transportation.

In Memory of Judge Purnell

Raleigh, Jan. 20.—A striking feature of the proceedings in the Federal Court here yesterday afternoon in memory of the late Judge Thomas R. Purnell was the hearty remarks by a number of the members of the bar on the personal character of the late judge. Col. Harry Skinner, district attorney, Col. J. C. L. Harris, James H. Poy, J. N. Holding, Chas. U. Harris, H. E. Norris, were among the speakers. Their set of resolutions setting out at some length the character and standard of his career private and public and especially his distinguished services on the bench were read. These were spread upon the minutes of the court by order of Judge Boyd, who is presiding until a successor to Judge Purnell in this district is commissioned.

LETTER CAUSES TROUBLE

(Continued from 1st page.) The Industrial News to the New York World, a paper that was fighting the President and furthermore, the News Mr. Holton is alleged to have written, has been of no service to the party. "While the letter was being read to the meeting District Attorney Holton sat like one paralyzed. In view of the fact that Mr. Holton is alleged to have himself plied a shifty hand in the way of publishing private correspondence, his surprise that he was his own petard can readily be imagined. He did not have long to wait for the storm that broke over his head. Angry stockholders jumped to their feet two at a time and poured out the vials of wrath on the head of the district attorney. What was said could not be taken down in shorthand. Somebody was heard talking about Judas Iscariot above the general hubbub and I while the canonade was at its height Mr. Holton reached for his hat and went out where balmy spring-like breezes were blowing. He looked like a boy caught in the jam cupboard.

"And now it is stated on good authority that the fight on District Attorney Holton's job will be renewed with more vigor than ever by the Republican organization. The sinews of war will be carried to the White House at Washington, the precincts of which have heard the battle cry against Holton before. And those who profess to be on the inside say that so certain is it that the present district attorney will be pushed from his office that friends of the Hon. Thomas Settle, of Asheville, will leave no stone unturned to secure the job for the Asheville lawyer who did such Trojan service for his party in the last campaign."

GOV. KITCHIN'S FIRST CALL

Special to the Enterprise. Raleigh, Jan. 20.—Governor Kitchin had his first call last night to take steps to prevent a lynching. The telegram came about six o'clock from Clinton and was from the sheriff of the county asking that the Sampson Light Infantry, of Clinton, Company H, Second Regiment be placed at the disposal of the sheriff to prevent an effort to lynch Will Ward. The mob wanted him for criminal assault and the sheriff was urgent in his appeal for the aid of the local company. Governor Kitchin sent a messenger post haste to look up Adjutant General T. R. Robertson, it being after office hours. And within a very few minutes the telegram was sent ordering the company to report to the sheriff and spare no effort to avert a lynching.
