"NOT IN A TRUST"

HIGH POINT'S PROSPERITY AND FUTURE PROSPECTS PUTS GOOD FEELING ON ALL CITIZENS

Some of the bustling business men of High Point sought out the Enterprise yesterday and complimented us on the tone of the paper and its general get up or news matter, and said that if the citizens generally would enter into the spirit as suggested by the Enterprise and in which it leads, it would take only a short time for High Point to have a dozen more new industries and in five years double its population.

He also emphasized the good feeling which is existing here now in all lines of business and the bright future the town has before it. There is no town in the South that has any firmer business foundation than High Point and there are very few which are in as good condition financially. Matters are being talked now among our business men, the result of which will create even more confidence in the business boom which awaits us and which is already started here in all lines. We can certainly count on two or three new factories, a dozen good residences, two hand-some store buildings, the Government building, two miles of trolley track, the organization of the Greater High Point movement, as well as other smaller things that will come about by July 1st. It is the duty of every citizen of High Point to face this great opportunity, talk well of his town, and not only for the town, but for every man in the town who is trying to help.

If we do this and exercise the same energy and precaution that has always characterized our movement, we will have the whole state talking about us and recognizing our splendid growth within a short time. We would like to see every man, woman and child in High Point with an enthusiastic feeling on the growth of the city and with a good word for everyone in it. There is no telling what can be accomplished in this alone and we have enough faith in the people of High Point to believe that they will do it. In order to bring about the best results the better class of people here, both rich and poor, should not listen to any discount notes from any source, but do all they can to discourage it in the proper spirit.

Keep your eyes on The City of Homes and Fables.

THE GOAT COMET.

No one else has seen fit to name the new comet so that the Enterprise will suggest the "Goat Comet". It has its tail up and has already voted.

ANOTHER NEW BRICK BUILDING ADDED TO WHOSEALE LIST

Mr. Robert Brackett is receiving many compliments on the handsome brick warehouse which he has just completed for Brackett & Sons, which is located on the railroad near the Dalton Furniture Co. The structure is well built and suitable in every way for the line of business which is followed by this progressive firm and with increased facilities, greater avenues for the increase of business are opened up, which no doubt will be taken advantage of by such progressive men as compose this firm. The Enterprise congratulates them on having such substantial and convenient quarters and a building which is a credit to the wholesale interests of the city.

RECORDER'S COURT.

There were several cases before the Recorder this morning, most of them arising from complaints about dogs running at large. The city officials are determined to enforce this ordinance in the city, as it is one of the best ever put on the books.

There was another case before the Recorder of an affray which took place at one of the factories. Parties were let off upon payment of costs.

THE WORTHLESS DOGS MUST GO.

To the Public: The horrible death of a child in a neighboring town a few days ago, caused by the bite of a worthless dog running at large on the streets, makes me more determined than ever to enforce without fear or favor, to the limit, the ordinance prohibiting dogs on the streets of our city, which means back streets and side streets as well as Main and the other principal streets.

Dogs are jumping fences, or getting out of yards and are running down horses and children until it has become such an absolute menace to the life and safety of the community, that I have instructed the Police Department to make a special effort to break up this nuisance and to kill all dogs found at large in the city, which they are unable to catch.

Owners will be indicted and expenses that they are unable to keep their dogs confined, will not in the future be accepted in the Recorder's Court.

I regard the bite of one little child a thousand times more valuable than all the dogs in High Point, and besides, we need the children.

I beg for the hearty cooperation of all citizens. Let us keep our city always reprobate in this as well as other respects.

Sincerely,
Fred N. Tate, Mayor

HE LIKES THE BOOK.

A few days ago Mr. Geo. R. Miller sent one of the High Point Books, gotten out by the Enterprise, to his uncle, Mr. H. W. Miller, of Isabella, Okla. In his knowledge of the book Mr. Miller's uncle says:

"The book came up the creek just and it is a Dandy. I have never seen anything of the kind get up more neatly and in better style. You must have some good art work in that direction and I think you will give a fine city if nothing happens to put it back."

The Enterprise appreciates these words from a venerable North Carolinian in the far West, who we understand is enjoying good health at 92 years of age.

TO RE-OPEN MONDAY.

The High Point Business College which has been closed for the past week on account of the illness of Miss Lena Jackson, will re-open Monday, January 30th.

THE HIGH PRICES.

The high prices of meat, about which so much has been said lately and on which there is boycott in some parts of the country, is being felt to some extent locally, especially on the meat that is being shipped into High Point. In the past two days there has been reduction in some lines which is no doubt due to the agitation, which is general all over the country.

The best thing for the southern man to do is to get a good garden of his own and prepare a place with which to supply himself with poultry and eggs. This is better than any boycott that can be inaugurated.

The conditions in the south for raising home supplies are almost perfect and there is no occasion for the people not going into business, especially for the purpose of supplying their own needs.

WILL ELECT RECORDER MONDAY.

The Mayor will probably call a special meeting of the City Council for next Monday afternoon for the purpose of accepting the resignation of Judge W. P. Ragan of the Recorder's Court and electing his successor.

HON. ASHLEY HORNE RESUMES HIS BUSINESS ACTIVELY

The Enterprise had the pleasure yesterday of meeting an old friend and distinguished North Carolinian, Hon. Ashley Horne, who was in the public eye last summer as a prominent candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Mr. Horne is a man of large interests, in fact, he is among the few of the old time Southern planters who are left. He cultivates 7,000 acres of land, which requires the services of 85 mules.

Mr. Horne is not only interested in farming, but he has investments in cotton mills, banks, insurance companies and other institutions of North Carolina that are doing so much to build up the State.

The many friends of Mr. Horne will be pleased to know that he has entirely recovered from his recent illness of pneumonia, which at one time seemed likely to prove very serious.

Mr. Horne is not in politics now, but he has a great many friends in North Carolina who would like to see him honored by his party.

CHURCHES SUNDAY.

There will be services in all the churches of the city on Sunday and all the pastors ask for a full attendance of the membership. The brethren who have been making such a noise for the past ten days on account of not having the privilege of attending church now have a year ahead of them and will no doubt be on time next Sunday and occupy the front seats.

LOCAL.

T. J. Jerome, of Salisbury, is here today.

A. P. Green, of Alexandria, Va., is registered at the Edwards.

Mrs. L. W. Ritter won the first prize at Mount Airy-Livingston Co. State Fair.

Thos. J. Jerome, Esq., of Salisbury, was a visitor here this morning.

F. P. Carpenter is confined to his room with pneumonia.

This has been one of the few bad days we usually have in mid-winter here. The comet has little to do with it.

Mr. A. B. Salovey is in the city today. Mr. Salovey is a prominent barrister in the state.

Thurman Mann is home from the University to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr and Mrs. J. D. Mann.

Miss Carolina V. Guibly, of Irvington, Va., is expected this week for a visit to Mrs. John M. Harrell.

Thos. G. Sylvan, of the Sylvan Pump and Well Co., of Richmond, was here yesterday. This company makes a specialty of artesian wells and has drilled some of the most successful wells in the South.

Pen Pickett is out after several weeks of severe sickness.

Rev. W. L. Sherrill, of Greensboro, representing the Christian Advocate, is in the city.

Supt. Howell and Prof. Kieger of the graded schools, left yesterday to attend the meeting of Superintendents and Principals of North Carolina Public Schools.

C. M. English, of Columbia, S. C. was here this morning en route to his old home in Trinity.

Capt. M. L. Jones, of Thomasville, is here today.

N. H. Hall, superintendent of bridge building and construction of the Southern Railway, was here this morning in conference with some of the city officials.

The men of Greensboro are still interested largely in the Laymen's Movement. A permanent committee has been appointed with A. M. Scales, chairman; C. H. Ireland, vice-chairman; E. J. Davis, Secretary and T. A. Hunter, treasurer. The laymen of Greensboro so far have raised about $20,000.

FARM FOR SALE.

120 1/2 acres of land 5 miles southeast of High Point on Ashboro road, opposite side of road from E. D. Steele's farm. Price reasonable.—J. J. Farris.

THE INEXORABLE YELLOW TIDE CREEPS SLOWLY HIGHER---PARIS IN GLOOM

Paris, Jan. 28. Flood conditions had become considerably worse at 2 o'clock this morning, particularly in the south and east sections. In the old Latin quarter the situation was critical. The sidewalk of the Quai des Grands-Augustins collapsed and fell into the Orleans. A company's tunnel beneath, further extending the flood through the ancient streets, particularly the Rue Jacob, and around the Forum of France.

Many sewers burst in the Twelfth Arrondissement, one of the biggest in Paris, the whole of which is now submerged, and has been plunged into darkness owing to the breaking of the gas main. Streets Transformed Into Canals.

In the meantime what is happening is enough to strike terror to the hearts of all. The very cells of the city seem ready to sink into the flooded subterranean canals beneath. Every house is now being in new localities, carrying a subsidence of the streets, or forcing them up several feet above the normal level, with the exception of one line where the water is transferred to the sewerage system in a considerable lake, and the rest is now being carried away.

Another quarter the water is now open in the streets, and the entire left bank of the Seine, from above the island to Avenue Copernic, has now been inundated. The fashionable St. Germain district, the Fontaine, the Chamber of Deputies, and the Chamber of Deputies, is submerged under one to two feet of water. Some of the deputies left the Palais Bourbon tonight in new boats after the backs of attendants. The walls of the Invalids Station are crumbling and both that structure and the wing of the foreign office opposite are in danger of collapse. The street surrounding the St. Lazare station has sunk three feet and the station itself is a shambles of debris. It is estimated that the total damage done by the night's flooding department is about $10,000,000.

The overflow on the broken sewer near the Hotel des Ministres, means the health of the sewer pipe, and the small coverage is already permeating the buildings.

Soldiers are working desperately by the aid of ladders, discharging detritus above the Solferino and Henry IV bridges, while large forces of men are still engaged in constructing dams to change the course of the swiftly moving currents.

City in Semi-Darkness. There was a further shut down of electric light plants last night.

POLITICS IN THE FIFTH DISTRICT WARMING UP---SIX POSSIBLE CANDIDATES

At the approach of long leg days, which is next Wednesday, the people of the Fifth District have begun to talk politics. Six names are mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for Congress: Judge Jones, of Winston; Dr. Melane, of Spray; Gen. T. S. Carr, of Durham; ex-Governor R. B. Odum, of Winston; Col. Royster, of Granville; and Col. John A. Barringer, of Greensboro.

The friends of the latter gentleman, however, state that he will not be a candidate. There is a contest for the Democratic nomination in this district, it should be made in the best of humor because the Democrats realize that Mr. Morehead is going to make a good run and it is going to take party along all lines to bring the district back in the Democratic column.

The name of Hon. Cyrus B. Watson, of Winston, has also been mentioned in connection with the nomination, but this distinguished veteran is not enthusiastic in the matter and has said that he would not run. Some of his friends have stated, however, that if the nomination were given him unconditionally that he would make the race and it is leaving the city in semi-darkness. The relief work is proceeding bravely, none being returned food or shelter. The Bishop Amette has ordered public prayers in the churches and a collection taken from the citizens.

The pipes of the crumpled water supply the authorities say that they reserve an expectation that there is no danger of a famine if the water is furnished plentifully and continued strictly for drinking purposes. At the same time a warning is again issued that the water should be boiled.

The situation below Paris is becoming appreciably worse. The stretch of water which occupies Boulogne, Nemilly, Piteaucy, Soyons, Amiens, Marais-Laite, Laon, and Paris, is widening rapidly, while another line of water is now pouring in from the east on the Champagne section.

The boulevard in front of the gay Casino has been suddenly flooded. Most of the hotels have remained open but they are deserted. A washed out street is in front of the boulevard.

At a special meeting last night the Board of Health drew up in emergency for the prevention of an epidemic. The board issued a message that some of the flooded houses must be abandoned until they have been thoroughly disinfected, and the bedding and clothing, which has been saturated by flood water, burned.

All omnibuses, street cars, and other heavy traffic on the bridges was stopped last night. Premier Briand declared that persons who looted provisions in the affected places, with the intention of selling them at a profit, would be summarily dealt with. The residence of United States Ambassador Bacon has become untenable, and the family has moved to the Mercedes Hotel.

The Red Cross Society, which has received a substantial check from Ambassador Bacon yesterday, established collection bureaus for the distress of several hundred people yesterday afternoon. Mr. Bacon called up at Foreign Minister Pichon and ultimately rendered the sympathy of the American government to the people.

J. P. Moran has called from New York, sending $20,000 of his own contributions to the relief fund which will be acceptable.

The families of the National government factory at Sevres are sinking. At many places in that vicinity the fresh water has been so rapid that the people did not have time in which to evacuate their homes.

A very minor thing is a story of a new disaster.
