HOW HIGH POINT LOOKED TO STRANGER

Impressions of High Point by a Visiting Furniture Worker.

March 29, 1910.

Having spent a few days in High Point, my opinions may appear complimentary or otherwise, but I will line to the line, regardless of where the chips fall. High Point, as its name signifies, is claimed to be the highest point on the Southern Railway.

That the city is away up above the malarial belt and the air is pure, the water wholesome, and healthful conditions perfect, is amply proven by the bevy of beautiful young ladies that are seen daily on the streets.

The writer, while not quite in the "scar and yellow leaf," can as easily distinguish and know how to appreciate the difference between pretty and common place-looking girls, as between an ordinary and a marchional rose.

The High Point girls are Marchionals—see the point? "Mas' Mas'!" might have been High Point proper, the common parlance of Main street, appears to be too common.

The costly private residences at each end of the four or five business blocks that constitute the principal business district, will eventually be a detriment to the expansion of the business houses; for the cost of these valuable lots and beautiful residences thereon will be a great handicap to the building of additional stores.

In number of factories, High Point is justified in claiming to be the Grand Rapids of the South.

In the quality of the goods manufactured, High Point will have to set up and take notice, because there can be any comparison to Grand Rapids.

High Point is growing though not much can not be expected of a kid.

When the kid is healthy and growing and clock full of energy and ambition, as High Point appears to be, mature years will equalize conditions.

The writer finds the people here courteous and accommodating.

Among the dozen or more factories I visited I was refused admittance at only one.

Several years ago, while in Grand Rapids I tried (for the benefit of my business) to gain admittance to the factories there. Some showed every courtesy, while others had iron clad rules prohibiting all but employees entering the factories.

The factories here, with one or two exceptions, appear to have too much trash and "dead" stock on their machine and cabinet room floors.

A. E. TATE ENDORSED

Mr. Editor:

As the time draws near for the selection of a candidate for the House of Representatives, we want to urge the nomination of a good man, a Democrat, Simon Tate, a business man of ability, a gentleman of undoubted integrity and a man of fine moral character as a representative from Guilford county. We have reference to Mr. Albert Edward Tate. Mr. Tate has been in business here and has managed his affairs successfully for over twenty-five years in our midst. We insist that Mr. Tate allow his friends to vote for him in the primary. Mr. Tate is a man who believes in the progress of the people and will do anything in his power to develop the resources of our county, and increase the producing and earning capacity of our citizens.

Democrat.

SUNDAY SCHOOL DELEGATES.

Miss Della Redding, of Carraway and Mrs. Chas. of High Point, and other ladies who are invited to go on the 8.13 train this morning to attend the State Sunday School Convention held in Raleigh until the afternoon train on account of the meeting being delayed several hours. Quite a number of the delegates here and in Greensboro were disappointed on account of this delay.

THE DEBATE TONIGHT

High Point is to have its first public debate tonight between the High School here and an out-of-town school, and we would urge upon the people of High Point to give the boys the largest attendance they have ever had at the Auditorium. This is commendable work on the part of our higher school grade, and we should show our appreciation of it by attending the debate. If you have anything else to do tonight, why put it off until another night and take your family down to the Auditorium where we are satisfied you will be highly interested. This is the most important request the Enterprise has asked for some time of the citizens, and we trust that the Auditorium will be filled. We do not encourage the children along this line as much as we should and this is a good opportunity to begin.

DELEGATES TO WILSON

Among those who will represent High Point at the state convention of Baraca, and Philadelphia to be held at Wilson this week are Miss Virginia Umard, Mrs. H. A. Muller, J. F. Hoffman, W. C. Sneed, and J. D. Taylor. The delegation goes to Wilson with a determination to have this convention meet here next year.

DR. KILGO

Rev. John C. Kilgo, D. D. president of Trinity College, will deliver an address at West Market Street Methodist church in Greensboro this evening at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Relation of the Church School to the Government."

CITY COUNCIL

The regular monthly meeting of the City Council was held in the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. All of the aldermen were present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. One motion of Dr. Peacock, Prior I. A. H. Roy, holds was allowed $192 on 1909 taxes, which was an overcharge. Upon motion of Mr. Leach, the mayor and city street commissioner were authorized to meet the railway company that the city would bear its part of the expense in building bridge as per agreement. Upon motion of Mr. Miller, it was ordered that water be put on Willis street running from Main to Wallowbrook and also on Wallowbrook street. On motion of Mr. Sedgwick it was ordered that the recommendation of a committee be accepted. On motion of Mr. Sedgwick Mr. Miller was authorized to put in a sidewalk on the Mason property. The reports from the different committees and street aldermen were read and approved. A petition from the amendment of a certain ordinance was read and approved. MR. PARTRIDGE HERE

The many friends of Mr. William Partridge, who was an inmate of the High Point and one of the prominent business men, are pleased to see him in High Point again. For the past six years Mr. Partridge has made his home in Edison, N. J. He visits High Point occasionally and his many friends in this community will be pleased to see him return to High Point as a resident. While Mr. Partridge has been away from High Point for several years, he has always owned property here.

LAWN PARTY.

The children of the Fourth A Grade at Main Street School will give a lawn party tomorrow evening. The proceeds of the sale of cake, cream and candy will go for the benefit of the school library. If being given, the party will open the party promptly at seven o'clock, so that those wishing may stop in their cars and from the bench. The lawn will be brightly lighted by electric lights. Go out and take your best girl and help a worthy cause.

EXTENDED 30 DAYS

At a meeting of the county commissioners they extended for 30 days the collection of the taxes for 1909. This action is for the part of the county commissioners should be appreciated by those who have not paid their taxes. This however, will be the last extension made by the commissioners.

DIED.

Mrs. Jas. Partrish, of Deep River, died at her home at 11 o'clock at 11 o'clock. She leaves a husband and four children. Her decease was well known in High Point and her death will be regretted by her many friends. Her funeral will take place tomorrow at Deep River church at 11 o'clock.

REV. WEST'S FAREWELL SERMON.

Rev. J. H. West, of Wadesboro, will preach his last sermon tonight in the South Main Street Methodist church in the revival there. His sermons have been strong, clear and convincing, and his services in the revival have resulted in great good. We hope a great influence may be heard tonight in his final sermon. The meeting may not close, but continue through this week.

SPRING MILLINERY OPENING

We give the ladies of High Point and surrounding community a most hearty invitation to attend our spring Millinery Opening. Miss Hutchison, of Baltimore has charge of the trimmings.

Mrs. D. T. Andrews

Services tonight at 7.45 o'clock. O. P. Ader, Pastor.

MONEY PUT TO GOOD USE

At a meeting of the county commissioners yesterday it was practically decided to take the $2000 prize money given by the Atlantic Journal a few months ago and build a substantial bridge over Deep River at James town. We understand that the bridge will be the best in the county and it will be wide enough to pass two vehicles to pass on the bridge. We do not think that this money will be put to a better use than a bridge will be a most important road to the men who build the road. We understand that the work on the James town bridge will be done this summer.

Precision!

A word explains it—precision—so perfective, so systematized that no single detail of the manufacture is left to chance.

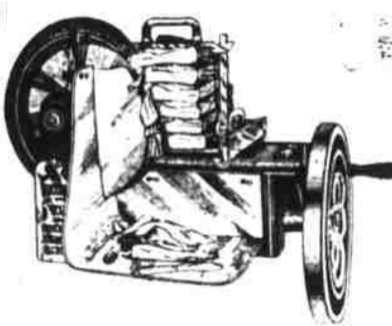

Accuracy—so positive that each bit of boning must take its place within a hairbreadth's deviation in one model or a million.

THE Gossard CORSETS "They Love to Prone"

They face in front. Think what that means—the class back—correct pose—beautiful lines—ease of adjustment with absolute comfort. The proof is in the fitting.
