Votes Are Coming in Thick and Fast

Avalanche of Votes Cast in the Grand $500.00 Contest

Have You Named a Babe?

Nominations have been coming in by the score and it is a great pleasure to us to know that there are so many fine babies in High Point and vicinity. No chance for Roosevelt to register a complaint on this city, and we are willing to make the statement, that there is not a city of its size in the state, or in the whole United States for that matter, where there are so many nice babies.

Honey Boys and Mary Janes, Bill Taits and Buster Browns, Lila and Lasses, of eyes of blue and cheeks of tan, or ruby lips and rose-bud dimples. They are the greatest gift of God and cause the greatest sentiment in human nature to assert itself—the love of and pride in a baby.

If you are going to nominate a little friend, do so at once, while the great offer of one thousand free votes is open. Of course every mother thinks her baby is the most popular, and all her friends, who have no babies of their own, think the same thing. But which baby does the populace think is the most popular. That's the great question to be solved by the Enterprise.

Call on your friends and you will soon learn how easy it is to get votes for your baby. Get one or two or even a half a dozen to help you, they will gladly do it and you will be surprised how rapidly the votes will come pouring in, and the parents and friends of the baby who work the hardest are bound to win in this contest.

The prizes cannot be bought. The Enterprise has planned to avoid this. The time is not too late to start. There is absolutely no charge for entering the contest. Call at Room 402 in the N. C. Savings Bank Building and talk it over with the Contest Manager. Many a race has been lost because one did not get a good start. Do not let this be true in your case.

The first announcement of the nominations which have been made to date in the grand baby contest inaugurated by The Daily Enterprise will appear in these columns Saturday. Be sure of a copy of the Enterprise, carefully scan the long list of babies already named in this great race for fame and fortune, and if the name of your dear little dimpled darling does not appear therein, send it to the contest manager without an instant's delay.

It must not be understood that because the list is going to be published Saturday that the nominations will then be closed. Far be it from so. It will always be possible to nominate a baby but it is a very distinct advantage to a baby to have its name appear at the very outset and besides that there is that bonus of 1,000 votes which is to be given to each baby nominated now. Don't delay in this matter, send in your favorite's name now and then get out among your friends, relatives, neighbors and acquaint-

BARGAINS!

The ladies of the Civic Department of the Woman's Club will conduct an exchange sale in the vacant store next to the post office, for the purpose of raising funds for the Spring Cleaning Day. This sale will take place on Friday.

Bargain hunters this is your time. Perhaps it is an odd piece of china you want; or an odd piece of furniture you have been looking for. Just the thing you want and could never find it. Then there will be pictures and decorative articles you may want. Those who are looking for slightly used clothing will find them in good condition.

It will be impossible to resist the confections. All home made! Candies, cakes and sweets of all kind, all made by the ladies. Every one who can and will donate any of the above articles mentioned for the sale, please send to the store on Thursday.

Don't forget the time—Friday.

CITY BEAUTIFUL

To All Citizens of High Point:
I beg permission to lay before you my views and my desires with reference to improved sanitation for our city, and which if carried out, may assist in ultimately making High Point the cleanest, healthiest and consequently the most beautiful city in North Carolina.

I have recently been making quite a study of municipal sanitation and have come into possession of valuable information relating thereto and must confess that I did not realize how very simple and inexpensive the whole proposition actually is until I had made this investigation.

This is a matter in which the city as a corporation and each individual member of the same, or in other words, each and every property owner or tenant, are equally interested. The city government has a duty to perform in safeguarding the health of its citizens and each of these citizens has an equal obligation in the premises in doing everything possible to prevent disease and to preserve the healthfulness and consequently, the prosperity of the community.

It is the duty of the city to keep all of its streets and drains clean and free from every obstruction which might cause the collection of rubbish, filth or stagnant water. It is also its duty to see to it that no private property is allowed to remain in an unclean or unsanitary condition. All meadows or other low places should be well drained and free from course given to all surface water. Back yards and stable lots should be kept clean and tidy and no breeding places for flies or mosquitoes permitted. More flies and mosquitoes can be bred in one week around one back lot where stable manure and stagnant water are allowed to remain, and hereby put into active operation in their death dealing mission of spreading disease, than the whole neighborhood can exterminate all summer.

Typhoid and malaria travel in the wake of every common house fly and mosquito and we people who have spent our lives struggling for a livelihood, have only recently learned this startling fact. It is a fact nevertheless and the public generally is rapidly realizing the great importance of strict sanitation in this respect. All of us have confidence in our family physicians (at least we should have). Ask their opinion as to the correctness of my remarks regarding the deadly work of these filthy insects and be governed by their advice in making your homes and premises disease proof in so far as these agencies are concerned.

If every family in High Point drank our pure city water only, and kept their premises in a strictly fly proof, mosquito proof and similar germ proof condition which can be so easily and inexpensively done, there would probably not be a case of typhoid fever, malarial fever, hook worm or like preventable diseases, the entire year. This would be about the most profitable investment any of us could make, notwithstanding the fact it would enable our physicians to enjoy a vacation.

With High Point's natural drainage, its splendid progressive and right-thinking citizenship, why should we not co-operate most heartily in bringing to pass these profitable and delightful conditions.

It is my purpose to begin a

NOW PAST HISTORY

Raleigh, March 9.—The final session of the 1911 legislature ended yesterday afternoon at 2.30 after a sixty-four days session, exceeding the number of days by four, which is provided for in the state constitution. This adjournment followed the ratification of all acts and resolutions passed by the Assembly, there having been passed and duly ratified during the session 1,700 acts and 53 resolutions. Compared with this work for the session just adjourned, it is interesting to note that the 1909 session passed and ratified 1,309 bills and 50 resolutions.

A TREAT FOR CHILDREN

The Musical Georgettes, who have an engagement at the school auditorium for tomorrow, offer an unusual treat for the children. That is an opportunity to hear their performance at a matinee at 4.15 o'clock. The price for a child's admission will be only 10 cents, and for that small sum the child may have an hour and a half of genuine entertainment. The children will be particularly interested in little Josephine Georgette, the skillful child performer and soloist on several instruments. They will be pleased with Swiss hand bells, the organ chimes, the marimphone, the secarina and other unusual instruments, as well as by the performances on the harp, Italian lute, saxophone, cello, violin, xylophone, mandolin, etc. An acquaintance with these various strange instruments and the music they make will be more than worth the time and money. So let the children hear the Musical Georgettes tomorrow afternoon at 4.15.

The regular performance will take place at 8.15 p. m. Adult prices 25 and 35 cents.

DEATH OF MRS. M. L. MOORE.

Mrs. M. L. Moore died at her home three miles north of High Point Saturday evening at four o'clock with tuberculosis. The deceased is survived by her husband and seven children. She was 53 years of age, and had been a consecrated Primitive Baptist for 25 years. The funeral took place at Spring Hill church, conducted by Rev. C. A. Davis, and the interment at Spring Hill cemetery. She was a sister to Mr. T. W. Albertson.

NOTICE.

The Over the Tea Cups will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Otis Mendenhall.

FOR EASTER SUNDAY

If you want the best clothes for Easter that you could wish to wear at a price that you'll be pleased to pay let us have them made expressly for you by Ed. V. Price & Co.

Every coat front guaranteed not to break or rool within one year from date of purchase.—Blair-Hoskins Co.

NATL. GUARD INVITED

Washington, D. C., March 8.—The militia officers of all the States of the Union are invited to participate in the operations of the army at San Antonio, Texas. There are about 8,000 of these officers. As it is purely an invitation, and its acceptance is optional with the men, it cannot be foretold how many will avail themselves of the opportunity to take part in the present military activity.

Three aeroplanes of standard types it was made known tonight will be purchased by the War Department and pushed to the front of service with the troops. These machines will be equipped with wireless telegraph instruments which will operate with the cavalry in reconnaissance. It is declared at the War Department that the present situation will present a splendid opportunity for a fair trial of the flying machine for purposes of war.

In view of this invitation some of the officers of High Point's Rifle Company No. 1 have wired Adjutant General Lienster at Raleigh, commander of the National Guard in this state, their desire to go. Better go slow boys, the Mexican is an easy man in deciding to go to war. In fact the war instinct is inherent in the Mexican.

ATLANTA'S GREAT GATHERING.

Atlanta, March 9, 1911.—Today's session was devoted to speech-making by well known men of the country and individual delegates from the various states. Each pointed to the increased prosperity in store and the multitude of natural advantages are hardly begun to be utilized.

General Carr, of North Carolina and other men of national importance made notable addresses on the South.

The night session was given over to a "Symposium of the South," a delegate from each state represented making a short talk on the opportunities in his particular section and what has been done toward a business awakening. Among those making addresses was Hon. J. Elwood Cox, of High Point, N. C.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt is expected to arrive tomorrow morning and will deliver the principal address at the night session tomorrow on the subject, "The South's Obligation is Statesmanship and Business Endeavor."

The meeting as expected has exceeded in interest all previous meetings. The organization formed a little more than three years ago, stands sponsor for that expected tide of immigration by advertising the advantages of the country south of the Mason and Dixon line, and correcting false impressions prospective investors may have formed.

Hopkins make suits from $13.50 up and they are right.
