NO ROOM FOR EXCUSES IN THIS EXCITING RACE

If You do Not Win You Will Have no One to Blame But Yourself, for the Contest Manager Has Made the Way Easy and Plain—Every One Has an Equal Chance and Every One is Supposed to Have Friends Who Will Aid in the Work, Especially as it Costs Them Nothing—Take Your Subscription Out With You Tonight or as Soon as You Can and Get What You Can, Which Will Aid You if You Go About it the Right Way.

The last day of double votes has arrived, and you must get in every vote that you possibly can. Some of the babies are going to have wonders worked in their behalf as a result of this double vote offer. These are the babies who have ambitious and energetic parents and friends, the parents and friends who understand and appreciate the full meaning of the title "the most popular baby in High Point and surrounding country," and believe it to be worth striving for, to say nothing of the gold that will be theirs if successful. The stay-at-homes, the lazyites, the laggards and the quitters are not going to realize anything from this wonderful offer, except that they will be crowded further into the background, their babies will go further towards the bottom of the list and their chances of winning this great race will be further diminished.

And just a word in passing to these people who do not care if they win or not. The contest manager is going to take the most charitable view possible and will concede that you probably love your baby with the same wealth and warmth of affection that anyone else loves their children. Then why don't you get busy, why don't you pitch in and give substantial evidence of your love for your little darling, why will you sit back comfortably in your easy chair at home and see that coveted gold and glory go to the babe of your next door neighbor, perhaps? Why don't you see to it that your own little darling is crowned king or queen of High Point and surrounding country April 15.

You can do it if you would only get down to work, for you have as many friends as that neighbor of yours surely, friends who would do just as much for you and who are just as ardent admirers of your little cherubs.

No excuses are going to do in this keenly exciting race for fame and fortune. If you do not win it's going to be nobody's fault but your own. The contest manager has tried to awaken you to a full sense of your duty to your dear little one, to arouse you out of your lethargy, to arouse your ambition. He has gone further and has offered you every possible assistance consistent with his duty to the others interested in this race. You have had equal chances with the others, you have no fewer friends, you could count on the just as prompt and substantial support. When this race is over and the awards made, if you are not among the winners your friends will turn a deaf ear to any apologies you may try to make. In this day and age of hustle, bustle, enterprise and progressiveness, all the world loves a winner and has but little use and no sympathy with a loser. Don't be a loser. Take that subscription book out among your friends tonight and do what you can in the few remaining hours left to you. You may meet with such gratifying success that you will be encouraged to begin the new weeks, the last half of this race with so much energy, so much eagerness, so much determination that you will go through with flying colors and emerge victorious from the office of the contest manager tonight and get these double votes. That's the way to win, and that's exactly what you should do and could do if you but will.

INVITATION EXTENDED

J. J. Farris, president Manufacturers Club wired the Board of Trade of Charleston today extending an invitation to the members of the special party from South Carolina, who are to visit the Piedmont Section soon, to spend a day in High Point. A few days ago it was announced that a large number of business men from Charleston and other South Carolina cities would come on a special train to Piedmont North Carolina on a "business visit." We would be pleased to have the party stop at High Point. They go to Winston, we understand over the new South-bound railroad.

AS YOU LIKE IT CLUB.

Mrs. Clifton Ring entertained the "As You Like It Club" Wednesday afternoon at her attractive bungalow in Quaker Woods. There were four tables of 40m. Mrs. Cy Wheeler made the highest score and was awarded the first prize, a lovely jacket. Mrs. Griffin, of Raleigh, won the visitor's prize—a beautiful leather belt. After six games were played the guests were given paper and pencils and told to try their skill at answering a guessing "Cat Contest." Mrs. A. E. Frazier was awarded the club prize and Mrs. Otis Mendenhall the visitor's prize, a beautiful diamond.

Mrs. Ring served a refreshing collation of chicken salad, lettuce, tomato jelly, cheese straws, beaten biscuits, olives and coffee.

The guests present were Messrs. James C. Long, Cyrus Wheeler, Otis Mendenhall, Edw. Freeze, Ben Best, Cyrus Comstock, Chas. Bauer, Shiptan Griffin of Raleigh, Harvey Davis, D. C. Leonard, Grayson, A. E. Frazier and W. A. Ring.

A New Railroad

Winston Joins Hands With High Point In Building The Road.

WINSTON ENTHUSIASTIC Over Proposed Extension of Randolph & Cumberland Railroad Into Their City.

Mr. A. E. Tate, who has for the last four years worked so incessantly, both in season and out of season, to give High Point a Seaboard connection, visited Winston-Salem on Thursday of this week by special invitation from prominent citizens of that bustling city to discuss the feasibility of extending the Randolph & Cumberland Railroad to that place and thus give us a Norfolk & Western and a South-bound connection, also.

That Mr. Tate's proposition was enthusiastically received is shown by the following clipping taken from the Twin City Daily of that date:

"About twenty-five prominent business men of Winston-Salem met in the Board of Trade rooms his afternoon, together with Mr. A. E. Tate, of High Point, for the purpose of discussing the proposed extension of the Randolph & Cumberland Railroad from Cameron, N. C. via High Point to Winston-Salem, making a number of splendid connections in this city and connecting at Cameron with the main line of the Seaboard Air Line.

Mr. Tate desired to get opinions of prominent business men here as to whether or not this community will vote $100,000 to aid in financing the road and all present expressed the opinion that this can be done. The ultimate terminus of the road will be Southport, which is destined to become a great seaport town. Quite a number of the gentlemen present spoke, favoring the proposed road."

In our opinion there has never been a railroad proposition presented to the people of High Point with so much genuine merit as this one has on account of the far-reaching effect that the building of the road would have on the industrial life of our city. We think it is generally admitted that until we have more and better railroad facilities for the prompt and satisfactory handling of our products, that our manufacturing and mercantile interests can never reach that degree of development which could be attained with competitive railroad facilities.

In the meeting at Winston Hon. Cy Watson, who took a prominent part, said: "It has been the dream of my life to see this connection and we should build it."

IT WILL GO TO ONE MILLION DOLLARS

The Town Breaking all Records in Its Progress

High Point is making the greatest improvement in its history. Besides the numerous new manufacturing plants which have been mentioned in the Enterprise from time to time for the past two months, the addition to plants already established have been numerous, increasing largely the capacity of the factories.

This bears out the claims the Enterprise has been making for the town—if we do nothing but increase the present plants here as needed, our population must go beyond 15,000 in four years, and we will have at least 25,000 by the next census. Our average rate of increase for the past 30 years will give us this, but we will do more.

The following manufacturing plants are increasing their capacity and adding to the plants:

Continental Fur, are recently completed large addition to finishing department and erected an assembly room for employees.

Piedmont Mills, brick factory, three stories, 60x130, and recently a brick boiler room 30x40 feet—one of the best plants of the kind in the state.

Myrtle Desk Co. now erecting an addition 40x80, four stories, which will greatly increase the output of this already large plant.

Hill Veneer Co., now adding two additions to the plant one 60x70, and the other 12x60, which will double the capacity.

Southern Chair Co. an addition to the finishing department 50x70 three stories, which will be completed in three weeks, increasing the capacity largely, already one of the best in the south.

Kearns Furniture Co. has built an addition to the finishing department 24x100, increasing the facilities of this large plant very materially.

Tomlinson Chair Company now erecting another large brick building 5 stories, 60x200, a modern fireproof structure with every convenience and facility. This will double the capacity of this enormous plant.

The Silk Mill is about ready for weaving, having just completed a large addition to their mill. These improvements will lead eventually to doubling the capacity of the plant as well as inaugurating the work of weaving.

These are among the improvements made this year and are now under way. There are others, the particulars of which will be given next week.

We have already given a detail the building of the High Point Casket plant. The Sam Coffin plant, the High Point Safe and Table plant, the Government building, the Pickett Cotton Mill, the Elks building, the Randolph and Cumberland railroad, the contemplated extension of the water and sewerage system and the building of more good streets. Without trying to emphasize any boom, it is quite evident that the town is on a move, making the greatest strides in its history, carrying with it at least one million dollars in improvements.

(Tuesday we will be able to tell of another $100,000 plant.)

SUCCESSFUL OPENING.
Moffitt Furnishing Co. has a very successful opening of millinery this week. The hats were stylish and met the demands of a large number of the ladies who visited the opening during the two days. The special price feature was very satisfactory both to the firm and their patrons.
