Burglary and Attempted Murder

HAMILTON STREET THE SCENE OF THE CRIME

Last Saturday night Mrs. Wilkerson, who resides at 400 Hamilton street, went out on her back porch about 11 o'clock to look after some chickens in the yard. When she opened the door she found a negro man on the porch who demanded her money. Mrs. Wilkerson told him she had no money and ordered him away. The negro then drew a knife and struck at Mrs. Wilkerson. The blade of the knife struck a pocket book in which there was some coin, checking the force of the thrust. If it had not been for this no doubt the wound would have proven fatal. As soon as Mrs. Wilkerson made an outcry the negro ran away. He was a small negro and wore a cap, is the only identity obtainable.

Mrs. Wilkerson is suffering today from the effects of the concussion and the bruises inflicted by the force of the blow.

This was a dastardly deed and the officers will do all in their power to apprehend the would-be murderer.

Man Found Dead on R. R. Tracks

NEAR JAMESTOWN

An unknown man was found dead one mile east of Jamestown Sunday night, being killed it was thought by the train. The man was first discovered by the colored track walker. It is thought that he fell off one of the trains, as his injuries would indicate. He is a foreigner, presumably an Italian.

A long distance phone message from Corner Woods says, that in the absence of any witness to make affidavit as to foul play, he was not called into the case. There was absolutely nothing on the person of the man that would lead to his identity. The body was buried in the right of way of the Southern Railway

APPRECIATED

The editor of the Enterprise appreciates fully the honor bestowed upon him by electing him President of the N. C. Press Association at Lenoir. It is truly an honor as well as a pleasure to serve such a distinguished body. We are also under obligations for the many kind words by the brethren, none of which came so close to our heart as the following from Mr. Josephus Daniels: (Raleigh News and Observer.)

The convention honored itself in electing Mr. J. J. Farriss as president for the coming year. This was gratifying, not only to his brethren of the press, but particularly to the people of High Point and Raleigh. Mr. Farriss is a native of Raleigh and is a brother of D. C. S. Farriss, president of the Baptist University of Florida. They were both bright boys, and were educated at Wake Forest College. The new president of the Press Association is the younger brother, and has won as high a place in journalism as his brother has in the church. Mr. Farriss is known generally to the public of North Carolina as editor of the High Point Enterprise and as a practical business man, but it is not generally known that he is one of the editors and owners of the Southern Furniture Journal at High Point, one of the handsomest and most profitable trade journals in the whole South. His old Raleigh friends have watched his promotion and success with great interest, and High Point has every reason to feel proud of him. Mr. Farriss has grown up with the place, and, going there as a young man, he has contributed a large part in giving publicity to High Point which has made it more widely known than any other furniture town in the United States, except Grand Rapids, Mich.

AT BOONE

There was a very unique meeting at Boone on Thursday, one of the best after meetings we ever attended. It had been advertised for two weeks that the editors were coming and there were 1000 people present. The handsome buildings of the Appalachian Training School were thrown open and at 11 o'clock the crowd gathered there for special exercises. The meeting was called to order by Capt. Lovell, the father of the mountains. Speeches of welcome were made by Editor of Rivers and Solicitor Lundy. After this Capt. Lovell gave the meeting over to the Press Association. J. J. Farriss, on taking the chair, thanked the good people of Boone for such a cordial reception and called on Hon. W. C. Dowd in response to the address of welcome by Dr. Few, Dr. Poteat, M. L. Shipman and Dr. Priest. At noon there was an old-fashioned country picnic and barbecue on the campus of which over 1000 people partook. It was the most tempting spread we ever saw, a credit to the good ladies of that community.

Important Matter Regarding Taxes

NOTICE TO ALL CITIZENS INTERESTED

The limit of time for listing city taxes, real estate, personal property and poll, has expired and this is to give fair warning to all persons who have failed to report at all, as well as those who have neglected to report ALL of their taxable property, that they will be given this week only to go before Clerk A. A. Holton and make proper returns covering everything taxable.

In each and every case where this is not done before July 10th, the city will assess at double value as a penalty according to the law governing.

-Fred N. Tate, Mayor.

Cleveland Druggist Holds up Trust

ASKS DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE TO SUSTAIN IT WHICH IT PROMPTLY DID

Cleveland, O., July 2.—By appealing to the Department of Justice, Clifton M. Rawlins, druggist, has succeeded in having the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in the tobacco case brought to bear on the United Cigar Stores Company, and the opening of two new stores by that concern here has been abandoned. This is said to be the first time the decision has been put into effect. The United Company was fitting up a store near Mr. Rawlins' drug store. He pointed out to Attorney General Wickersham that the decision stated that the American Tobacco Company or its subsidiaries were not to enlarge their business. Mr. Wickersham notified the United Company that the decision would be violated in the event the store was opened and its counsel replied that it would abide by the decision and not open new stores. Mr. Wickersham communicated this information to United States Attorney Denman here about the same time activities in the new United store and another which was being fitted up ceased.

TO PUT TAFT IN HOLE

Washington, July 3.—With a victory for reciprocity assured within the near future the only hitch in adjournment plans will come over the question of general tariff revision. The Democrats assert they have no desire to debate the wool schedule and the free list bill, and will be satisfied merely to have a vote taken on each. There is a disposition among the Republican Insurgents, however, to debate these bills and specifically to seek a compromise with the Democrats on slightly increased rates on raw wool and slightly decreased duties on manufactured products.

The thing aimed at is to put President Taft in a hole. If the Senate Democrats consent today with the Insurgents and the House wool schedule is amended and passed and sent to conference, no one can then tell to what extreme length the session will be drawn out.
