STORIES OF SUCCESS

George W. Childs

Not doing merely the work he was required to do but doing all he could and putting his whole heart into it were the traits of character that early ruled the life and endeavor of the great Philadelphia publisher, philanthropist, and millionaire, George W. Childs.

His first employment was in a book store, his income being only 50 cents a week more than his bare living.

He read good books, attended book sales at night to learn their market values, fixed his ambitions high so that he might always be tending upward, and at the end of four years had saved enough to start a book store of his own.

Saving is a good habit. It is a habit that will grow upon you and your happiness and peace of mind will grow with it.

A savings account in this bank not only will give you influence and prestige, but it may give you the decisive lift at the decisive time.

THE BIG WINSTON RALLY IN INTEREST OF ROAD MATTERS

Great interest is being shown in the joint mass meeting of the leading organizations of the city next Tuesday night to formulate plans for raising Winston-Salem's part toward the construction of the new highway through Davidson county on the High Point road. The meeting will be held in the assembly hall of the Board of Trade at 8 o'clock and from all that can be learned there has not been a larger assembly of the citizens of the city together in a long while than will be there on this occasion.

The members of the Board of Trade, the members of the Young Men's Business Association, those of the Retail Merchants' Association and the members of the Twin-City Automobile Club are expected to be present in full force.

Besides the members of these organizations, there are expected to be present several visitors from High Point, and all others who are interested in seeing the two liveliest cities in North Carolina lined together by one of the best highways in the state.

THE ROAD FUND.

Those who will contribute to the road fund are requested to send in their names to the committee or phone to the Enterprise office by Tuesday noon, as we will make report Tuesday night at the Winston meeting.

ADDITIONAL ROAD FUND.

The following is an additional list of contributors to the High Point-Winston road, mostly from the merchants. We trust that the full amount will be raised by Monday night. We lack about $250:

Corporation Excess

The Enterprise is under obligations to city Clerk A. A. Holton, for facts and figures from time to time on city matters. We learned today that the corporation excess within the city limits which includes railroads, telegraph, telephones, etc., for 1911 taxes is $225,000.

THE OTHER ROUTE

Greensboro, Sept. 22—Mr. A. L. Westgard, the pathfinder of the Glidden tour, arrived from Jacksonville, Fla., this morning at 1 o'clock and today was carried over the stretch of road running from Greensboro via Reidsville to Stoneville, where it touches the national highway. Mr. Westgard stopped off here on his return tour for the express purpose of looking over his route. This morning he and several Greensboro people went in automobiles over the route and returned. Mr. Westgard expressed himself as pleased with the road but could not say what would be done by the tourists. At 12 o'clock today an informal reception was held in the rooms of the merchants and manufacturers' club for Mr. Westgard and a number of the members had the privilege of meeting him. This afternoon he resumed his journey to New York.

SCHOOL MEDALS

Mr. H. A. Moffitt, one of our most reliable merchants, has offered a medal to that girl of the cooking classes of the Domestic Science department of our city schools who shows the most advancement during the year in learning the science and practicing the art of cooking. To the good judgment of Miss McKeen, the Domestic Science teacher, is left the decision at the end of the school year. The medal will be presented at commencement.

Dr. J. W. McAnally also offers a medal under the same conditions to the Sewing Department. Just here we would like to call attention to the Cox medal offered annually by Mr. J. P. Wood, Chairman of the Board of Trustees to the best orator among the boys, and also to the Wrenn medal offered by Mr. M. J. Wrenn to that girl who writes the best essay.

RALLY DAY

Don't stay away from Enlistment Day tomorrow morning at the First Baptist Sunday school. If you never attended Sunday school before in your life, or if you never do again, do not fail to be there tomorrow. Your presence will do others good and you will derive much happiness yourself by having attended. You will also be surprised to see how many other people will be there engaged in a work which is of such vast importance to every community.

SALE OF FINE PAINTINGS

Prof. Miller, of Asheville, is here with forty of his finest oil paintings and has them on sale with the People's House Furnishing Co.

They are mostly landscapes, painted from nature and are all high grade. You are invited to come and see them whether you buy or not.

TO IMPROVE PROPERTY

Jackson & Montgomery have been awarded the contract to make improvements on the Hunter house on English street. This house is owned by Mr. Cary J. Hunter, of Raleigh, and after the improvements he will lease it.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Marriage of Daughter of Editor Sherrill

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Sherrill invite you to be present at the marriage of their daughter, Anna Douglass, to Mr. Nevin Augustus Archibald, on the evening of Thursday, the fifth of October, nineteen hundred and eleven at seven o'clock, Marsh and Spring streets, Concord, North Carolina.

CRIMINAL COURT

Sol Pritchett, the negro who in August shot and killed Minnie Mimes, a negro, was tried in Superior court yesterday morning on the charge of murder, and after the counsel for the state and the defendant had discussed the case, a consent judgment was passed, the negro being sentenced to the state penitentiary for a term of seven years.

The Mimes woman, it will be remembered, was shot because she refused to obey some command the negro man charged, and the report was current at the time that Pritchett was drunk. The shooting occurred at a house of alleged ill repute.

Will Maynard, a negro, was found guilty of forcible trespass and sentenced to three months in jail with the privilege of being hired out. He was hired to Peter D. Hardin.

W. Smitherman, a negro, and A. J. Thomas, a white man, were found guilty of an affray. Smitherman was fined $5 and one-half of the costs. Thomas was taxed with one-half of the costs.

Dan Furrage, for stealing shoes, was sentenced to four months on the roads.

BRIEF REVIEW OF SOME PUBLIC ACTS OF LAST ASSEMBLY.

(By T. J. Gold.)

To the Editor:
It occurred to me that it might be interesting to your many readers in High Point and vicinity to read a review of some of the public laws passed by the last session of the Legislature. In this article it is my purpose to refer to only a few acts which may be of special interest. At another time, with your permission, I shall undertake to give a brief resume of other public laws and also certain private laws and public local laws which appertain to Guilford county and its towns and townships.

The Acts of the General Assembly of 1911 are published in three volumes, one containing the private laws, another the public laws and another what are termed the number of private acts and public local laws each far exceed the number of public laws. The private laws consist of 1418 pages, the public local, 1324 pages, and the public only 494 pages. Thus it is seen that the North Carolina Legislature is engaged chiefly in passing laws for localities in which the state at large has no direct interest whatever.

Concerning Factories.

Of peculiar interest to High Point people, on account of our large number of factories, is Chapter 57 entitled "An Act Providing Medicine and Surgical Appliances in Factories," providing that every person or corporation operating a factory or shop employing more than twenty-five laborers, in which machinery is used for manufacturing purposes, shall at all times keep and maintain free of expense to the employees a surgical chest which shall contain two porcelain pans, two tourniquets, gauze, absorbent cotton, adhesive plasters, bandages, antiseptic soap, one bottle of carbolic acid with directions on bottle, one bottle antiseptic tablets, one pair of scissors and one folding stretcher, for the treatment of persons injured or taken ill on the premises. The maximum punishment for a violation of this law is twenty-five dollars fine for each week it continues.

Protection to Merchants.

Our merchants should look at Chapter 185 entitled, "An Act to Prevent Frauds on Merchants." Under the terms of this law if a person, with intent to cheat and defraud, solicits and obtains from a merchant any article of wearing apparel on approval and shall

Social Realm

(By L. I. P.)

NOTICE—The Social editor of The Enterprise is always very grateful for items of interest submitted for publication in this column, but under no circumstances can items be used in Saturday paper if received later than the previous Friday night.

Club women who during the summer months have been doing some of the heaviest work of the year in planning the winter work, and getting program ready and now have the year book ready for press, notice that the opening of the third year in the existence of the Woman's Club shows many tendencies in the general trend of the club policy and work that are very gratifying and an interested observer. Many of these little changes will be noticed in the year book. The membership has been increased about a third. The programs of the departments show that subjects and matters under discussion are more concise and are capable of being profitably studied, and discussed. Tangible needs of the immediate surrounding of the members are the goals of activity rather than the solution of theoretic problems and generalities or rather there is every evidence that the energies and capabilities of the club will be concentrated into a dynamic force for good in the city rather than it should be a loosely organized body for social pastime.

There exists, of course, the social side which is very delightful, but the more serious activities are none the less evident. Each department will entertain the entire club once during the year, and each department will during the year use some means to fill its treasury for its work. The first department meeting of the winter season will be the Parliamentary Usage Tuesday, September 26 at the directors rooms of the Commercial Bank, with Mrs. James H. Petty, the department's chairman, as leader. The motives for the afternoon's study will be:

—And I beseech you, wrest once the law to your authority. We do a great right, do a little wrong.

It must not be recorded for a precedent, and many an error by the same example.

Will rush into the State Merchants of Venice.

Miss Ingram Kitchen Shower

The above card was a bidding to one of the season's prettiest parties, and was the third shower given Miss Kathryn W. Ingram, who is to be an October bride.

The attractive new home was elaborately decorated in yellow and green. Feathered golden rods—the flower to be used at the wedding—and ferns being employed in the design followed yellow candles and shaded lights added charm in reception hall and parlor and in the dining room fragrant with pink roses, white candles were used. Miss Connie Charles received at the door. Mrs. Tom Gold directed the way to the alcove in the hall where Mrs. Bayard Cummings served iced grape juice. The hostess and honoree received in the parlor and were assisted by Mrs. L. J. Ingram, Mrs. J. Albert Hart, and Miss Helen Brockett. After the reception a modiste contest was enjoyed. Each guest was given a doll, tissue paper, scissors, ribbon, two pins and an allotted time in which to fashion a dress. The newly attired dolls were the subjects to be judged for the awarding of the prize which fell to Mrs.
