STORIES OF SUCCESS

John Wanamaker

No career in this country offers more encouragement to the young business man than that of John Wanamaker, the merchant of the Golden Rule. No man ever made a more secure pedestal of the world and its goods, and no one has ever gained a higher record for honesty and fairness in his business deals.

His whole life, from the time he walked four miles each morning to work in a book store at $1.25 a week until the age of twenty-four, when his savings enabled him to open the Oak Hall clothing store, is a story of earnest, hard work and rigid economy.

It is a story that points a moral. It is applicable to every young man who wants to rise and be successful.

The practice of saving is indicative of thrift, intelligence and stability. The man who saves his money is a credit to the community, himself, and his family.

It is not what you earn but what you save that counts. If you have but a single dollar ahead, bring it here, we will open a savings account for you, and you will receive every courtesy and consideration.

MR. NEWLAND WILL BE IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

LOCKE CRAIG MAKES HIS ANNOUNCEMENT

Lieut-Governor W. C. Newland, of Lenoir, is spending the day in the city interviewing friends regarding his candidacy for governor. When seen by a Sentinel representative this morning Mr. Newland admitted that he expected to be in the race for the highest office in the gift of the people of North Carolina and that in due time he would make his formal announcement.

Mr. Newland was an enthusiastic advocate of Mr. Locke Craig's nomination for chief executive three years ago in Charlotte, during the long and warmly contested fight when Mr. W. W. Kitchin finally won out. It was said that after the convention Mr. Craig told some of his friends that he would never be before the people of North Carolina for another office, but it has developed that some of those who fought valiantly for his nomination, three years ago, have insisted that he make the race again and on Saturday the Buncombe county man authorized the announcement that he had decided to enter the race next year for the Democratic nomination.

Messrs. Newland and Craig are popular, especially throughout the western part of the state, and their friends will make the contest a pretty warm one—at least that is the prediction that is being made by the politicians.

The Sentinel hears a rumor that the friends of ex-Lieut. Gov. R. A. Doughton are urging him to stand for the Democratic nomination for governor.

"Mr. Doughton has a host of friends throughout the state and if he should decide to make the race somebody would have to hustle to beat him." This is the way one of his friends expressed it today.

ANNOUNCEMENT— Mr. Craig

Raleigh, Oct. 9.—While there has been a general understanding all along that Hon. Locke Craig, of Asheville, would be in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1912 there was special interest here in his formal announcement made Saturday night in Asheville that he would seek the nomination.

The triangular contest at Charlotte in 1908 between Mr. Craig, W. W. Kitchin and Ashley Horne, which continued for a solid week and developed the most tense conditions ever known in a North Carolina nominating convention resulted in the nomination of Mr. Kitchin and a tacit understanding among many Democrats that the 1912 nomination should go to Mr. Craig according to many friends of Mr. Craig. However there is another and very active formidable candidate in the field in the person of W. C. Newland, present lieutenant governor and president of the state senate. Mr. Newland has been an avowed candidate for some time past, and it is believed these two westerners unless there are complications as to the relations of either of them to the pending contest for the United States senatorship in which Senator Simmons, Governor Kitchin, ex-Governor Aycock and Chief Justice Walter Clark are the contestants.

It has been threatened that if, for instance, Mr. Craig should become an avowed partisan for Senator Simmons as against Governor Kitchin, there might be likely to develop a movement for the supporters of Mr. Kitchin to bring out a special Kitchin candidate for governor. However, Governor Kitchin insists that the possibility for this is very remote. It really looks like there will be only the two candidates for governor this time—Mr. Craig and Mr. Newland.

Asheville, Oct. 9.—Mr. Locke Craig, Democratic candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in 1908, Saturday night announced his candidacy for the same race next year. Mr. Craig opposed the present governor, W. W. Kitchin, in the Democratic state convention over three years ago when Governor Kitchin won the nomination after the convention had been dead-locked for four days.

DEATH OF MRS. CARSON BLAIR.

Mrs. Carson Blair died at her home on English street yesterday after a lingering illness of consumption. Deceased was only 21 years of age at her death.

The funeral services were conducted today at the house by Rev. D. E. Bowers.

Case in Ejectment

AN INTERESTING CASE.

An action is being tried this afternoon before Justice J. Matt Sechrest in the nature of an ejectment proceeding in which J. A. Johnson is seeking to dispossess Andrew Proctor and wife Laura Proctor of a piece of property near the hospital. The relatives of Mrs. Proctor are very much agitated over the matter, since they contend that she is not in her right mind and the property, which was recently conveyed to Johnson by her, was left to her by her father as a home on account of mental incapacity. She has been in the asylum at one time, so it is claimed, and has been mentally incapacitated for ten years or more. Many witnesses have been subpoenaed, and the attorneys for the defense, Messrs. Gold and Zollicoffer, are raising the point that the title to real estate is in controversy and the magistrate does not have jurisdiction. For the plaintiff Ragan and Galloway are contending that the woman is sound mentally.

STEWARDS MEETING.

An important meeting of the stewards of Washington Street church will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Every member of the board is requested to be present.

NEW SETTLERS

BOSTONIANS COMING SOUTH.

The Enterprise learns that a party of Bostonians have bought a large tract of land between Aberdeen and Eagle Springs and will begin at once to erect cement farm houses. They will prepare to farm on a large scale and have no doubt struck a garden spot. Nowhere in the South has the value of land increased so much as in that section. A few years ago you could buy it for a song and now it is difficult to get at any price. A soft, loamy soil, it will produce anything and it is easy to cultivate. Then there is the fine winter climate. Only 60 miles from High Point and the people in that section have not seen any snow or ice in 20 years or more and then it was visible only to early risers.

THE FLOWER SHOW

The ladies of Washington St. M. E. Church will have the Flower Show and Bazaar this year about November 10th.

We understand that the flowers give promise of being the prettiest that they have been in several years.

City Council Meets

Among the items of interest which came before the city council yesterday:

The extension of sewerage on Washington Street.

Referring petition for gas plant to committee, Messrs. Tate, Peacock and Sherrod.

Letting of contract for construction of West End Hose house to Montgomery Bros. Cost erected back of Myrtle Deck Co.

At Auditorium Oct. 14

HENRY BLOUNT.

Will give a literary and dramatic entertainment Saturday evening, October 14.

Chaste, elegant and refined Side-splitting pages, emulating oratory, towering flights of eloquence, sublime and gorgeous word painting.

The Hon. F. M. Simmons, United States Senator, says: "I had seen much through the papers of Henry Blount as an orator and as a lecturer, and I therefore expected a great deal. But he surpassed my expectations, for he is an actor and orator and mimic and humorist all combined, and he keeps an audience convulsed with his splendidly told jokes, or moved to tears by the deep pathos of his eloquent utterance."

Beginning of Great Revival

MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED.

There was a very gratifying attendance at the afternoon meeting at the First Baptist church yesterday and quite a number of children were present. There was evidently a deep interest prevalent while the subject of self-examination was discussed.

A good congregation at night listened most attentively to the sermon on Sin and quiet solemnity prevailed. This afternoon at 3:30 the subject of the sermon will be "Prayer the Greatest of all Privileges." Tonight at 7:30 the subject will be "The Third of the Three Greatest of all Facts."

BANKS TO CLOSE.

The banks will be closed on Thursday of fair week, October 12th.

Col. Wessott Roberson and J. J. Farris have received invitations from Gen. Julian S. Carr to attend the reception to Gov. Judson Harmon, of Ohio, at Raleigh, on Wednesday, October 18th, during his visit to the North Carolina capital. They will be present and assist on the occasion of his entertaining the distinguished visitor to the State.

Haywood Alderman is here to meet Mrs. Feague has returned from her visit to counts, where she visited relatives.

J. J. Kirkman has received an invitation to attend the dedication exercises at the Raleigh Auditorium on the 17th and will attend.

Very truly yours,
W. Holladay,
Assistant Cashier.

CENTRAL CAROLINA FAIR OPENS

The Central Carolina Fair opened this morning with a large number of exhibits—the midway in full blast and with quite a crowd present for the opening day and considering the inclement weather. A number of free attractions and splendid races are booked for this afternoon. The grounds will be opened tonight. A record breaking crowd is expected, as the fair is the very best in its history.

AN ECHO FROM BOOSTER VISITORS.

Among the letters received from the Richmond visitors the following is of interest and of a very pleasant nature.

The American National Bank of Richmond

Richmond, Va.,

October 9, 1911.

Mr. D. H. Milton, Cashier,

Home Banking Company,

High Point, N. C.

Dear Mr. Milton:

I want to thank you personally for your part in rendering my trip last week through the "Old North State" a most pleasant and memorable one, the other "Boosters" joining with me in expressing our deep appreciation of your hospitality to us.

We feel that our tour accomplished its object, that in going to you, we have brought you nearer to us. From a banking standpoint it should aid in that cooperation which is a potent factor in developing the financial resources of the South.

It is a pleasure to meet you and to say "Here's to the Land of the Long Leaf Pine!"

Very truly yours,
W. Holladay,
Assistant Cashier.

BIG SHOW COMING

All arrangements have been made for the far famed Cole & Rice German American Railroad show to exhibit in High Point, October 18th. These combined attractions comprise the only toured amusement enterprise of size and merit coming here this year and no man, woman or child should miss attending the afternoon or evening performance. Two full hours will be consumed in the presentation of the imperial program, on which appears the names of some of the highest salaried arena artists in the country.

Every act is a feature number and the brilliant array of talent includes peerless acrobats, gymnasts, contortionists, leapers, tumblers, acrobats, bicycle riders, jugglers and hosts of others. The six college of merry clowns is directed by the king of all jesters, Harry Clark, and the $10,000 group of educated Shetland ponies are put through its paces by Prof. Joe Berry.

MUSIC LOVERS CLUB.

The Music Lovers Club will meet tonight at Mrs. Boyd's studio at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

EARLY MORNING FIRE.

A fire alarm from box 20 was turned in this morning between 6:30 and 7 o'clock, and the department hurried to the railway crossing near the colored school. The fire was outside the water limit, and destroyed two small houses belonging to Wash Owens on Hoover street.

Indian Barely Escapes Lynching

Waynesville, Oct. 9.—It was a narrow escape from a mob of lynchers that a Swain county lumberman (an Indian named Ross) had here Sunday night.

He had been brought here for safekeeping, and a mob from Swain county set out to come here and string him up, when Sheriff Fabner got word of their coming in time to get the prisoner out of their reach.

He telegraphed Governor Ketchum Sunday afternoon to order out the local military company. He and the governor promptly ordered the militia to report to the sheriff, which they did, the sheriff and the military officers finally getting the prisoner through the county to a railroad station and taking him to Asheville, where he is now safely held in Asheville jail.
